On the last day of August, the total amount of the national debt was $2,737,-699;071 43. This is probably the highest it will reach. During the month, the in-crease was less than half a million, aithough the extraordinary exponses aftending the disbanding of the army were a heavy distanting of the army were a heavy distanting of the army were a heavy data upon the Treasury; and, at the saw time, the redemption of certificates of in-debtedness was largely in excess of their issue. While the funded debt was kept nearly within the same limits, that part of it bearing interest was considerably reduced, and the floating debt of outstanding claims, dx., was being steadily absorbed. At the end of the present month we have reason to erpect a still better exhibit of our public finances. The receipts of internat public finances. The receipts of internal revenue are rapidly increasing, and on Monday last reached the unprecedented amount of over four millions, and the customs du have, for some time, averaged more than six hundred thousand per diem, in gold; nearly three times the amount of the inter est payable in coin. So large recalpts will of course, not be constantly realized; but that they will be more than they have ever been, until very recently, is confidently to be anticipated. During the present month there will be a large surplus above expendifures, and, if there should be a falling off in the revenue afterwards, it will yet be sufficient to meet the greatly reduced demands upon the Treasury in the future, and to make a steady reduction of the public

EA few weeks ago, it was thought that the debt would amount to $3,000,000,000 and some considered even this, as much too low a figure to be hoped for. Instead of this, its portentous growth is already checked, and its diminution may be even now begun. The load of interest has, at least, Legun to be lightened, and the recovert of our national resources from the losses occasioned by the war, will be rap idly followed by the reduction of the debt in the restoration of the public credit to its normal condition will accelerate the process. The government will be able to obtain loans at much less rates, than those now paid, and by so doing reduce the an-nual charge of interest, to s corresponding nual charge of interest, to a corresponding degree, and afford a larger amount to be applied to the reduction of the principal. The way is becoming clear, to the final extinction of the national debt, should that be desired. But whether this would be politiq, is very doubtfal. Many of the highfundest and most acute minds in the scountry consider the retention of a part, at least, of the debt, to be neces ary as affording the best possible basis for our monetary system. Into this discussion we de not now propose to enter. We have seen test the national debt is in a manageable

The county Convention met to nominate candidates for the Legislature, when it was found the Anti-Low men had a majority. The hort-Hairs then resorted to violence. A war f words occurred on the stiempt to effect a preiminary organization. The Long-Hairs elocied secretary named Barton, but the Shorts re-used to sllow him to officiate.

SENATORIAL CANDIDATES .---- ET Secretary Camrron is figuring for the Pennsylvania Senator-hip. Col. Force; is also intrigueing for it. ladge Kelley, of Philadelphia, is also mention-d as a candidate, We find the above in one of our late excharges, from which it seems that the eastern part of the State alone is to supply the aspirants for Senstorial honors. Perhaps it is all settled by this time; we don't know any-thing about it. We had supposed, however, that in accordance with precedent and justice.

was cholera at San Severo, (Capitanata), espothe south the saminary links of the population was estimatory. The Kings had seen 20,0001. from his private purse to the Syndic of Accoma to as-alst poor sick, persons and needy survivors. There is no account of cholers having shown itself in the other Italian cities. A letter from Figueras, in Catalonia, says that the town is crowded with fugures from Excelons, where there was at that date (lift inst.) a perfect path on account of the armeanage of core there was at that date (16th inst.) a perfect panic on account of the appearance of some cases of cholera. In one day 10.000 railway tickets had been henced at the Barcelona station. Neverthelesa, there seems to have been vary few cases, on the 11th and 12th a few of sporadic cholera (every summer these occur at Barcelona), which hap-pened to carry off well known persons and this summer these occur at Barcelons), which hap-peried to carry off well known persons, and this had a great effect on the people. A violent storm on the night of the 12th freabened the air, and on the night of the 12th freabened the air, and on the night of the 12th freabened the air, and not a start of the 12th free was no case. The average dely mortality at this season at Barcel.no is 30; there were only 15 denths on the 12th, 10 of them children; only 29 or the 18th, sud 50 on the 14th, including 11 children. The emigration had nearly ceased, and it looks allogether as if the Barcelonese had been more frightened than hur. From the London Times, Aug. 12, The Appendro, a prow dely poper, unblabed
