He also says he herer signed, or was in any way a party to an agreement that no act of war would take place on the part of the United States during Mr. Buchanan's term, nor does he believe any the agreement was suthorized by Mr. Buchanan or ever existed. He quotes from a letter which he wrote as Secretary of War in January, 1801, to Colonel Hayne, saying, should Misjor Anderson's safety require reliforements, every effort would be made to supply them. At that time, however, the Government did not deem it recossary to send him reliforcements, because he made no such request, and felt quite secure in his position.
