RELIGIOUS INTELLIGENCE. Since the meeting of the great National Convention of Congregationalists at Boston, a number of the leading religious jourials of other denominations have been criticising the special claims of this body for superiority over others. The publica tion of "Dexter's work on Congregationa'tem"-from the commendation of Congregational journals as the last and best word that can be said for their peculiar systemias rather intensified the opposition views. We do not propose to enter the arena, nor offer our views on this much disputed uestion, but simply to refer to the subject from two different stand-points. The "fanamental principle" of Congregationalism, cording to Dexter, is, "The Bible interpreted by sanctified common sense, with all w se helps from nature, from history, from all knowledge, and especially from the revealing Spirit, is the only and suffi-cient and authorizative guide in all matters of Christian faith; so that whatsoever the Biblc teaches, by precept, example, legitimate influence, is imperative upon all men, at all times; while nothing that it does not so teach can be imperative upon any man at any time." Referring to this definition a leading New York paper says: "Mr. Dexter is laying corner stone of a peculiar system; and he takes one which belongs to Protestantism as a whole, and claims it lor his own little edifice." It is well known that the real corner-stone of Congregaion-that which distinguishes it from all other ecclesiastical systems—is the completeress and independence of the local church. Mr. Dexter himself defines it to be a "form of church order and government, not a system of detrrial faith," and therefore may be "held and practiced by therefore may be "held and practiced by the solution of the laws. They may see what the slaveholders have incurred by resisting authority in the solution of the laws. They may see what the slaveholders have incurred by resisting authority in the solution of the laws. pleteness and independence of the local Existence.

They are aumonished to be placeful, and not be seduced nor provoked to resist inwfini authority with lawless violence. Better ansfer wrong in silence, or be worsted in invoking the protection of the laws. They may see what the slaveholders have incurred by resisting authority by force.

They should be diligent not only in steadfast indensity, but in educating their children. Here is another view on this question, speaking of the relative increase of Congregational. ism and Presbyterianism, it is argued that these two denominations are much of the same age on this continent, and have enjoyed about equally favorable surroundings, excepting that Congregationalists have been identified with the most popular and Presbyterians with the least popular of the five points of Calvinism, yet Presbyterians among us now outnumber Congregationalists by more than three to one. The writer asks, does not this conclusively prove that government by the local churches-styled, or popular effect, "the liberty of the local churches"—is a less effective gospel system within her borders. "Work for the best wages offered by good men, till you can save the means of employing yourselves; strive to win the respect and esteem of the better whites and keep clear of the worse; and be sure that, whenever you shall, by your thrift, have made yourselves independent and desirable customers of merchants and others, your rightons demand of enfranchisement can, if not already han a central government vested in Church -At the anniversary of the London Jews Society, the Bishop of Ripon, stated when the society was first formed, it was whenever you also, by your tarist, have made yourselves independent and desirable customers of merchants and others, your rightous demand of enfranchisement can, if not already granted, be no longer successfully resisted." supposed there were not fifty converted Jews in the whole of the kingdom. This is an increase over the three previous years of $456,703 72. — Preparations, the European pressinform us, are making on a vast scale to celebrate the eighteen-lundrith anniversary of the martyrdom of St. Peter, who suffered death in 66. He being regarded the first Bishop of Rome, according to the traditions of the Roman Catholic Church, and from whose primacy the See of Rome claims its own to be derived, it is proposed to observe it by a world-embracing caremony in the Eternal City.

—It is lamentable to note that it has been ascentained by an officer of the Episopopi Church in Ohio, who has been examining the reports made by the churches of that denomination to the Convention that seventy-two of the eighty-four parishes reporting, show that out of 5,506 communicants, only 1,310 are males—about one in four. In a large number of parishes the proportion is only one in five and six—the lowest being one in thirteen. We quote the words of this officer and leave the painful subject: "How solemn the reflection, that after half a century of labor we have, in all the diocess of Ohio, but a little over one thousand men in our communion—certainly not more than fifteen bundred."

It is a mistaken idea that pecifor is a mistage of the senting of the subject is a mistage of the content of the South. The people are now to decide between this restored more than fifteen bundred."

It is a mistaken idea that pecceiments as a lanuer, and with all the content of with all marked with all process and with all with all minding and with all minding with all places and with all minding with all places and with all minding wit with all minding with all minding with all minding and with all

Mr. Greeler, having been invited to attend a convention of colored people of North Carolina to be held in Raleigh, on the 29th inst., and being unable to accept the invitation, has addressed them a letter through the Tribune. He urges and entreats them to be hopeful. Great dressed them a letter through the Tribune. He triges and entreats them to be hopeful. Great reforms are not completed in a moment. Old wrongs and abuses yield slowly to the advances of justice and humanity. He has been ardently wishing for thirty years that he might live to see this a tree country. He blesses God for the widdom and been deenece—so indinitely transceading all human preconception—whereby the weaking has made precedence—so indinitely transceading all human preconception—whereby the weaking has been made to subserve the Divine purpose. But for Northern subserviency, so enormous that they were justified in expecting to be added by it in the field as well, as in the cabinet, the slaveholders would never have revolved. But for imbedlily in high places and incapacity, if not treason also, in the direction of our armies, the rebelling loss, in the direction of our armies, the rebelling would have been speed. I y suppressed without seriously affecting your condition—possibly, with new concessions and guaranties to Slavery. Looking back at the momentous history, the stapendous transfermations of the last five years, we must recreatly say. "This is the Lord's doing, and it is marvelious in our eyes." Let us unwaveringly trust that the great work will be prosecuted to its legitimate and logical consummation.

The colored people should be patient, the recognition of their rights may not be won dirrectly, but the effort will never be abandoned until success is assured. say. "This is the Lord's doing, and it is marved out in our eyes." Let us unwaveringly trast that the great work will be prosecuted to its legitimate and logical consummation.

The colored people should be patient, the recognition of their rights may not be won directly, but the effort will never be abandoned until success is assured. The vast tenacious precuising interest, an almost omnipotent, vested right, no ibnger regists us, Siayery the tree, whereof negro-hate and White prejudice of color are branches, has been cut down. There is still vitality in the roots, but the branches are bound to wither and decay.

The Richmond Bulletin advises the Danville Raliroad Company of effect, Gen. Johnston as their next President. It says: "We have several reasons to believe that the General, would accept the position, and a knowledge of this fact alone would induce the company, we think to secure his efficient services and the lustre of his name is connection with their affairs. W. W. CORGORAN, the Washington banker, is about to return to that city. During the war he has resided abroad, a thorough robel at heart, advising with Mason, Sildell and other rebel representatives, of New Orleans, one of whom, Eustice, was his son-in-law. The banker will find many sympathizers in Washington to welcome him. Geo. Longstreet, of the late rebel army, arrived in Baltimore on Tuesday morning from New York, and is sojourning at a friend's residence. He is awaiting the President's decision in regard to his application for pandon. or regard to his application for pardon.

Gen. James Shireles, formerly of Hilmols, is a present visiting San Francisco, after an absence in Mexico of about two years, during which time he has been superintendent of a mine; the State of Sinaioa. He will soon visit the Alantic States.

THE Detroit Tribuns says that James Morgan, a printer who worked in that city during the years of 1848 and 1840, has falles helf to ninety thousand dollars in gold, which is now on deposit in the Bank of England, subject to his order. It is a mistaken idea that peace means slav-

"It is a mistaken idea that peace means slavise submission to the Confederacy. It means nothing of the kind. No Democrat ever expressed his willingness to concede to dismonorable compromise. We have tried war and found by a sad experience that it is supremely profitiess, and that Lincoln and his hirelings are incapable of managing a campaign successfully if they wished. Something must be done. The Democratic party projoses, if way lidge arient, to restore the Usion under the Constitution by peaceable means. Mr. Lincoln has put the prolongation of the war out of the question. Our nation is almost bankrupt, and every branch of industry is suffiring for want of men; therefore are men called upon to join the standard of peace for remien, and defeat the party in power which is no more nor jess than a thoroughly disusion party."
