The Georgia gentlemen are pleased with the results of their visits in all respects, and repre-sented to the Secretary that the people generally in their state, reported the lesures of the ware as fully settict. They combidered stary complete-ly dead, and were desirous of being ergain, able to take their proper position in the Union. They said that recently there had been minch improvements in the relations of planters and negoes. On first acquiring their freedom, the laster, in the extherance of their joy, were dis-posed to abandon the rural emplyment and fock to the towns, but now they have generally resumed their former occupation on the planter tions, and are working industriants. With the Commissioner of Agriculture the Georgians perfected arrangements for the dis-tributions of seeds in their Bate.
