THE ELECTION.

THAT there are a few live Republicans in Allegheny county, we have had ample evidence, within a few days, for at least a dozen men have called upon us to know if there is to be an election, and when it is to be held.

We understand that it is now settled that that there will be an election, as usual, on the second Tuesday of October, in the other counties of the Commonwealth; and the Republicans of this county may calculate to hold one, also. So far, however, as any signs of life or activity are concerned, in the dominant party in this county, any more looker-on would conclude that we had made up our minds not to open the polls at all.

We have a County Committee, we are told; but we have to take the word for the fact. It has not effected an organization in a single district in the county, and beyond printing the tickets not a thing has been done.

The slothfulness now existing is disgraceful; and if the County Committee will not begin the work of organization, those outside will have to take the work in their own hands. Who will begin? Do not all speak at once. Will not some ward, or borough, or township, lead off and set an example to the rest? Not to-morrow, or next week, but now. Remember, there are but twelve days to the election. A great deal can be done in that time, if a beginning could only be made.

Remember also that we have a State ticket to elect, and that we want our vote out in this county, not simply to elect our county tickets, but to give a rousing majority for HARTRANFT and CAMPBELL. Go to work!

WORK TO BE DONE.

Among the many men who gallantly sprang to the breach last year there must be some who have not gone into a Rip Van Winkle sleep, and who can be waked up soon enough to do something towards getting out the Republican vote on the second day of October. To all such we desire to speak a few earnest words.

FIRST—There are but twelve days left for work, and they must be improved.

SECOND—Our friends must be made to understand that there is danger. Victory will not come to us unless we work for it. We had not so large a majority in the State last fall that we can afford to rely upon it. That majority was gotten by work, and it will take work to keep it. The Democrats are working without much fuss through an organization always effective; but what organization have we?

THIRD—The Democracy intend to succeed if they can. To this end they have hid away the repulsive platform of last fall, and are striving to obtain power by professing patriotism they never did and do not now feel. Whatever zeal, fraud and hypocrisy can achieve, they will accomplish.

FOURTH—To defeat them means must be taken to get out a full vote. Our enemies base their hopes on a light vote. They know that they always gain by it, and we always lose. The members of that party always vote with more regularity than our people do. And just here is the point of danger.

FIFTH—Local organization is the surest reliance of success. No great battle ever was won without organization. Do not wait for others to begin, but see to it, reader, at once, that your district is properly organized. Five active men working for success are worth a thousand merely hoping for it. Let every election district organize itself without delay.

SIXTH—Whatever is done must be done quickly. There is no time to be lost. There is too little time left for organization, but there is enough for all practicable purposes, if it is only improved. Let the cities lead off, and let meetings be called in every ward, to-night or to-morrow night. Why this work has been put off so long we cannot imagine.

The political destiny of the State and the nation is in our hands. Shall we lose all by our supineness? If not, there must be a very sudden awakening. If we work for success we will attain it. There are three words which should be made to stare every Republican in the face from now to the election, and they are—Work! WORK! WORK!

NOT AN ISSUE.

The New York Tribune quotes disapprovingly from our State Committee's address to the effect that negro suffrage is not "and could not possibly be an issue in the October contest." What Mr. CESSNA meant by that phrase, we apprehend is that there is no proposition before the people to confer the right of suffrage upon the colored people of this State, and that that proposition could not possibly be an issue in the October contest," because an amendment to our State Constitution, changing the basis of suffrage, cannot be submitted to the people, under the provisions of that Constitution, for four years to come. To deny that negro suffrage is an issue in the question of reconstruction would be equal to denying that the sun shines at midday; and we do not understand Mr. CESSNA's denial to apply to this fact, at all.

The Convention which nominated our State Ticket laid down, in general terms, the great principle for which we all fight in this contest, to wit, "that the mild and generous method of reconstruction offered by the President to the people lately in rebellion, in the judgment of this Convention, has not been accepted in the spirit of fidelity, loyalty and gratitude, but with such evidence of defiance and hostility as to impel us to the conviction that they cannot be safely trusted with the political rights which they forfeited by their treason, until they have proven their acceptance of the results of the war by incorporating them in Constitutional provisions, and securing to all men within their borders the inalienable right to life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness."

THE Fair of the Huntingdon County Agricultural Society will be held at Huntingdon, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday of next week.

CONQUERED PROVINCES.

The New York Evening Post has been quoted as the friend of "restoration," and as agreeing to the doctrine that the Rebel States were never out of the Union. It has in this, however, been misunderstood. After reciting the fact that the Southern States seceded voluntarily and considered themselves out it says:

It is evident from the outline above given, of the course adopted by the seceding States, that they are themselves precluded from dictating, as some would seem desirous to have to them do, the terms of readmission. They are, in legal phrase, estopped from denying the virtue of secession. Republishing the doctrine now is very good, as far as it goes; and it is certainly a healthful symptom. But the historic fact is that the principle of secession received its finishing blow at the hands, not of Southern legislatures, but of the loyal people throughout the country who opposed its arrogant pretensions by force and arms, and in the combat slew it. By virtue of the title acquired, which is, in effect (call it what you will) the right of conquest, that is, the title of the superior power, those same loyal people now assume to declare what shall be the terms of readmission into the Union. They who voluntarily and without cause left it. They are far from any desire of vengeance, they do not wish to use harsh measures because they are harsh, but they would be worse than foolish to ask less than such measures as seem to them to afford perfect security for the future.

Here the principle is distinctly laid down that our right to dictate the terms of readmission into the Union is based upon "the right of conquest." In other words, having beaten the Southern States in the war provoked by themselves, we, as conquerors, have the right to lay down the terms upon which we will admit them back to their old places.

In dictating these terms we are to be guided, of course, by the Constitution; and under the clause which gives Congress the power to "guaranty to every State in this Union a Republican form of government," we have full power to refuse admission to any State which does not come back with a thorough republican form of government. Thus far the Post.

Of course, a Constitution which denies to one-half of the people of a State any voice in its affairs, and that half, too, the only really loyal portion of the people, cannot be considered Republican either in form or spirit. It is essentially oligarchic and aristocratic. And if to this be added the crime, as in Alabama, of denying to the Freedmen the right to hold real estate, and, as in all the Southern States that have yet acted, denying to them virtually the right to testify in courts of justice, we have still further reasons for considering these Constitutions as anti-Republican.

The Post holds that the action of the President extends no further than to give the Southern States an opportunity of framing Republican forms of government. Failing to do this, they are remitted to the conditions of provinces, and "to whatever provisional government Congress may see fit to prescribe."

Rebel Sympathy.

MESSRS. EDITORS GAZETTE: I have read the Commercial of this morning, and am sorry it gives evidence of a decided sympathy with rebels—it is anxious to get the rebels back, anyhow. It appears to loose sight of the great future results that may arise from such haste. Does the Commercial suppose the Southern people republican in their sentiments? If so, it is mistaken. There is not a speck of republican feeling in the South, but in name. Their late slave-holding system long since crushed out anything of that sort.

The Commercial has yet to learn that the South is semi-barbarian and utterly unfit for self-government, and the rebellion demonstrated this. A republican government is not fitted to a people that never learned the art of governing themselves The most difficult people to govern are the ignorant and vicious, such for example as those at the South, and the easiest people to govern is that which is most enlightened, for example, New England.

Our Government has always had more trouble with the South than all the balance of the Union beside, and yet after getting them at our feet, where they so richly deserve to be, and the only place they ought to be, at least until we have unquestionable evidence of the fact of their being born again, the Commercial would take them back to our bosom in the face of Andersonville, Bell Island, Fort Pillow and all the other innumerable wars than savage barbarities. The Commercial would speak soft words, honeyed words of the wretches—it would put them into a position of power and give them the reigns that they may have another chance of driving us to the d—l, as they most unquestionably will with the co-operation of the Copperhead party, which is rebel to the core, if anything, more so to-day than the South.

LAWRENCEVILLE.

PERSONAL AND POLITICAL.

SHERMAN, the General, is evidently going to disappoint his copperhead admirers. In a speech to the soldiers at Lancaster, Ohio, last week, he said, in speaking of the subject of confiscation:—"The rebels ventured everything in the struggle. Hence, when we whipped them, all their property became ours by conquest. They forfeited their rights to it, and I, being agent for the Government to which I belonged, gave you authority to keep all the quartermasters couldn't take possession of, or didn't want."

THE New Orleans Times writes: "Our dispatch from Jackson, Miss., says it is rumored in official circles there that Gen. Slocum will resign, in consequence of the recent action of the President, sustaining Governor Sharkey. General Slocum had determined to tender his resignation, but was disuaded therefrom. But we are now convinced he will resign, if indeed he has not already done so."

IT IS SAID that L. Pope Walker, Jeff. Davis's first Secretary of War, the same who ordered Beauregard to "open fire on Fort Sumter," has had the impudence to appear in Washington, and ask the President for a pardon. He ought to think himself lucky that he is not caught and hanged. "He is still waiting," says a Washington dispatch; "let him wait; the first shall be last."

THE late Capt. John Davis, United States Navy, who died at New Orleans on the 20th inst., was a native of Massachusetts, entered the service in 1827, and was made commander in 1862. He has seen eighteen year's sea service, five years of shore duty and been unemployed for nearly five years.

THE Mobile Tribune announces that General Mansfield Lovell is employed on the New York News as working editor. This distinguished West Pointer is trying to earn, no doubt, by faithful service on a New York democratic organ, a new place under the city government.

THE New Orleans Picayune says Gen. Beauregard "is now a sedate, quiet citizen and civilian in his native city, who has no idea of leaving his country, and will remain here to meet all the responsibilities and discharge all the duties of a citizen."

An Argument which Cuts both Ways.

The Mobile Tribune urges Southern men to qualify themselves to vote, as a measure of protection. It says:

"We can only acquire rights by the use of the means prescribed by the law, and the essential qualification for this purpose is the right of suffrage. A little while ago the musket was the arbiter. Now it is the ballot box. * * * We cannot resume the gun, and without that, or with it, how can we better protect ourselves than by the ballot, and not by the cartridge box? We should like some learned philosopher to tell us how it can be better done than by the mode that we suggest."

But if the suffrage is necessary to protect white men, is it not just as much and even more necessary to protect the blacks? And if white men ought to vote as a measure of protection, ought not the blacks to vote too? Else how are they to be protected?

LATEST NEWS.

THE body of a man was found floating in the Ohio river, below Beaver, on the opposite side, on the 16th inst. No papers or marks of identification were found on his person. His age is supposed to be about fifty or thirty-five years; height, five feet ten inches, dark hair, light whiskers and bald head. He had on coarse shoes with bob nails, heavy light colored pants, light shirt. In his pockets were found a knife, comb and key; around his neck was a leather badge, representing the Catholic faith. Fourteen dollars and seventy cents in money were found in his pockets also. He was buried at Phillipsburg. Further information can be had by calling on the Coroner at New Brighton.

THE Pottsville Journal says that on last Thursday afternoon, Mr. Percival Byerly of that place was returning from a funeral when he was solicited for a ride from a man, who, after being fairly seated, seized Byerly by the throat and demanded his money. Byerly resisted, when two men stepped from the horses, and one of them presented a pistol to his head, and he was compelled to give up what he had, $11. After the team drove on, they fired two shots, which passed through the carriage and fired stones which tore the top of the carriage, but did not injure the occupants.

A KANSAS paper announces that 2,000 families of German descent, from Berks county, Pa., and from St. Louis, Mo., have through their agent, Captain Brunswick, selected extensive tracts of land in the valley of the Solomon. It is as fine a country as the wide world can afford, and as the settlers are industrious people, with considerable means, it will give quite a lift to Western Kansas.

THE Harrisburg Telegraph says: A wagon load of raw cotton, in bales, passed our office yesterday on its way to the factory. Several years have elapsed since cotton in this state passed through our streets, and the resumption of business in the mill will remind our citizens of times gone by, when hundreds of persons were afforded employment therein.

THEY are improving the water works at Harrisburg. Larger engines are about to be introduced and other important changes made about the building. The pipes will be shortly extended into the river, in order to furnish the citizens water that is entirely free from the dregs of sewers.

IN HUNTINGDON, PA., for some weeks past, there has been such a scene of a drunken revel, and exhibitions of rowdyism were so frequent, that the borough authorities were compelled to appoint a special police force for the purpose of restoring order.

THE corpse of a woman was found floating in the river near Industry, Pa., last week. It was thought by some to be the body of the lady whose recent disappearance from Pittsburgh has been noticed by the press of this city.

A FEW days ago a young boy about sixteen years of age, son of Henry S. Slouch, of Warwick township, Lancaster county, was accidentally killed while out on a gunning excursion.

THE Huntingdon Globe says that at the camp meeting near Saulsburg, which ended on Thursday morning last, over fifty people were converted.

NEWS ITEMS.

GEN. CANBY, in command at New Orleans, has assessed a tax upon the citizens for the support of colored schools. Jacob Barker is getting up a petition to the President to have the order revoked. A registry of male negroes over twenty-one years of age is being made at New Orleans, and as extensively as possible throughout the State, under the auspices of the Tyrant political committee; the object being, it is hinted, to get the negro vote in November.

THE State Board of Education of Connecticut insists that the law shall be enforced, which forbids the employment of children under fifteen years of age in manufacturing or other business, unless they shall have attended school at least three months of the twelve next preceding, and every year in which they shall be employed, under a penalty of $20 for each offence.

A LOCOMOTIVE at the station of Bussolono, near Turin, Italy, lately ran through a brick wall and into a cafe. It is supposed the engineer and stoker were asleep. No one was killed, but a servant maid, sleeping in a room next to the [illegible], escaping steam from the engine.

MR. CURTIN, the U. S. Consul at St. Petersburgh, writes that no plague or epidemic disease has existed in that city during the past year, the so-called plague being nothing more nor less than the typhoid fever.

GENERAL MONROE M. PARSONS, of Missouri, late of the rebel service, was recently killed near Comargo, Mexico, in a fight between the Liberals and Imperialists. After the surrender of Kirby Smith he went to Mexico, with several of his men, and joined the forces of Juarez. He served under Sterling Price during the war, and some of his earlier actions are thus noticed by the St. Louis Republican:

"He was present at the skirmish at Boonville, and during the retreat from that place he commenced enlisting a brigade of mounted men, and he succeeded in filling by the time he reached the southwestern section of the State. According to the accounts of that time, his command was a motley assemblage of men, arms and animals, old men, some of them farmers of good condition, and ploughboys, bareheaded and bare-footed—some having shot-guns and rifles, and others scythe blades improvised into swords, and miscellaneously mounted on sleek, well-kept geldings, mules, the sorriest of country 'critters,' bareback or with primitive wooden skin saddles. Being without a commissariat, they were forced to seek subsistence as chance offered, and in cornfields and apple-orchards. This precarious mode of living earned for them the nick-name of 'Blackberry cavalry.' Their earliest exploit was the skirmish at Carthage, at which place many of our St. Louis three months' volunteers first learned to 'fight mit Sigel,' and the retreat from which has been widely celebrated in song and story."
