Long-fellow, and sent to Mr. Agassiz, with a basket

The Republican party, for years, has made the fact embodied in the above the beats of their political faith, while the Democracy have based the fact embodied in the above the beats of their political faith, while the Democracy have based their whole party on its denial. Why, if this best whole party on its denial. Why, if this best property of their masters individually, must they be the property of the Biate collectively—to be rolled, badgered, taxed, worked, bought and sold without their coasent? Since Liberty is thus profitable in all things, why must it be attited? Why must Virginia be still kept back in the march of progress, agitated by fears of strife with an inferior and onicest race, aread but but not enfranchised, free from their masters but enakaved by the Sista ? Why must patrois and vigilance committees take the place of the overscer's lash, and why must the white men of Virginia still, as of old, lose half their own liberty to deprive the black man of all of his. Domestic starcy has been well defined as a state of perpetual war, wherein one side is always victor and the other vanquished.

The same definition holds good for pollitical always or, the attempt by one-buff the war, can they not learn it thoroughly and fully? It will save a new division into Northern and Soutern sectional pollitical parties, it will save from disported the respective of the war, can they not learn it thoroughly and fully? It will save a new division into Northern and soutern sectional pollitical parties, it will save from disported in the state of the war, can they not learn it thoroughly and fully? It will save a new division into Northern and soutern sections of considerable merit, and hone it will, as surely as Emascipation, earth and referm Virginia. Who can tell what other evils it may avert, from that and its sister States? Jefferson understood in the ballad of humble Scottleh life, should have been written by another titted lady. The opening paper here, on "England and America" contains some homo-traits which we trust will be reprinted abroad; and concludes with an account of the reason why "the cold shoulder" was given, during the recent secons of the Congregational National Council at Boston, to the Ray. Dr. Ysughan, one of the delegates from the Congregational National Council at Boston, to the Ray. Dr. Ysughan, one of the delegates from the Congregationalists of England and Wales, who, as Editor of the British Quarterly Raview, had been violently and persistently infinical to the Union cause during the four years of the war. With the exception of Dr. Guirle, and he only during the last year, scarcely any elegypman of the Presbyterian churches of Scotland gave a good word to the bold soldiers and good men who have been struggling to break down the curse of Slavery in this country. of permanent common interest with, and at-tachment to the community, have the right of suffrage, and cannot be taxed or deprived of consent, and cannot be taxed or deprived of their property for public uses without their own consent, or that of their representatives so elected, nor bound by any law to which they have not in like manner assented."

That clause fairly carried out to-day give the ballot to the negro. EMANCIPATION PROFITABLE.—The Southern people are arguing that emancipation will prove porfitable in the end. We have told them so for years, but they would not believe us. The de-termination to think it so, now that it has ome against their consent, is sensible and will ead them to try and make it so. The Charleson News discovers that there is really no loss of property by emancipation, but only a transfer of values; the master formerly owned the negro; he now owns himself; he is worth just as much as hame, and request this answers of districts in a fig. 7. He concludes that Congress has the right to require negro suffrage in the recognanted States as india. Pershalle to "arepublican form of government." Admitting that this prhase was not so incant by the framers of the Constitution, he newertheless argues that it is our duty to interpret it according to our present ideas of right. He also grants that it is our duty to interpret it according to our present ideas of right. He also grants that consistency requires the extension of the suffrage to women, but thinks this may be postioned for the present, especially so man and wife are one, and the hashond sets of which, and it is to be presumed that most women of marry. The will not be porfectly satisfactory one to yield to that human wakness decidedly objecting to the voice by proxy.

Min. Judak Brayarin and his letter to The Times seem to be rised a about their true value by our English friends. The Speciator closes a curt paragraph with the remark that "Mr. Bedamin, like Mr. Lawley, forgets conveniently enough why the cartel of exchange was not carried out.—namely, because the Conference and the rise and the prison of Mr. We can well believe what he tells us, that Mr. Davis consistently opposed the more cruel policy soward the prisoners arged upon him by some of his advisor—solve the more cruel policy soward the prisoners arged upon him by some of his advisor—solve the proprisor of war.
