These wooden houses, it must be kept in mind, are not framed with mortless and tenons, as large wooden houses are usually erected in the Adminic States, but are 'Chicayo frames,' held together with nails. This style of building, though introduced softy because of its cheapness and simplicity, is considered by far the most secure against earthquakes." Yet experience has shown that large structures of brick, when placed on firm—not "made"—ground, and substantially built, will har severe shocks. The "Occidental" and "Cosmopolitan," the great hotels of San Francisce, were not very badly injured by the shock of Sanday; but we suspect that rooms in the upper stories are not in great demand at this moment. The current of Kern River was turned up attenne, and remover the bank; the Los Angelos River was dung out of its bed; the waters of Tolure lake was thrown upon its shores; now signings were formed; a large new stream was found running out of a mountain; houses were thrown down at San Diego, and elsewhere; trees were snapped off close to the ground; the earth was rent and large fissures formed in different places, and in one place this split was twenty feet wide and forty miles long. The sides of this huge break came together again with such violence as to raise a bank or wall ten feet wide, and several feet high. On November 20th, 1858 nearly every brick building, in San Jose was injured by a shock. On the 3d of July 1861, a valley of Alameda county was severely shaken; men were thrown down in the fields, and furniture flung about in the houses. NAUTIL I. GOVERNEUM died on Friday, Saptember 29, at his residence, Needwood, near Harper's Ferry. Va. Mr. Gouverneur was the son of Nicholas Gouverneur, an old and respected resident of New York, and weit known to many of the older citizens. Early in life, when a promising member of the bar, he married the daughter of President Monroe, and served as his private secretary during his two Presidential terms. He was tubsequently appointed Postmester of the city of New York, and held that position under President Jackson.

Earl Granville. Lord President of the R-itish The contents of the book are fully explained by the title," Dante as Philosopher, Patriot and Poct; with an analysis of the Divina Communa, its Plots and Exposes." The introduction contains interesting details in regard to the condition of Europe, and especially of Italy in Dante's time. Following the introductory remarks, are ome particulars of Daute's ancestry and birth. Then come some remarks in regard to the early love of Dante. Beatrice is snamed by Mr. Botta, not to have been the love of Dante in any ordiof eighteen, dampher of Sir Walter Campbell, a Scotch baronet. Those now stending are turned partially around. The motion was apparently from the east to the west. The ground along the river opened in fissures, and spouted water like geysers. The people are unable to use some of the wells, which are either dry, or filled with sand. The chimney at the powder mill was thrown down, and other injury done to the works. Portions of the wall of the new hotel weet thrown down, but the foundation is all right. The smush in drug stores was great; also other slores. Some very barrow scaepes from falling chimneys are mentioned. The tide rose very high at the time of the shock, and fell very low immediately afterward. DRS. AMOS & JOHNSON, Valley for one killed by an earthquake in California."

In October, 1800, six severe shocks rendered unimbabliable nearly every house in the village of San Jana Baudista, and caused destruction also at Ban Pedro. In Jana, 1703, twenty one shocks were felt in what is now called Sau Francisco, whose few houses were seriously lujured. In September, 1812, on a Sundar, the mission church of ban Jana Unjistrano was thrown down, and thirty persons were silled. Another church in nouther place also fell, and Another church in nouther place also fell, and broke windows, threw merchandiss from the shelves, and caused reacts to roll heavily in the harbor in San Francisco. On the 19th of July, 1855, an earthquake cracked the waits of wently, six houses at los Angelas, but no houses fell, por was anyone hurt. On the 9th of Janary, 1857, the earth shook form Fort Yuna on Sacramento, a distance of five hundred miles, and some very remarkable phenomena resulted
