Horrible Casualty Near Brandenburg-Nine Children Killed and Wounded.

Nine Children killed and Wounded.
On last Saturday morning, a number of children went into the woods near Brandenburg, Ky., for the purpose of gathering nuts. In rambing, through the woods one of the boys found what he supposed to be an iron ball, when he called the other children to look at it. The children took what they supposed to be a ball, but which was really a shell, home with them, and commenced endeavoring to break it open, when it tryboded with a terrible noise, scattering the legs blown off, and so mutilated that it was hardly possible to recognize them. It is said that four or five of the children cannot possibly live, and that two others, if their lives are spared, will be cripples for life. Mr. Palgett, the father of the children, who was standing by at the time of the explosion, was struck by a portion of the shell and severely though no dangerously wonaded. It is presented that the shell was thrown there at the time Morgan crossed into Indiana, and that it has lain in the woods ever since.—Innusville Democrat of October 17th.

ed in a spur of the Allegheny Mountains, about forty miles west of Timeville, what is said to be an extensive lode of gold bearing -quartz. The Timeville Herald says: A person now residing this title, who has had great experience in gold mining quartz in California, pronounces it to contain a very fair per centage, for a surface specimen. Samples have been sent to New York for analysis, the result of which will be made known in a few days. The quartz is composed of unusually small crystals, which will be more ceally pulverized than the ordinary quartz rock. This quality is of a dark yellowish east, while the ordinary factions a for a reddish hue. Should the unalysis prove encouraging the most approved machinery will immediately be creeted for washing the mines. The discovery does not propose to put it into a company but will work it himself. As yet nothing definite has been ascertained as to the probable amount of the yield.

BYTHATES.

It is estimated that 13,000 weils have been purdown in Venange county. As an average, we are informed that, of the first 3,000 weils bard, 200 produced oil, in greater or less quantities at 1-set down as Afair estimate, that the average yield of oil per well, taking the producing wells of any section of Venange county, is not over 10; barrel; the same exceilent authority gives the ratio of success as about one in five, in acknowleged oil territory. If I had not before me a ratio furnished by an intelligent and disintor-cited statistician, who visited every well in the county, a few years 20, I should have guessed at much lower figures. During our entire ride from Shaffes to Keno, taking in route the upper erock, crossing over to Cherry Run and Pitholo, and returning by lower Cherry Run and Pitholo, and returning by lower Cherry Run and the moments number of derricks standing idle and deserted, the engines removed, and the braces apparently abandoned.

creek to Oil City and Remo, I was struck by the summence number of derricks standing idle and descrited, the engines removed, and the bases apparently abandoned.

On upper Cherry Run, especially, was this the case, while as you approach Ilbusyelle, the producing wein become more numerous, and cleaginous symtoms more manifest. Our not furnished with reliable data would be very it kely to assume that more money had been extended in this region, in prospecting for outhan had been realized from the same source, from the dras discovery to this moment. Our tall it is, that dry wells are the ruis, and producing wells the exception, throughout the entire territory, with the exception of Panole, where the reteran is the case.

PIPE LATING.

At Milita's Farm, we observed a strong cost from the being laid, resembling a four hole water main. I learned that this is a open now laid admost to Pithole, five milited distant, through which it is intended to pump the oil, in its original condition, up hill and down to the large receiving tanks at the railroad, where it will be barreled and shipped.

We reached this wonderful city, and rode through the principal business street, over holf a mile long, to the large producing wells. The recent exagerated stories do not exceed the reality of this section. Wo have visited the No. 110. Rooker farm, the property of "Summer & Peratt, Oil Company." Here the fluid gushes forth, in glant pulses, accompanied by a strong flow of gas: this well is now flowing about 750 barrels daily. We next valted No. 51, or "Pool Well," Holmden Farm, doubtless the greatest producing well in the country. We ascended to inc top us the large task which first receives the oil, and worshipped at its abrine, after our rise through wind and rair, fully compensated for our faigues. In a steady, strong stream, from an lach and a half pipe, the pure oil gushes forth, with such force as the scream from an lach and a half pipe. The pure oil gushes forth with such force as the scream from language and scream from an lach thow out of operation.) and down Cherry Run to Rouseville and Oil City. Through the onlire distance, we were surrounded by a forrest of derricks, and, as hitherto, the great majority dry and abandoned. If we accept the estimate above given of the number of wells sunk in the county at $3,000, and the average rost per well at $3,000 (orglines and tools excepted, which can be removed and removed on have the conormous augregate of $105,000,000, as the cost of these forrests of derricks, through which we are riding.

Pithole is the great producing region doubtless; and yet as you approach Rouseville, at the junction of Cherry Run and Oil Creek, and thence down to Oil Oilty, we find a vast number of fine wells, and a very active, bustling trade in oil. The roads (f) are crowled with teams; the creek, as you approach the mouth, is full of flats, transporting the oil to a market.

Oil City is a well built city, with a few good public balledings, and some next and tasteful residences, on the hill east of the towd. The pincipal street is long and stranging, a very active must of trade, and large and varied stocks of goods are here offered for sale. I need not repeal to your readers what has so often been not did about its whateves and business. The great bare for the residences.

of goods are here offered for sale. I need not repeat to your readers what has so often been told about its whateves and business. The great bulk of the oil produced from Pithole down here fields a market as the river and raifroad. The Frankin Branch of the Adantic and Great Westers Raifroad reaches to the city himits, and yet I was surprised to find that the oil shippin by this road was handed in wagons down alongside the raifroad track, a dislance of 2), miles to Reno, for shipment The shiged range is a lack of room at the Oil City termicus, the roadway being bounded on one side by the hill and by the river, hard by, on the other. But certainly this is the town of the oil regions, the gateway to Oildom on this side as Thurville is above. Here are to be found the largest and beas typeks of goods, and the fullest list of supplies for inhers. Nature seems to have intended this as the natural order for the products of the valley.

The New York, Philodelphia and Boston people, although not favored by natural position, are stretching forth their iron arms to grasp this gigantic trade, and are turning the natural current of the Oil trade from the River. The aggregate production of the Venango Oil region is now estimated at 13, 000 barrels daily. How much of this finds a market at Pittsburgh! Let our merchants answer, and see to it, that that the share of this ich trade which we now enjoy, be not carried to the Atlantic coast direct, by the Philadelphia and Eric, and the Atlantic and Great Western Ballroad.

and Eric, and the Atlactic and Great Western Railroad.

Our city is deeply interested in the construction of the Pithole Ballroad, and also in the Rine and Pithole road—both of whien will prove valuable Federa to our city trade. But our blobest interests demand a direct line of road to the Oil regions. The route via. New Castle and Meadville is a renoulabout, hadly juinted, make shift, impracticably as a freight route to the Oil regions owing to broken gauge, and diverse management. The "Jamestowa" route with be more direct; but the extension of our own Alle. Abony Valley Road, right up the valley to Rins and Oil City will be better than all others combined.

A ten we were thaned ont, we necessal an invitation to look at this fine projecty. Rano is neatly laid out in blocks and streets on a beantiful alope, extending from the river back to the summit of a sentle lail. The river front of the property is $1,000 feet. The cuttire town site would, doubtless, have been purchased, ere now, but for the fact that it has not been in the market. Mr Culver has been maturing his plans to stock the entite property; including the town site and 1,200 acres of land, according to the plan briefly stated in my dispace from this place. Therefore, pending that plan, he did not desire the property cumbered by any leases.

In addition to this fine town site, with its acknowledged advantages, Shaffer's lim, which flows into the river at the western boundary of the town, has a length of about three miles within the property. On this run four or five wells have been bored, and a vory good quality of inbricating oil has been found to very well. The average yield its ten barrets per well, and it is now relling readily at $16 per barret, as I was informed. I briefly recapitulate the plan for stocking this fine broperty.

DEFEAT OF THE IMPERIALISTS CONFIRMED. New York, October 20.-The Hereld's cor respondent from Brownsville, (Texas), and No Orleans, furnishes news of interest from the his Grande border.
Considerable of a sensation and quite a little distairation had been caused in military er-cles by the recent order of Lieutenant General Grant directing the mustering out of a large number of the reteran corps. By this order the 20th corps, under Gen. Weltzel. and ill regiments of volunteer colored soldiers from the States of New York, Massachusetts and Connecticut were mustered out.

On the Mexican side of the Rio Grande an agliated and confused state of matters prevails.

Corlinas, and other Republican leaders, were still hovering with their bands in the vicinity of Matamoras, and skirmishes between them and the imperation were suit occurring, surgu-not as frequent as some-time ago. Some of the Liberal chiefs in the region are remaining in a comparatively quiet state, awailing the result of (onersal Carvagal's mission to the United States, which they are confident will result in famishwhich they are confident will result in farmaning them with all the men, money and material necessary to rid their country of Maximilian.

They have received reinforcements from some quarter.
Prisoners taken on either side, in these border contests, have little chance for their lives.

Six thousand Imperial troops were expected at Menterey in the 25th of September to rein force those on the Rio Grande.

Maximilian, it is said, has issued a decree directing that no ressels be admitted fine Merican ports, which cannot above proper papers from a Consul of his Empire in the part from whence they sailed.

New York, Oct. 20.—Gold is without material change. The expectation that foreign firms may purchase gold to remit balancer under the pressure of the rate of interest at London, helps to sustain the quotations. As yet, however, we hear of no important transactions of this character. The quotations opened at 146% dropped to 140, and recovered the 14 again. Steamer Sunset Bunk.
