New York, October 24. – Edward B. Ketchum, formerly of the firm of Ket hum, Son &
Co., and now confined in the tombs under indictments for the heavy Wait street forgerles, yesterday caloyed a temporary release from in prisonment, he being by virtue of a writ of habeas corpus taken from his cell and conveyed to the chambers of the Supreme Court, where the was kept under guard, while an argument was being heard on a motion that he be allowed to teatify in a certain case growing out of his transactions. The suit was one brought by Mr. Wm.
H. McVickar, who claims a find of seventy thousand dollars, held by Greenleaf, Norris & Co., under an account which they opened with young Ketchum in the name, as alleged, of Mr.
McVickar.

On the conclusion of the argument the Judge was very animated this morning, and there was a further itse of 1637 per cent. on leading shares with a large business in New York Central, Erie, Michigan Southern and Pittsburgh. There was constiterable actionent throughout call and the last r was returned to the tombs. A report was current that Mr. Cornelius Vanderbillt had been thrown out of his wagon and was in a dying state. This was the signal for a raid on Erie, Hudson and New York Central. The theory being that if the Commodore should die, his large blocks of these shares would come the market fox sale. Vanderbilt's injuries prove to be slight.

Alleged Larceny of a Flat.—A man named ingols appeared before Mayor Lowry to day and preferred a charge of larceny against H. Munson, charging him with having stolen a flatboat valued at $200. It appears that ingols and J. G. Fatterson claim the raft, and that Munsod loaded it with oil, in Venango county, and floated it is with oil, in Venango county, and floated it is this city. A warrant was issued for Murson's arrest, but he cannot be found. The boat is at the Allegheny wharf, partly unloaded. The Mayor has ordered the flat and the oil to be "tied up," until the question of ownership is settled. (SUCCESSOR TO MACKEDWN & LINHART,) FLOUR & GRAIN.
