THE CHURCH - SLAVERY - POLITICS AND "DEMOCRACY." oiler Makers & Sheet Iron Workers. Nos. 20, 22, 24 and 28 PENN STREET. Having secured a large yard, and furnished with the most improved machinery, we are prepared to manufacture every description of BOILERS, in the best manner, and warranted equal to any made in the country, GHILNEYS, BRICHERY, bich takes a very wide sweep on the subject of religious instruction from the pulpit on the subject of slavery. It contains some valuable raths, which we commend to our readers. He Copper Mill and Smelting Works,

"There appears to be no sense of justice, humaity or grattinde South of Mason's and Dixon's line—which I conclude is owing very much to the fact that the Bouth has permitted only such teachers among them as would preach soft things ands spurious Gospei—such as would cover, up these sins, and justify the crime of slavery, and make it a Divine institution. Neither have our Northern pulpits been freed from these false teachers of a spurious Gospei, and to-day many preachers in our midst are exceeding careful not to introduce, what some style politics into the pulpit, lest, as if by so doing, they were initiating the Master, who was a preacher of rightcourages, and who held up the sins of the people, who required all to love their neighbor as themselves, and to do unto others as we would have them do unto us! who enjoined it upon us, that we should "honor all men." And also, that those who would be chief, "should be a servant? Each one of these precepts, is a political sermon, and no man can take either of them as act and do justice to it, without making what pro-slaveryites would senounce it as polical preaching.

There is in many of our large, loysi and Republican churches a small pro-slavery element—an element which may occupy places of ho nor in the church or community, and what do we winces? A constant deference to their "rews" is marifest in all the misistrations from the pulp". It will not do to "exasperate" those prisons, for they might hurt somebody. On, such sycophacy is plitable! Why, such preaction would not dare to advocate the suff-aze of the black man, much less pray for it; not but what it would be jayfaily received by the great congreg aitions but it might "exablerate" some persons.

The Church of Christ is to-day the greatest power on earth, but the clergy do not appreciate the fact. The light of the church is jaid, as much a bonder a bankel, and, unrebuked, it has permitted The Church of Christ is to-day the greatest power on earth, but the clergy do not appreciate the fact. The light of the church is hid, as under a bushel, and, unrebuked, it has permitted the powers of darkness to occupy all the high positions of power and influence in our country. The people are demanding light—light in regard to political morals, and they naturally lock to the pulpit for that light, and yet the very light which the world needs as much for its elevation, is witheld for fear of giving offense to those who would construe anything calculated to cievate the poor and down trodded, as political oracchine. It was just the peouliar trait in the preaching of Christ which caused the batted of the Pharisess, and which finally caused his cradity. SENT PREE.—A FAMPHLET OF married immense importance to the old and young, married immense importance to the old and young.

It is, I apprehend, not to be feared that very many of our modern divines will softer crucifizing the control of the married that very many of our modern divines will softer crucifizing the control of the marry of our modern divines will soften covardice is their great weakness—the power of the pulpit is dying out for the want of Luthers who will preach what they believe, "if they were as many derits as they on the married that were as many derits as they on the married that were as many derits as they on the married that were as many derits as they on the married that were as many derits as they on the married that were as many derits as they on the married that were as many derits as they on the married that were as many derits as they on the married that were as many derits as they on the married that were as many derits as they on the married that were as many derits as they on the married that were as many derits as they on the married that were the married If the South had been faithfully instructed from the pulpit, slavery would have died out many years since, and the late rebellion, with all its horrors arorted. If the North had been Inhibitily instructed by the pulpix on human rights, there would be but few copperheads. It is exceedingly rare that one becomes a copperhead that has received proper instructions from the church in his youth. The great falling off in the Democratic party illustrates the position. I venture the assertion, that out off the wast multitude, which has deserted the Democratic organization in the North, you could scarcely find one that had not received bible instruction in his youth on the subject of slavery—they did not receive it from the churches, however, but they received it in spite of the churches, to have the property of the churches, because they are subject of the churches, but they received it in spite of the churches, to have the property of the churches, but they received it in spite of the churches, to have a spite of intoleratee and arithment of the dear that the deary, which is fearfully unlike the mek applit of our Divino Master, and many of the late recleaisatical assemblies confirm it. There is a great amount of disguised disloyally. The point of difficulty appears to exist in the fact that the long scouted and buried doctrine the all me are created equal with certain insilierable rights, &c., is now being fully renuclated, and it gails and chafes. They hate the doctrine in its practical barrings, that "thood who would be chief must fire; become acrevant which means the strong, the learned and rich must take care of and educate and elevate, in short botherevant of the weak, the ignorant, the poor and despised. And the sooner men and nations learn that this is their great mission on carth, the sooner will the day come when peace and happloess shall cover the whole carth as the waters cover the great deep. *

Remedy for the Choicera.

Dr. Jordan, editor of the Indianapolis Gazette, who was one of the most successful physicians in Checinosti, in 15th, in the to stiment of choices, speaks as follows, in his journal, in reference to that terribile plague:

"In all probability it (the choicera) will be here were year, and it may be early in the serious or summer. We have had some experience in the treatment of this dreadful disease, in 1940, in Cincinnasi, as some of our realers will probably recollect, and we found one article of very great importance—that of prickly deb beview, We, therefore, advise druggists averywhere to secure as many of these learness as they can, or at heat a reasonable quantity. This can be done by letting the country people know about it at they will gather them. Should the choices come, we that certainly want sum of those berries. As to the manner of using them, it will be time enough to speak of that hereafter.

A short time since officer Anderson was informed by some of the paighforts that Francisco Bahagar, who for the past two menths have enpired an apartment in the rear of No. 5 Goerets served, was in the habit of receiving a great deal of company, and as he had no estensible means of support, they thought the matter waste proposed. Faven and ague have reapprared to an un FAVEN and spie have respiration of country around a surprecedented extent in that section of country known as "Tide Water," Virgiola. The people are everywhere shaking, and the mortality is increasing. The cause is attributed to the loss of labor by the civil war, which has left the rat k regetation to grow up notified and unchecked, and without proper drainage. SATS MENICES: "If I am treated rudely, let me examine into the cause, and if I can not dis-core any sort of impropriety in my own con-duct, I may disregard the rudeness, and con-sider him who displays it as no better than a brute, and why should the conduct of a brute disturb me?" was arrested by the Captain and officer Anderson, and on the way to the station house attempted to throw away a bunch of keys. These were secured. The apartment of the prisoner was found to contain a trunk, stove, mattrass, chair, and one or two other articles. The trunk was opened and found to contain counterfall treasury notes of the denomination of fives and twenties, and an imitation of the last two listics of five cent postal currency.

The entire amount reached the enormous sum of $11,000. It was neatly done up in $1,000 packages. The engraving and printing are of the very poorest description, and the paper is stiff and unlike that used by the Treasury Department. Hon. Charles Miner died near Wilkesbarre, a the resistence of his son. W. P. Miner, or Thursday evening, the 19th ult., in the 87th year of his age. Few lives have been crowded with more general interest and individual adventure. Not only to a Pennsylvanian, but it citizens of other States, the experience of Chas Miner was an object of pleasing and profitable study. He was born in Norwich, Connecticut, and when nineteen years old emigrated to Wyoming Vailey. Joined afterwards by his older brother, a practical printer, he started the Luzerne Federaliel. This was superceded by the Gleaner, with Miner as the principal editor. Through its columns he gave for several months the celebrated essays of morals and wit, of fact and fancy and delightful humor, entitled "From the Desk of Poor Robert, the Seribe." Those gave him tuch popularity that he was invited to become assistant editor of the Political and Commercial Reguler, in Philadelphia. He accepted, but soon went to West Cuester, where with his bother, he established the Fillage Record. Poor Robert her wrote over the signalure of "John Harwood," and made the page very popular. While there he was elected twice to Congress as a colleague of Mir. Buchanan. He was a useful and able member; took great interest on the subject of slavery, to which he was opposed. He awakened the country to the slik growing business, and drew and introduced the first resolutions on the subject of any morning to the slik growing business, and drew and introduced the mist resolutions on the subject of any morning the reliquished business in West Chester and returned the Wyoming Valley. Charles Miner was a modern journal. BORLAND'S, 98 Mraket Street, stemmer St. John was "fast asteep" at the time of the recent strictle explosion of the boller upon that but, which resulted as fatally; and the gost ps may or may no be correct in this respect; but it has been suggested, by one who knows something of the habits of our river narrigators, that they have the lazy one of beginning to rake out the cinders from the furnaces as they come lasto the city, when about opposite Fort Lee, so that they may tall into the bed of the river, and that the boatmen may thus avoid the labor of carrying auch cinders away from the docks after their arrival. In order that they may do this and still have steam sufficient to the process known among the featernity of engineers as "plygging," or something similar to that—which means that they confine sufficient steam to fetch the boat to her dock. May it not be that on this occasion they plugged of confined too much steam? Perhaps the most ramarkable fact connected with the explosion to that the break in the boiler was below the water line.—New Tork Tribune.
