North Carolina and the Test Oath.

Through the wrath of Lt. Powerll, the secession agent of the State of North Carolina at Washington City, the policy of Gov. Holden, concerning the test oath, has become known.

The Cincionati Gazetts is of the opinion that the policy has been in all cases to appoint men to office who cannot take the outh, and by this means to present the entire State delegation at Washington with a solid front, as a body, no member of which can by any possibility subscribe to the oath, and thus break through Congress by main force, it being difficult to bring these men to believe that Congress will dare to place the test oath in the way of an entire State.

The policy has been ment industionable as the contraction.

There are enough men who can take the oath in the State to full all its offices, and it was when, upon the Persentition of some Union citiz has of North Carolina, resident in Washington, several of this class had been appointed to positions in the State, that Dr. Powell went to these men and targed them to desist, asying that it was in direct by callious to Governor Holden's policy, and that it would prevent the State from appearing with a hold front next winter.

In connection with this, an attempt was made on the part of the Governor and his secents on the part of the Governor and his secents on the part of the Governor and his secents on the part of the Governor and his secents on the part of the Governor and his secents on the part of the Governor and his secents of the dispatch from our Consul at New Years experience with the Islanders, expresses fears that his processor who has had some four years experience with the Islanders, expresses fears that it will require several months to suppress the insurrection effectually.
