Louis Cella plead grilly to a charge of selling liquor without license, and was sentenced to bay a fine of twenty dollars and costs. The same defendant was arraigned on a charge of assault and battery, preferred by James McNames. The jury found a verdict of ot guilly, and that the prosecutor pay the costs. Joba K. Shelby, tried and convicted at the last term of court for the larceny of a pocket book and a number of passes from Edward N. Hard, at the Monorgahical House, and to whom a new trial was granted, on producing testimosials as to good character, from numerous respectable clitzens in Philadelphia, was put upon trial a second time and acquitted. Joseph Armstrong, charged with keeping a gambling house, was declared not grility, and the procecutor, W. W. Mcoper, ordered to pay the costs. Jane Kennedy was acquitted of a charge of illegal liquor selling, and the county held for the costs. About five weaks ago, a young girl, daughter of a steamboat pilot, residing in Newport, op-posite Cincinnati, left her home without permisalso of her parents, and without giving them any knowledge of her destination, or the object he had in tiow. She was only fourteen years of age, but had been well educated, and was or ago, our net often wen concated, and was especially accompliated as a piano player. She had been gond three or four weeks before any Ion was received by her anxious friends, and then her whereabouts were discovered acidentally by an old friend of her father, who one of the streets of this city, and State induct weiling, and the county held for, the costs. Mathew McGregor, was tried for selling liquor on Sunday. The jury acquited, but or-dered the ecosts to be divided between the de-fendant and the prosecutor, John T. Malone. Thomas Morgan was acquitide of a charge of liegal liquor selling, and the county held for the costs.

intrineary or an ora irrend of her father, who met her on one of the streets of this city, and aiked her what she was doing here. She was Cumbing exorgh not to tell him that she had clored frem her parents, but innocently remarked that she was on a visit to a friend here." The visit that she was absent without permission became known to her father's friend, and he advised him scoordingly. This morning a cousin arrived here from Clorinnsi, in search of her, and engaging the services of Chief Long, the police were at once put spon the hund. Bhe was finally discovered at a respectable boarding house on First street, where she had been lodg-ing under the assumed name of Blanche Taylor. She spicered very much mortified at her dis-covery, and begged the olifer to lot her go. Her contain had been watching at the postoffice, is hops that she might call there, and on being adrived of house and had an interview. Police officer Paul J. Wilmot was arrested late on Wednesday night charged with being ate on wednesday pight charged with being dunuk and disorderly. A citizen, at whose in-stance Wilmot was arrested, stated that, while i standing on the corner of Liberty and Washing-ton streets, a young lady walking path him was halled from across the street by Wilmot, who asked her where she was going. Instead of an-swering, she hurried on, when Wilmot stretch her cousin has been watching at the postofice, in appear that also might call there, and on being advised of her discovery he went at once to her biarding house and had an interview. . We are not advised as to the reasons which induced her to leave home, but also appears to be possessed, (like many other girls of her age) of, a romanule disposition, which a little of the rough argurience of life, will soon correct. From a remark made to the officer, it appears that ahe had become fascinated with the stage, and was endeavoring to objain a situation as ballet girl. Her conduct has here inscreep-tionable here and her character is yet unsullied; but if he leaves her home again, and deter-mines to set at dename the advice and coussel of parents and friends, she enters uppn a dan-gerous course, and one in which he is is almost certain to encounter many serions difficulties, and may soon bring upon herself life-long miles and may soon bring upon herself life-long miles. swering, she hurried on, when Wilmot started in pursuit. Opposite the Rush House he over-took her and asked her the same question again. She, being very naturally alarmed, ran as fast as she could and in her fright and bewilderment, came in contact with a barricade erected around an excavation for a cellar. The barri-cadegave way and ahe feil to the bottom of the cellar, a distance of several fact. She was re-leased with considerable difficulty and sonvered home badly hurt. The case was investigated be-fore the Mayor who at once dismissed him from the Pollee force, besides fining tim for dollars and costs. He was further held to answer a charge of assault. The last in question is in the comploy of a Mr. Fox, a resident of the Fifth Ward, and it said to bear an unphenished reputation. The injuries she has togeived will be the cause of confining her to the house for some time.

Mary Local.—Hunting for an item at a very interbour last night, or rather an early hour this morning, we came across two hungry looking "locals" who were upon the same errad that we were. Interogating them as to their suc-cess, they replied "nary local." As this lan-gunge may appear somewhat ambiguous to many of our readers, we will interpret it by so,-ing, that local items were lamentably scare. We could not even get up a respectable case of drunk and disorderly. The nearest approach to it that we saw, was two policemen carrying an unfortunate youth who was moder the influ-ence, to the lock-up, but he was too far gone to be disorderly. We shall have to reverse rules, and go into mourning, if something does net turn up.
