Platform Scales.

We were yesterday shown at the coal depot of Mr. Meskimen, ca Liberty street, a new article of platform scales, patented by Mr. J. F. Keeler, the manufacturer of the immense scales depot at Altoons. These scales have but one beam, and are to all appearances like the ordinary scale, the peculiarity being that the beam nary scale, the peculiarity being that the beam has two sliding peas, one in the upper and one on the under side. For instance when a coal wagon enters the yard it is driven on the platform, the upper slide or pea is placed in the notch nearest the bearings, and the weight of the wagon or cart is taken with the under slide. The wagon is then loaded, and the upper slide denotes the number of pounds or beasels of coal there is in the wagon. The whole contrivance is so simple that a boy ten pars old can estimate how much coal he is selling. The one that we saw was capable of weighing one hundred bushels of coal, or 7,600 pounds. Mr. Keder also manufactures the double beam scale.

Recter also manufactures the double beam scale.

Sunday School Meeting.—We trust our traders will not forget the Sabbath School meeting, to be held to night in Rev. Dr. Wilson's Church (Sixth Presbyterian.) Pastors, superintendents and teachers of Sabbath Schools are cordially invited to be present. Although the meeting is essentially Presbyterian, all'denominations are invited to attend, and take part in the exercises.

He laid his pocket book down on the counter, as he allners, and it soon after disappeared—those in the store sillering that it had been lost among the goods, but on searching it could not be fund.

The persons in the store at the time, were George Cohen and his wife Enza, J. Simmons and William French. Singular Preceding in a Clothing We have already mentioned the larceny of $150.50 from a colored soldier named Williams by a comrade in arms of the same complexion named Seeds. The parties were mustered out of service in the west, and were on their way home to Baltimore, and the larceny was com-mitted on the cars, before reaching this city. Seeds was arrested, when he admitted having found the money in the car, but denird having stolen it. When brought before the Mayor this morning, he stated that he had spent sixty-

They entered through the front deor, the shutters being closed. In a back room Isaacs had a plentiful supply of whiskey, and Sects got three big "horns" while he stayed there. He purchased a full sair, paying therefor $63.70. When he came to examine his bundle, however, after leaving the store, a pair of pants, valued at nine dollars, could not be found. He had on his person a portion of the stolen money, but not enough to make un Williams' loss, and alleged that he lost twenty dollars playing enchre at the Soldiers' Home.

Isaacs was arrested, and at first denied that he had sold the black man any clothing at all on Sunday. The black man however, brought the matter so vividly to his recollection that he had to admit the fact. In reference to the misting partialoons, Mr. Isaacs stated that they had been accidentally left out of the bundle. Upon arriving at her destination she left the boat, but neglected to take her child with her. Shortly after her departure the little walf was found snugly wrapped up in a shawl, and sleeping quictly in a berth.
