THE DAILY PITTSBURGH GAZETTE.

ESTABLISHED IN 1786. PITTSBURGH, THURSDAY, DECEMBER 21, 1865. VOLUME LXVIII—NO. 315

The Pittsburgh Gazette.

CITY ITEMS.

To our City Subscribers.

As we are making some changes on our routes in the two cities and vicinity, a number of our subscribers may fail to receive the paper. If any such will leave his address at this office, the paper will be regularly served thereafter.

Grover & Baker's
is the best in use.

Christmas Cloaks.
At Bates & Bell's.

Gum Shoes,
At 55 and 57 Fifth street.

Get a Grover & Baker
For Christmas.

Gum Shoes,
At 55 and 57 Fifth street.

Christmas Shawls.
At Bates & Bell's.

The Grover & Baker
is the simplest, cheapest and best in use.

Gum Shoes,
At 55 and 57 Fifth street.

None but the Grover & Baker
Will answer for all family purposes.

Christmas Sacques,
At Bates & Bell's.

For Assorted Candies and Toys,
You cannot go to a better place than No. 112 Federal street Allegheny, where you will find everything in the line to please the most fastidious tastes. A call is solicited.
deitf&w GEORGE HEAVEN.

Gum Shoes,
At 55 and 57 Fifth street.

A Grover & Baker
Will make home cheerful and happy.

Gum Shoes,
At 55 and 57 Fifth Street.

A Merry Christmas,
Good sleighing and good skating, and the finest stock of Jumpers, Sleds, Skates, &c., together with a full line of house furnishing goods, at Hubley's, 68 Federal street, Allegheny.

Umbrellas,
At 55 and 57 Fifth street.

Christmas Mantillas,
At Bates & Bell's

Neutral Sulphite of Lime, for preserving cider. For sale by Charles Super, Druggist, corner of Penn and St. Clair streets, Pittsburgh.

Umbrellas,
At 55 and 57 Fifth street.

Dr. C. Sill
Extracts teeth without pain, and exchanges "a old one" for ten dollars a set. Call at 348 Penn street.

Umbrellas,
At 55 and 57 Fifth street.

Christmas Basques,
At Bates & Bell's.

Umbrellas,
At 55 and 57 Fifth street.

What Everybody Says Must be True.
And that is, Boots and Shoes are better and cheaper, at 57 Federal street, than any other House in the city.

The Great Auction Sale of Furs
To-day, at 2 o'clock, at McClelland's, Nos. 55 and 57 Fifth street.

Contentment is a Great Moon.
Get a pair of those neat fitting Balmorals, at 62 Federal street, and your corns will vanish.

Christmas Silks,
At Bates & Bell's.

The Great Auction Sale of Furs
To-day, at 2 o'clock, at McClelland's, Nos. 55 and 57 Fifth street.

We Have no Stores,
But we can show you the largest assortment of card photographs and engravings in the city, at Pittock's

The Great Auction Sale of Furs
To-day, at 2 o'clock, at McClelland's, Nos. 55 and 57 Fifth street.

Christmas Merinos,
At Bates & Bell's.

A Word of Caution.
Don't buy your Boots and Shoes at any other place but at McClintock's, 92 Federal street.

The Great Auction Sale of Furs
To-day, at 2 o'clock, at McClelland's, Nos. 55 and 57 Fifth street.

Honesty is the Best Policy.
This is the plan of selling Boots and Shoes, at 57 Federal street.

Christmas Dress Goods,
At Bates & Bell's.

The Great Auction Sale of Furs
Today, at 2 o'clock, at McClelland's, Nos. 55 and 57 Fifth street.

Very Attractive
Is the showy holiday goods, at Pittock's, opposite the Postoffice.

The Great Auction Sale of Furs
To-day, at 2 o'clock, at McClelland's, Nos. 55 and 57 Fifth street.

Bates & Bell's
Is No. 21 Fifth street, and they have a stock of all kinds of Goods that are desirable, and will be sold low.

Subscribe
For a daily, weekly and monthly, at Pittock's, opposite the Postoffice.

Bates & Bell's
Is No. 21 Fifth street, and they have a stock of all kinds of Goods that are desirable, and will be sold low.

The Great Auction Sale of Furs
To day, at 2 o'clock, at McClelland's, Nos. 55 and 57 Fifth street.

Thomas W. Party & Co.,
Practical Slate Roofers, and Dealers in American slate of various colors. Office at Alexander Laughlin's near the Water Works, 1 Ritenour Pa. Residence, No. 73 Pike street. Orders promptly attended to. All work warranted water proof. Repairing done at the shortest notice. Charge for repairs, provided the roof is not disturbed after it is put on.

The Great Auction Sale of Furs
To-day, at 2 o'clock, at McClelland's, Nos. 55 and 57 Fifth street.

Catching a Tartar.
Neglect your teeth and you will soon catch a tartar there. Manipulate them daily with that rare vegetable compound, Sozodont, and neither tartar nor canker, or any other dental disease can ever infest or injure them or the red cushions in which they are inserted.

The Great Auction Sale of Furs
To-day, at 2 o'clock, at McClelland's, Nos. 55 and 57 Fifth street.

Carpenter Jobbing Shop.
Having returned after an absence of three years in the army, I have re-opened my shop for all sorts of jobbing in the carpenter line, at the old stand, Virgin Alley, between Smithfield street and Cherry Alley. Orders solicited and promptly attended to
WILLIAM FORREST.

Opera House.
Grand performance Christmas afternoon and evening. An entirely new piece will be produced with new and beautiful scenery and appointments on which occasion Mr. George Davenport, the highly talented young actor will appear, both afternoon and evening. Admission to afternoon performance, Parquette and Dress Circle, 50 cents Gallery 25 cents.

Atlantic.
Godey and Young Folks, at Pittock's.

Several New Books
Added to the already large stock, at Pittock's.

The Great Auction Sale of Furs
To-day, at 2 o'clock, at McClelland's, Nos. 55 and 57 Fifth street.

Games
For children, at Pittock's.

Furs
At Auction, Thursday, 2 o'clock, at McClelland's.

Games
For ladies and gentlemen, at Pittock's.

150 New Cards
Added yesterday, to the large stock of photographs, at Pittock's.

A Grover & Baker
a very appropriate Christmas Gift,

Gold Pens
And Albums, in large quantities, at Pittock's Call and see.

Disease Kept at Bay.
Invalids broken down in health and spirits by chronic Dyspepsia, or suffering from the terrible exhaustion which follows the attacks of acute disease, the testimony of thousands who have been raised as by a miracle from a similar state of prostration, by Hostetter's Stomach Bitters is a sure guarantee that by the same means you may be strengthened and restored. But to those who stand in peril of epidemics, to all who, by reason of exposure, privations, god unongenial climate or unhealthy pursuits, may at any moment be stricken down, this paragraph is most particularly and emphatically addressed. You, who are thus situated, are proffered an absolute safeguard against the danger that menaces you. Tone and regulate the system with this harmless medicinal Stimulant and Alterative, and you will be forearmed against the maladies whose seeds float around you in the air unaware. Hostetter's Stomach Bitters are not only a standard Tonic and Alterative throughout the United States, but they are accredited by the certificates of the most distinguished citizens of the Union, to the people of all other lands. In Canada, Australia and the West Indies they are gradually taking the place of all other stomachics, whether native or foreign, and as surely as truth is progressive and demonstrative overthrows error, they will eventually supersede every other in the field and reat ain the now employed in medicinal practice.

Hostetter's Bitters
Are sold wholesale and retail at very low rates at Fleming's Drug and Patent Medicine Depot, No. 84 Market street, corner of the Diamond, near Fourth street.

Furs
At Auction, Thursday, 2 o'clock, at McClelland's.

Furs
At Auction, Thursday, 2 o'clock, at McClelland's.

Great Holiday Sale of Ladies' Furs.
All the new styles of Capes, Collars, Hoods, Muffs, Cuffs, of Hudson Bay Sable, Mink sable, German Fitch, Siberian Squirrel, Water-Mink Ladies' Fur Hoods, Ladies' Skating Caps, Gents' Fur Caps, Collars and Gloves, all of which will be sold in sets or single articles, at less prices, at the extensive and fashionable House of Wm. Fleming, No. 129 Wood street, than at any other House in the city.

Serpents,
And Fenian pins, at Pittock's.

The Premium Machine.
Don't forget, when about buying a Sewing Machine, that the Wheeler and Wilson, for sale at 67 Fifth street, took the premium at the World's Fair, in London, thus asserting for the one hundredth time, its superiority above all competitors. We can recommend it to our readers as a machine to be relied on for any kind of work, and yet so easily operated that any one almost can sew with it.

Large Arrival of Boots and Shoes,
This day, at McClintock's, 92 Federal street.

Fall and Winter Goods.
It is with great pleasure we can direct all of our readers to the superb stock of Fall and Winter Goods just received by Mr. John Weier Merchant Tailor, No. 126 Federal street, Allegheny. The stock embraces some of the rarest and most beautiful Cloths, Cassimeres, Overcoatings and Vestings ever brought to the western market. His assortment of Furnishing Goods, comprising Shirts, Drawers, Collars, Neck-ties, Handkerchiefs, &c., cannot be surpassed east or west. A large stock of ready-made Pants, Coats, Vests and Overcoats will also be found at his establishment. Persons in want of an elegant fitting clothing line should call to give Mr. Weier a call.

The Wonder of Wonders.
They have now on exhibition at our new and popular Museum and Zoological Gardens, No. 64 Fifth street, a young lady who is well formed, 18 years of age, beautiful head of hair, full double set of teeth, and yet weighs but seven pounds. This wonderful phenomena is pronounced by the medical faculty as the wonder of the nineteenth century, and is attracting crowds of our first citizens. She is with her mother, from Tennessee, has been secured by Barnum, and is now on her way to New York to be exhibited in Barnum's Museum. All who are interested in the study of nature should not fail to go at once as their stay cannot be prolonged. The Hydra with numerous and thousands of curiosities form one of the most attractive places of amusement in the city, and we are extremely glad to see it so well patronized by our influential and leading citizens. To understand the original and only Albino family is to be added to-say.

Allegheny.
The attention of persons seeking building sites is invited to the lots recently laid out on Ridge street, Allegheny avenue, and Tremont street, on the property well known as the Bower estate, now passed into other hands. For cleanliness, accessibility, beauty of situation, and neighborhood, they are proonably unsurpassed

Mr. S. S. Bryan, at his office, No. 87 Fourth street, will show a plan of the lots, and state terms of sale.

THE Washington Reporter says, that Mr. A. E. Craig, a clerk in a dry goods store, who was discovered some months since in pilfering from his employers, and who was then supposed to have made restitution of all his pilferings, has lately sent for one of his employers and paid him $5,500 in money, to be applied as follows: $2,500 to Mr. Harding; $1,000 to Messrs. Chambers & Matthews; and $1,000 to Mr. Isaac Nelson, of Uniontown, in whose employ he had been previous to his coming to Washington. This, he alleged, covered every cent he had taken from his employers, and he expressed the utmost joy at having been able to restore it all to them, as he could now enjoy the peace of conscience to which he had been a stranger so long as the ill-gotten gain remained in his possession.

INCREASE OF THE CATTLE PLAGUE IN ENGLAND.—The London Times says: "The ravages of the cattle plague are even exceeding our recent anticipations. The actual return for the last week, we regret to say, instead of being 3,000 is nearer 4,000. The four weeks of last month show a succession of figures which speak for themselves. In the first week the cases were 1,765; in the second, 2,880; in the third, 3,699; and in the fourth, 3,610. At this rate of progress, which is only likely to be accelerated, we may easily have a return of 7,000 a week by Christmas. This is an alarming prospect, and no specific has been discovered for the treatment of the disease."

The Royal Agricultural Society has resolved that its usual annual meeting shall not take place until next year, on account of the cattle disease.

FOUND DEAD.—The body of an unknown man was found, on Wednesday morning last, in a hay-loft on the premises of Mr. Rupert, living near the Broad Top Railroad, about two miles from Huntingdon, with his throat cut. No papers or anything were found on his person to lead to his identification. It is supposed that he was murdered.

OUR PARIS LETTER.

Correspondence of the Pittsburgh Gazette

PARIS, [illegible], Dec. 5th, 1865.

I found on my return to this place, that nothing was affording more general satisfaction to the French public than the economical reforms on which the Imperial Government has lately entered. The most important of all these, both in point of extent and principle, has been, of course, the reduction of the army; and none has been received, I am glad to say, with more universal approbation. This feeling has been particularly noticeable in the financial and commercial world and among men of business of every category, now so much more important an element in French society than they have ever been before. Thus a course of policy, good in itself, is rendered still more valuable by the manifestation of pacific opinions which it has elicited from the Nation at large. In truth, the restless and aggressive spirit of the French people, so long the bugbear of Europe, seems to be quite soothed down for the moment, and the bump of glory to have dwindled to the dimensions of a wart, in face of the great development assumed by that of acquisitiveness.

There is but one exception to be made with respect to the satisfaction evinced at the reduction of the army, and that is to be found in the quarter where it was most naturally to be looked for, viz. in the army or rather a section of the army itself. In a country so long situated as ours has been, there are, of course, to be met with in the army a large number of what may be called soldiers of fortune, men who in moderate times occupy the place of Dugald Dalgetty; whose trade is fighting and who are fit for nothing else. Most of these men have entered the army without passing through the military schools. They have simply enlisted as privates, sometimes to the grief but oftener to the great delight of their families, quietly sure to work themselves up, in a long always the baton of a Marshal of France in their knapsack. Many of these men have, in point, just attained to the rank of sous-officiers or sous lieutenants, after a sufficient service apprenticeship in the ranks. To be cut short in their military career is to rob them of all hope, for, as I have said, they are hardly fit for anything else. Nothing has so astonished the French people as to see American superior officers, aye, and some General officers, return with the simple heroism of primitive Romans to their civil occupations when the war was over, carrying sometimes their swords into the ploughshare, sometimes quietly resuming their work at the desk or in the counting house. The Free classes speak of us as on equal terms. The government is doing what it can to provide them with small civil employment, but necessarily there is simply impossible. I have seen letters that were written home to their friends, breathing genuine stoics of despair at the [illegible] of a very dangerous character. The country owes much to these men, but I believe that the best thing we can do for them is to let them alone. Left to themselves, with very few exceptions, they will soon find their level in society, and [illegible] as possible. They are [illegible] for excellence of character, and respect and prestige among their comrades. Marshal Randon regarded the Staff as their rightful [illegible] and [illegible] with considerable apprehension, and it was this feeling which led to the hesitating and contradictory language of the Moniteur, so much noticed at the time. But the Emperor stood firm, as he always does when he has finally once made up, and the country at large has thoroughly approved of his resolution.

The Austrian loan, thanks to the large credit of the Comptoir d'Escompte by whom it was issued, and above all to the terms offered to subscribers, something like eleven per cent, exclusive of the chance of a handsome premium, has been filled up very rapidly, in a single day, and the over-abundant subscriptions were reduced by a merely proportional [illegible]. Nevertheless I hear many of the knowing ones express the opinion that it will [illegible] as the American loan when it has fallen below the rate of issue. The fact is, in fact, been largely subscribed in that confidence of the public known as the Peruvian Bounce, under the [illegible] of Soupçons, a small fish which, it is supposed, was fabricated. The Mexican loan, too, was successful. A day, but for the present it has been [illegible] since, the subscription of the Rothschilds and their friends to the extent of [illegible] Austrian subscriptions. Others, indeed, [illegible] Joseph would be wise enough to march his army out of Venetia, when he might borrow money almost on his own terms in the City.

Chinese affairs are creating some excitement and satisfaction here with respect to the action it may please the American government to take in them. There was a report in circulation yesterday that the Admiral on the station had given in between the Spanish fleet and Valparaiso, and threatened to [illegible] the fire of his Spaniards unless they attended to [illegible]. Of course this is [illegible], but it shows the [illegible] which prevails of how much importance [illegible] of the conduct of Spain, considering the situation she is in at home, the [illegible] of Madrid being literally [illegible] pronunciamentos [illegible] to-day.

The Moniteur records a number of new successes in Mexico. Unfortunately the only conclusion to be drawn from them is that of the necessity of continued military operations in that country.

The cholera still lingers in Paris, but the returns show a decrease between the 24th and 25th of last month, a diminution from 54 to 17 in the deaths in the suburbs, 35 to 7 in deaths in the same, and 93 to 7 in deaths in the city.

STATE NEWS.

A SHOCKING accident occurred at Petroleum Center on Sunday. About 11 o'clock a. m., one of the stills in the refinery formerly owned by Wilson & Babcock, in Wild Cat Hollow, exploded with a loud report, throwing the oil and fire in every direction. Unfortunately, four men [illegible] in the refinery, were completely deluged in the oil, and took fire. They all started to run to the several homes in the neighborhood in a terrible condition, [illegible] scarcely recognizable, columns of fire [illegible] rising above their heads, and the most attractive places of amusement in the city, and we are extremely glad to see it so well patronized by our influential and leading citizens. To understand the original and only Albino family is to be added to-say.

Allegheny.
The attention of persons seeking building sites is invited to the lots recently laid out on Ridge street, Allegheny avenue, and Tremont street, on the property well known as the Bower estate, now passed into other hands. For cleanliness, accessibility, beauty of situation, and neighborhood, they are proonably unsurpassed

Mr. S. S. Bryan, at his office, No. 87 Fourth street, will show a plan of the lots, and state terms of sale.

THE Washington Reporter says, that Mr. A. E. Craig, a clerk in a dry goods store, who was discovered some months since in pilfering from his employers, and who was then supposed to have made restitution of all his pilferings, has lately sent for one of his employers and paid him $5,500 in money, to be applied as follows: $2,500 to Mr. Harding; $1,000 to Messrs. Chambers & Matthews; and $1,000 to Mr. Isaac Nelson, of Uniontown, in whose employ he had been previous to his coming to Washington. This, he alleged, covered every cent he had taken from his employers, and he expressed the utmost joy at having been able to restore it all to them, as he could now enjoy the peace of conscience to which he had been a stranger so long as the ill-gotten gain remained in his possession.

INCREASE OF THE CATTLE PLAGUE IN ENGLAND.—The London Times says: "The ravages of the cattle plague are even exceeding our recent anticipations. The actual return for the last week, we regret to say, instead of being 3,000 is nearer 4,000. The four weeks of last month show a succession of figures which speak for themselves. In the first week the cases were 1,765; in the second, 2,880; in the third, 3,699; and in the fourth, 3,610. At this rate of progress, which is only likely to be accelerated, we may easily have a return of 7,000 a week by Christmas. This is an alarming prospect, and no specific has been discovered for the treatment of the disease."

The Royal Agricultural Society has resolved that its usual annual meeting shall not take place until next year, on account of the cattle disease.

FOUND DEAD.—The body of an unknown man was found, on Wednesday morning last, in a hay-loft on the premises of Mr. Rupert, living near the Broad Top Railroad, about two miles from Huntingdon, with his throat cut. No papers or anything were found on his person to lead to his identification. It is supposed that he was murdered.

THE LATEST NEWS

BY TELEGRAPH.

Our Special Dispatches.

FROM WASHINGTON

DEBATE ON THE SPECIAL MESSAGE.

Protection Afforded by the Tariff.

AMENDMENT OF THE REVENUE LAWS.

War Claim Regulations.

Special Dispatch to the Pittsburgh Gazette

WASHINGTON, December 20, 1865.

SENATOR SUMNER ON THE SPECIAL MESSAGE.

The great speech of the session thus far was made in the Senate to-day by Mr. Sumner, to secure freedmen the rights guaranteed to them by the constitution. Its drift was to show that the condition of affairs in the States lately in rebellion demands interference on the part of the government, and does not warrant the language the President used in his message to the Senate on Tuesday. Beginning with Virginia, and naming those States in order, he brought together a large mass of testimony respecting matters in each. This embraced official documents, reports of doings in Conventions and Legislatures, private letters and newspaper correspondence. Under the latter head he quoted at some length on the letters of "Israel," recently published in the Chicago Tribune. His speech occupied two hours in delivery, and was listened to by crowded galleries.

SECESSIONISTS BY SENATORS MALLORY AND COWAN

When he had concluded, Mr. Saulsbury improved the occasion to exhort the President to stand firm by his policy, and pledged him the moral support of two millions of democrats in the States recently in rebellion. Mr. Cowan closed the debate with a characteristic speech in which he said Sumner's argument resolved itself into one of force. The government is doing what it can to provide them with small civil employment, but necessarily there is simply impossible. I have seen letters that were written home to their friends, breathing genuine stoics of despair at the [illegible] of a very dangerous character. The country owes much to these men, but I believe that the best thing we can do for them is to let them alone. Left to themselves, with very few exceptions, they will soon find their level in society, and [illegible] as possible. They are [illegible] for excellence of character, and respect and prestige among their comrades. Marshal Randon regarded the Staff as their rightful [illegible] and [illegible] with considerable apprehension, and it was this feeling which led to the hesitating and contradictory language of the Moniteur, so much noticed at the time. But the Emperor stood firm, as he always does when he has finally once made up, and the country at large has thoroughly approved of his resolution.

The Austrian loan, thanks to the large credit of the Comptoir d'Escompte by whom it was issued, and above all to the terms offered to subscribers, something like eleven per cent, exclusive of the chance of a handsome premium, has been filled up very rapidly, in a single day, and the over-abundant subscriptions were reduced by a merely proportional [illegible]. Nevertheless I hear many of the knowing ones express the opinion that it will [illegible] as the American loan when it has fallen below the rate of issue. The fact is, in fact, been largely subscribed in that confidence of the public known as the Peruvian Bounce, under the [illegible] of Soupçons, a small fish which, it is supposed, was fabricated. The Mexican loan, too, was successful. A day, but for the present it has been [illegible] since, the subscription of the Rothschilds and their friends to the extent of [illegible] Austrian subscriptions. Others, indeed, think Joseph would be wise enough to march his army out of Venetia, when he might borrow money almost on his own terms in the City.

Chinese affairs are creating some excitement and satisfaction here with respect to the action it may please the American government to take in them. There was a report in circulation yesterday that the Admiral on the station had given in between the Spanish fleet and Valparaiso, and threatened to [illegible] the fire of his Spaniards unless they attended to [illegible]. Of course this is [illegible], but it shows the [illegible] which prevails of how much importance [illegible] of the conduct of Spain, considering the situation she is in at home, the [illegible] of Madrid being literally [illegible] pronunciamentos [illegible] to-day.

The Moniteur records a number of new successes in Mexico. Unfortunately the only conclusion to be drawn from them is that of the necessity of continued military operations in that country.

The cholera still lingers in Paris, but the returns show a decrease between the 24th and 25th of last month, a diminution from 54 to 17 in the deaths in the suburbs, 35 to 7 in deaths in the same, and 93 to 7 in deaths in the city.

STATE NEWS.

A SHOCKING accident occurred at Petroleum Center on Sunday. About 11 o'clock a. m., one of the stills in the refinery formerly owned by Wilson & Babcock, in Wild Cat Hollow, exploded with a loud report, throwing the oil and fire in every direction. Unfortunately, four men [illegible] in the refinery, were completely deluged in the oil, and took fire. They all started to run to the several homes in the neighborhood in a terrible condition, [illegible] scarcely recognizable, columns of fire [illegible] rising above their heads, and the most painful cries [illegible] the most painful cries. The [illegible] within a few [illegible] rendered such assistance as they were able but in two cases the clothes were almost entirely burned from the bodies of the unfortunate men, and it is thought they will not survive. One is burned internally by inhaling the flames, and his case is considered hopeless.

A COAL miner named Moore, while at work in the bank of Mr. Walters, in Chartiers township, Washington county, was killed by the fall of a horse-back on it is said, on Thursday evening of last week. The unfortunate man had but one arm, but nevertheless earned his living by working at the business, and on the evening referred to had scarcely cut his coal in usual, one of his fellow workmen went in and found him crushed to death in the manner already mentioned.

THE Pithole Record says Messrs. Sumner & Pratt commenced drawing the sucker rods of the Hank Lawton well on lease 17 of their purchase Monday, and before the lower valve could be drawn the well commenced flowing last, filling the tank and running over the ground. The sucker rods of No. 18 were lately drawn, and the product has been increased to 250 barrels per day. Oil has been struck at Apollo, Armstrong county, New York.

THE Titusville and Pithole railroad, the Oil Creek, Lake and Titusville Mining and Transportation Company, and the Westfield Railroad Company have consolidated into one company to be called the Westfield, Titusville and Pithole Railroad Company. This line will include the proposed railroad from Titusville to Union.

A CARPENTER named Frazier was killed at Saxton, Huntingdon county, last week, while engaged in pulling up a bundle of boards to the top of a house he was working at. One of the boards slipped out of the bundle and struck him on the head, fracturing his skull.

A MAN named Geo. Dennick has been committed to jail in Westmoreland Co., for stealing $37 about of Mr. D. B. Kyal, of Rostraver town ship. The man alleges that he was employed to drive the sheep by a man named Minks, and knew nothing as to where they came from.

A HORSE belonging to Mr. James Duff, of Shanksburg, in the upper end of Huntingdon county, was, as is supposed, set on fire one night last week, and about ten tons of hay and a fanning mill consumed.

HORSE stealing appears to be a large business in Chester county. We notice in the Village Record no less than nine notices of meetings of local associations, for the detection of horse thieves.

THE remaining portions of the letters taken from the post office at Pithole, have not been recovered, and probably never will be. The clue to the perpetrators of the deed, if ever had, has been lost.

A. B. LONGAKER, President of the Montgomery National Bank, has failed. He invested too largely in oil stocks, and although rich, found himself unable to meet his liabilities.

Meeting of Citizens of Ohio.

RESOLUTIONS OF SORROW AND RESPECT.

Addresses by Hon. Reverdy Johnson, Senators Davis and Sherman, and Secretary Seward.

NEW YORK, Dec [illegible]. Washington dispatch to the Tribune says: A large gathering of citizens of Ohio convened in the Senate chamber yesterday at three o'clock in respects to the memory of Hon. Thomas Corwin. Chief Justice Chase occupied the chair. General Schenck in a few eloquent remarks touching the character of the deceased, moved the appointment by the chair of a committee of five to draft resolutions embodying the sentiments of his fellow citizens of Ohio. Mr. Chase named General Schenck, Governor Dennison, Senator Sherman, General Hatche Representative Smalldon, as such committee, who reported the following:

Resolved, That we have heard with the deep sorrow and [illegible] the news of Corwin of Ohio, a man whose eminent services as a statesman in the various positions of [illegible] legislator, statesman of his State, Cabinet Minister and Diplomatist, whose superior eloquence and whose great services to the government and people secured for him a [illegible] in honor as the whole country, whose his personal worth and character endeared him to all who were privileged to [illegible] society or his residence.

Resolved, That [illegible] we tender to his [illegible] every mark of respect due to the memory of [illegible] who will attend the funeral [illegible] making his remains which [illegible] for conveyance to his home, at such time as may be appointed.

Resolved, That a committee of five [illegible] be appointed by the Chairman to make [illegible] arrangements for the occasion.

Resolved, That a copy of these resolutions be communicated by the Chairman of the meeting to the widow and family of the deceased, with the expression to them of our warmest sympathy and confidence with them in their great bereavement.

Gen. Wilkinson, Gen. Ward, Judge James M. Gaude and Maj. John Coons were appointed a committee of Arrangements.

During the absence of the committee on Resolutions, addresses were made eulogistic of the deceased by Reverdy Johnson, the Senator from Kentucky, [illegible] Secretary Seward. Mr. Johnson [illegible] after the committee on Resolutions had returned [illegible] Secretary Seward [illegible] Mr. Johnson [illegible] Mr. Seward [illegible] Mr. Johnson [illegible] Mr. Seward [illegible] Mr. Johnson [illegible] Mr.