CITY AND SUBURBAN.

Criminal Court.

BEFORE JUDGES MELLON AND BROWN.—Court met yesterday morning at nine o'clock. The first case taken up was:

Commonwealth vs. Bernhardt Schmidt; indictment, false pretences, on oath of Frederick Schild. The prisoner was charged with obtaining one hundred and eighty bushels of barley, representing that it was for the use of J. Sussforth, brewer, of Allegheny City which he sold for his own personal gain. A plea of guilty was entered by counsel for Schmidt; and the unfortunate young man was sentenced to undergo nine months imprisonment in the county jail.

Commonwealth vs. Samuel M. Kier and James Kennedy; indictment, nuisance. Verdict of guilty. Sentence deferred.

In the cases of Commonwealth vs. George Kemp and Commonwealth vs. John Bailey, James Egan and David Bennett—three of the emergency men—reported yesterday, the jury found Kemp guilty of an assault upon Barney, and Bailey guilty of an assault upon Keenan. In the case of Kemp the Court imposed a fine of $10 and costs of prosecution. Bailey fared worse as he was fined $25 and costs.

Commonwealth vs. Elijah Hall; illegal liquor selling. Defendant plead guilty and was mulct in the sum of $50 and costs.

Patrick Conner was placed on trial, charged with a felonious assault and battery, on oath of Daniel M'Mullen. The prosecutor is a policeman, and alleges that Conner struck and other missiles. District Attorney Duff appears for the Commonwealth, and John R. Large for the prisoner. During the cross examination of the witnesses a large amount of valuable time was thrown away in asking foolish questions, such as was there any powder in the pistol? was there one pound in it? was there a keg in it? was there a ball in it? was it a wooden, steel, iron or silver pistol. "Time is money," and every minute uselessly squandered in a court of justice but adds to the burdens of the hot cast tax payers. The case was not concluded at the adjournment of the Court.

Sabbath School Concert.

MR. EDITOR: It was our pleasure to be present at a concert given by the children of the "Providence Mission Sabbath School" (afternoon session) on Thursday evening last in "Union Church," on the east end of Ohio street Allegheny City. The whole affair was so well conducted, and was attended with so much success, that we think some account of it will be of interest to most of your readers.

Although the evening was extremely cold and the church located at so great a distance from the centre of the city, quite a large and respectable audience was present to witness the exercises which were of the most interesting and entertaining character, sufficiently so indeed to have delighted any audience in the city.

There being no gas in the church, it was handsomely lighted up with candles; and not the least interesting feature of the occasion was the imposing appearance presented by nearly one hundred children "in Sunday dresses nearly clad," each alternate one having a lighted candle in hand. This in graduated order they marched in single file from the dressing room below to their respective positions on the tastefully arranged stage, with the order and precision of veterans.

After prayer, by the Rev. Mr. Smith, "Hail, Hail, t is Happy Day"—the first piece on the programme—was sung by the children with so much earnestness and expression, that one could not but think that they were inspired by the sentiment, and felt the importance of what was to them a great occasion. Each piece of the admirable selection learned in beauty and interest from beginning to end.

Seldom, in any place, could so large a collection of any class of children, much less those in Mission Schools, be seen to act with so much propriety, sing so sweetly and with such a degree of harmony. Tele scenes will not for the officers and teachers of the school, and shews what may be accomplished by efficient training. The audience seemed intensely interested throughout. The exercises were concluded by the singing of that beautiful piece, "The Battle-Hymn of the Republic," in admirable style, by Mr. J. M'Cready, in the chorus of which the whole audience joined, concluding the whole exercise with a fine effect.

The instrument used on the occasion was one of Mason & Hamlins instruments, a valuable cabinet organ, kindly furnished by Mr. Charles Mellor, and admirably played by one of the lady teachers.

The school is in a most healthy condition and numbers two hundred. It is under the immediate supervision of Mr. W. H. Gill, assisted by Mr. J. M'Cready, of the Western Theological Seminary. Success to all such worthy enterprises.

Common Pleas.

The Court met at the usual hour, Judge Sterrett on the bench.

The case of M. Shuler vs. S. R. McAboy occupied the greater portion of the time of the Court during the day. The case, as we understand it, is this: McAboy rented a house in Southside at an annual rent of $600. Certain improvements were made at a cost of $2,000, for which McAboy was to receive ten per cent. on the lease. On term of ten years, the time of demanding $50 per day falling due instead of and payment refused. $666.66 was claimed was found out and the goods and lodgers warrant levied upon. Shuler takes counsels of Sunplevie and brings an action against Mr. Mcfor damages. Jury out.

Holiday Vacation.—The public schools of the two cities and vicinity will close this (Friday) evening, for the usual Holiday vacation of two weeks.

Book Notices.

"OUR WAKEFULNESS. With an introductory chapter on the Physiology of Sleep. By Wm. A. Hammond, M. D. Philadelphia: J. B. Lippincott & Co.

Many a sufferer from wakefulness will peruse this work with interest, who are not of the medical profession, to whom it is particularly addressed. Dr. Hammond is an acute observer, and enters with great vigor into the investigations of physiological subjects. The present little volume must prove of much value to the profession, and may be read with profit by any intelligent reader.

For sale by Henry Miner, Fifth street, near the Postoffice.

"WINNING HIS WAY. By Charles Carleton Coffin, Boston: Ticknor & Fields."

We have perused this interesting story as it appeared from month to month in "Our Young Folks," and are glad to find it in book form. It is one of the numerous stories growing out of the war, that enhances a source of supply for the novelist, but a considerable part of it is taken up with a description of village life and events prior to the war. Its main object is to impress upon the minds of the young that the true policy of every youth is to cultivate the virtues of filial affection, hot easy, spirituality and a stern devotion to the right under all possible circumstances, and in this respect it is a success. The young folks who have not read it should do so without delay.

"HEREWARD, the last of the English. By Charles Kingsley. Boston: Ticknor & Fields."

The Kingsleys are a literary family. Three of the brothers of that name have written novels, and all of them write readable books. The volume before us is by the author of "Two Years Ago," and although it lacks, to us, the vigor and interest of "Alton Locke," by another of the Kingsleys, it is still a work of much merit, as is evinced by the imprint of its publishers, whose selections of reprints are always good. It is a tale of the Anglo Saxon times. Hereward was the son of that queen Godiva whose ride through Coventry is famous; and it is of his fortunes, as the last of his kindly race, that the story treats. The reader will find it of absorbing interest, as soon as he gets through the first chapter.

Presentations to Teachers.

Some interesting proceedings took place yesterday afternoon in the Third Ward School, in connection with the closing holiday exercises. In the afternoon the teachers and scholars, and a number of spectators, assembled in the public Hall connected with the school, when several interesting presentations were made to the teachers by the pupils. Master R. E. Bradley, in behalf of the male pupils of room No. 14, presented to Mr. H. J. Gourley, Principal, a beautiful copy of Shakespeare's works, and Marsh's History of the English language, accompanied by a few appropriate remarks. Miss Emma M. Young was made the recipient, by the pupils of the same room, of a white silk fan and a silver thimble. Miss Maggie Olivia Douglas made the presentation address. Miss Sarah A. Wallace was presented with a beautiful white fan and a colonge bottle filled with Eau de-cologne. Presentation by Miss F. Aronson. A very fine Cabs and some other articles were presented to Miss M. J. Graham by Mis Mollie M. Douglas, in behalf of the pupils of Room No. 12. Miss M. Holmes presented to Miss Sallie Hunter a silver table bell, a donation from the scholars under her charge.

In addition to the above, other presentations were made in a more private way in the school rooms. We understand that most, if not all the teachers received some testimonial from their pupils, as a token of their affectionate regard.

Principal Gourley made quite a feeling and interesting re-ponse to the presentation address. The young ladies were so deeply affected by the unmistakable evidence of the high esteem in which they were held by their pupils, that they could do nothing more than bow their acknowledgments.

Professor Sherman presented and imparted great interest to the proceedings by the unique comments and songs, in his own peculiar style. Mr. A. T. Douglass, (only Superintendent) delivered an interesting address at the close of the proceedings.

The Third Ward School of Allegheny.

An interesting feature of the closing exercises of those schools, was the presentation of Rewards of Excellence to those scholars who had attained a certain degree of proficiency, as fixed by the Principal, Mr. George J. Lockey. On the 1st of September, Mr. Lockey, with a view to avoid the necessity of corporal punishment, offered to all pupils who could show thirty per cent of improvement and perfect spelling lessons, in the shape of a neat and tasty certificate, setting forth their proficiency, etc. Two hundred have received these certificates, and the number of those that will at the termination of each month have since been necessarily much decreased by severe discipline.

Between fifty and sixty of the scholars attained the required standard, and yesterday afternoon received the rewards, in the presence of the Board of Directors. The following is a list of their names:

Maggie Johnson, M. Arnold, Jos. S. Nevin, Sarah Hesket, Agnes Brown, L. Wentz, E. Schade, Emma Dickson, Jos. Morrison, Lizzie Johnson, Essie Boyle, Christie Mantz, Emily H. Lazzell, Wm. Mantz, Cora Corbett, Laura Simmons, Alice Pierson, Mollie Lynch, Hattie Bell, Charlotte Scott, Olive McCoy, Carrie Kelly, Cassie Remensnider, Mollie Humphrey, Bessie Brown, Jacob Hoffman, Lishrow R. Meade, George Miller, Harry McCord, Henry Wiegand, Charles Campbell, Virginia Ray, Jas. Sauer, James McCoy, Minnie Ray, Mack McVay, Nellie Black, Willie Herbert, Martha Trevorrow, Sarah Herdman, Maria Earnest, Mary A. Bennet, John R. Pierson, Jean Scandrett, Geo. Hebdodee, George R. Barclay, Augustus Armstrong, Henry Davis, M. B. McClure, Eddie Goff, William Crede, George Pierson, Edward Sulzer, James Taylor.

Amusements.

THEATRE.—All the pieces of amusement were simply attended last night, on account of the extreme cold weather. Madame Celeste appeared as Madelaine, and in the French Spy. To-night ends her engagement, and the same bill will be presented.

OPERA HOUSE.—To-night is the last night of the engagement of Miss Cushman, and positively her last appearance. The great military Drama of the Union Spy will be presented, in which Miss Cushman will rehearse some of her adventures on the Cumberland. The performance concludes with the play of Handy Andy.

This afternoon there will be a Matinee for the benefit of ladies and children. "When Do" or the cricket on the Hearth will be put upon the stage.

ZAMPRETTA.—The wonderful pantomimists, the Zanfretta's are playing a brief engagement at Masonic Hall. Their performances are truly wonderful and worthy a visit. They remain but a short time.

Death of a Newsboy.

On Thursday a bright, intelligent little fellow who had belonged to the Newsboys' Home, of this city, died at Passavant's Infirmary, of Typhoid Pneumonia. His name was John Patton, and his age was 14 years. Homeless and friendless, like a waif upon the great sea of life, he was found by the benevolent Christian ladies and gentlemen of the Home and was carefully attended by them. Everything that could be done for the little sufferer, was done, but, without avail. Death had claimed him for its own, and he was taken from a world where he knew nothing but poverty and want. He told Mr. Florence Kramer that he had neither father nor mother living, but that an uncle of his resided in Butler. The Butler papers are requested to notice his death, and should his relative desire any information in regard to him, it will be cheerfully given by Mr. Kramer.

From Yesterday's Evening Gazette

Alleged Felonious Assault

On Thursday afternoon, a man named Leonard Nichauser was arrested by officer Hess, of the Allegheny police, on a charge of assault with an attempt to commit rape, on one of Caroline Christ), a girl of fifteen years. The girl Carney, lives with her parents on Butcher's Run, in Reserve township, and on Monday last, her parents being away, she was at home alone. She states that Nichauser came there on the day stated, used very insulting language to her, and finally assaulted her. She screamed for help, and neighbors coming to her assistance, Nichauser fled. Nichauser is a German, and is employed at the soap factory of Messrs. Bichel, Co. & Co. Also screaming last night, due to the May, theoffice was so made out, and the defendant was discharged, on the payment of a fine of $5 and a half. J. H. Miller, Esq., appeared as counsel for Nichauser.

The Union skating Park is now in excellent condition for skating, and will be open this afternoon and evening. The drive around the pond is in good order, and those who do not desire to engage in the skating, and yet wish to witness the animated scene, can do so by going around the carriage drive. The houses are now quite comfortable, and everything necessary for their enjoyment provided.

Soldiers' Meeting To-night.

—Pursuant to adjournment a meeting of returned soldiers and sailors, will be held at Wilkins Hall, this (Friday) evening. The principal object of the meeting is the enrolment of members of the "Western Pennsylvania Soldiers' League," and those who desire to become members must produce their discharge papers or give other satisfactory evidence of having left the service honorably. In addition to other business, nominations for permanent officers will be made. It is expected there will be a full attendance.

Assault and Battery.

—Major Lowry had before him to-day a returned soldier named Eli Casey, charged with assault and battery, on oath of William Shore. The accused was intoxicated, and while in this condition made an assault upon the prosecutor who is employed to preserve order at the Soldiers' Home. Mr. Shore had his eyes blackened and his face bruised somewhat, but he paid Casey a few "compliments" which he will remember for some time. He was committed to jail for trial, to answer a charge of assault and battery.

Two Policemen in Limbo.

—On Thursday morning about four o'clock, officers Campbell, of the Allegheny night watch, we going his rounds on Ohio street, he saw two suspicious looking men near the market house, and procuring the assistance of Lt. Bolster, they arrested the parties and conveyed them to the lock-up. They were discharged by the Captain of the watch upon representing themselves as police officers from this city, and stating that they were in search of a party for whom they had a warrant.

The Atlantic Monthly

for January, 1866, has been received from the publishers. The old, and now familiar, title-page on the cover has been replaced by a much better looking one, to our mind. The little picture in the middle of the page gives place to a neat table of contents, and the whole is much more in keeping with the character of the Magazine than the old one. Of the high and excellent character of its literary contents, it is unnecessary to speak.

Died from His Injuries.

—William Gettany, the engineer of No 339, Pennsylvania Railroad, which exploded near Torrens station on Thursday morning, died from the effects of his injuries at his residence on Grant street, on Friday evening. Coroner Clawson has been notified, and will hold an inquest on Saturday evening, at Dr. Wood's, on Grant street, when the circumstances connected with the explosion will be fully investigated.
