JAMES DUNN, Pastor

We neglected to notice yesterday that a trial of our water works in Washington street was had on Thursday afternoon, with a satisfactory result. A stream at the farther end of the pipe was thrown sufficiently high to reach over any of the buildings in that vicinity, and it is claimed that when the pump is working on the hill we have a pressure of over three hundred pounds to the square inch.

Our citizens should not forget their indebtedness to Mr. M. C. Martin, Superintendent of the Central Petroleum Company for the use of pipe, and to S. A. Woods for the use of pump.

These gentlemen leave nothing undone which will promote the interest of Petroleum Centre and its citizens, and their generosity cannot be forgotten.

To-day excavation has been commenced for the laying of the pipe beyond Shomblo's, up as far as the Nunda House.

ROOMS WANTED.—Rooms for either one or two small families wanted; if not in village will be acceptable in Wildcat or on the Egbert Farm. Inquire at the Record office.

We had no frost in this vicinity last night.

HARPER'S MAGAZINE just received at the Post Office.

The new well on the Boyd Farm, at the end of the railroad bridge, is completed and is now being tested. It is pumping considerable water with oil enough to color it a little.

Mr. FENTON, United States Senator from New York, has decided to bring a libel suit against the Evening Post and Commercial Advertiser—damages to be laid at $500,000.

The well on lease 17, Pierson Farm, owned by Dixon & Corman is now being tested. It is producing considerable quantities of gas, and promises to make a good well.

Our citizens will remember the Velocipede match to be given at the Velocipede Rink, Atkin's Hall, this evening. It promises to be a grand affair. Two prizes are to be awarded, one a beautiful silver cup to the fastest rider, and a silver bell to the slowest rider for a given distance. There are quite a number of our young men who claim to be experts, and of course we will expect them to show themselves.

COAL AND LUMBER.—Mr. Amos Myers has retired from the firm of Miller & Myers, at Pithole City, and Mr. W. C. Howe is his successor, the firm now being Miller & Howe. The large business done by this firm in the oil region has made for them an extended acquaintance, and their reputation for fair dealing brings to them a business in keeping with their promptness. They have now on hand a large stock of coal and lumber which the new firm propose to dispose of at the lowest market rates, and will deliver orders in any part of the oil region.

LARGE STOCK OF HARDWARE.—J. A. Sheriff has just received a large stock of shelf hardware, the announcement of which is all that is necessary from us, as Mr. S. is well known on Oil Creek. His liberality and fair dealing has built up for him a trade from all parts of this region, and being a liberal advertiser, operators and business men generally are at once made acquainted with his stock. It is always a pleasure for us to chronicle the success of deserving men.

Letter from Pioneer.

PIONEER, PA., April 24.

I write to-day under date of Pioneer, and as I have spent the day in looking about some, I think I can write a little something about your neighboring town that may not be uninteresting. Pioneer is not so near a defunct town as perhaps some of the Centre people have been led to believe from your observations when passing through on the cars. There has been some thinning out of houses I admit; many were taken down last fall and moved to a worse place—Pleasantville—and the owners of them would now think themselves well off if they were back here again; but I know of no places of business that have been closed out of late for reason of decline in patronage—except perhaps a saloon or billiard room which every town can well do without.

For the last two years the prophecy has been repeatedly made, and by many interested in the prosperity of the place, that "the next six months will see this town leader than a smelt." Notwithstanding, I am informed by grocery men that their trade is not in the least declining, and the relative amount consumed by any district is a pretty good exponent of the number of population. Such predictions used to be very commonly made concerning the Centre, but the wise ones have become about tired waiting for their prophecies to come to pass, and in their disappointment have gone to putting the third story on their buildings, and otherwise giving a more permanent appearance to their town. It is a fact that any of these oil towns, situated upon the railroad that has become a point of transit has a permanency long after the adjacent oil territory has been abandoned.

There is a great deal of territory in the vicinity of this town that was once most excellent territory, and is now mostly abandoned—or as much so as oil territory ever is. I have never yet seen any old territory on which there was not something being done. I never yet saw territory, however old or however much "drowned out," but that would produce a little oil; and from this fact I argue that operators will eventually go over enough territory so that old lingering wells will give an aggregate production equal to our total production of today.

The Funkville Flats, Benninghoff Hill, Western and Pioneer Runs, Foster Farm, Bull Run, Sherman Well Flats and Cow Run has each in its day produced large quantities, and now when the glory of each has flown, there is still a remnant left; it all produces oil in paying quantities, and those remnants principally rely on Pioneer for supplies.

Nobody need appoint the funeral of Pioneer very soon, for if they do, I assure them they will be disappointed in having the corpse. In my next I shall endeavor to speak more of local affairs of this town.

The Body of a Child Found in Holmden Creek.

The quiet of Pithole City was greatly disturbed on the 21st by the discovery of the body of a child in the Holmden creek. These occurrences are rare, of course, in any community, but the good citizens of Pithole, who have not been disturbed for a long time, took the discovery to heart, and great was the tumult! Surmises and suspicions rested on sundry women throughout the Borough, and in fact the crime was fixed upon innocent parties, who, much to their satisfaction were relieved from suspicion by the discovery of the real perpetrator of the deed, and the mother of the child.

The facts of the discovery of the body, as far as we can learn, are these: Samuel Smith was angling for trout in Holmden Creek, and discovered the body a little distance from him. After obtaining assistance the remains were taken out of the water; and an investigation was held by Constable Austin. It was decided that the child was an abortion, and Miss Annie, who has been living with Mrs. Hicks was arrested as the guilty person.

What the developments are we have not yet learned, but further examination will, no doubt, throw some light on the subject.

A DEAD BEAT.—We heartily endorse the following from the Titusville Herald of this morning: Mr. E. Eddy left town last night, accompanied with the best wishes of our citizens at large. Mr. Eddy came here heralded with big New York reputation, and we are sorry that he has had to shoulder the sins of John G. Magle, the defunct proprietor of the theatre. Meanwhile Mr. Eddy has liquidated the debts of the "no name" theatre, having to draw on New York for the same. The next time that he appears here we trust that it will be upon his own responsibility.

The Greensburg Argus says: A sad occurrence took place in Irwington, on Tuesday, by which a young girl twelve years of age met a horrible and untimely death. It seems that her father, Jacob Bolin, a miser, purchased a jug of whisky on Saturday evening previous and took it home with him. During his absence, on Monday, the girl drank of the poison to such an extent that she fell into a stupor and never again awoke in this world. Her mother was also absent at the time, on a visit to McKeesport.

Christian Seafort, who jumped from the Pittsburgh and Erie cars a few evenings since, near Youngsville, while asleep and dreaming, has since died. He leaves a wife and several small children in Warren.

The President repudiates any "honorable intentions" in regard to Cuba. There is nothing likely to occur, he says, respecting the Cuban question that will disturb the peaceful relations which exist between this Government and Spain. The duty of the administration concerning this subject is to observe a strict neutrality between the Spanish authorities and the insurgents. The administration would not if it could restrain the sympathies of our people in behalf of the struggling insurgents against the Spanish rule. The "war-like preparations" going on mean nothing aggressive; they are simply the precautions which the situation compels us to take. All of which amounts to this—We know our rights, and knowing, dare maintain.

SALT YOUR CHIMNEYS.—In building a chimney, put a quantity of salt into the mortar with which the intercourses of brick are to be laid. The effect will be that there never will be any accumulation of soot in the chimney. The philosophy is thus stated: The salt in the portion of mortar which is exposed absorbs moisture from the atmosphere every damp day. The soot thus becoming damp falls down into the fire-place. This appears to be an English discovery. It is used with success in Canada.
