The sales of wool in Philadelphia last week have been immense, reaching nearly two million dollars, of which amount one house sold over half a million dollars.

Mr. Asa Sacke is the richest man in the State of Pennsylvania. The Philadelphia Telegraph says that his fortune is between fifteen and twenty millions of dollars.

A daily newspaper man who has just got out of the traces, says he is becoming quite well acquainted with his family. He discovered to his surprise that his daughter could wash the dishes, cook a meal and play the piano. He never had time to learn these facts before.

Messrs. Bannan & Ramsey, proprietors of the Pottsville Miner's Journal, one of the largest and best weeklies in the State, announce in their last issue the publishing of a daily journal in a few weeks. It is to be a two cent morning daily.

A. H. Lee, who leaped into fame by drawing Crosby's Opera House in 1867, contrary to the expectation of 200,000 ticket holders, died suddenly at Cincinnati on the 23d. Mr. L. had just completed a fine house, into which he was about to move, at Parle du Rocher, Randolph county, Illinois.

THE LATE DR. FOWLER.—The Sharon, [Wis.] Mirror, of the 9th instant, contains a series of resolutions adopted by Sharon Lodge of F. & A. M., respecting the death of the late Dr. Fowler, who was killed by the explosion of a torpedo in the oil region. Dr. Fowler formerly lived in this city where he had many friends.—Buffalo Express.

NEW COUNTERFEIT.—The Philadelphia Ledger, of Saturday, says: A well-executed counterfeit twenty dollar note, copied after the Treasury issue, has just been put in circulation in Philadelphia, and a number of them taken by shopkeepers and others. A large number of counterfeits of the various denominations of fractional currency, are in circulation, passing, some of them, from hand to hand, daily. So far as is known, the Treasury Department has no detective force in this city, to look after counterfeiters, and the circulation of counterfeit money. At no time in the last eight or ten years, has there been a greater necessity for a police for that special service than now.

In one of her addresses, Miss Susan B. Anthony says she does not wish to be called Susan Anthony, nor Susan Anthony, but desires the middle appellative used in every reference to her. This is very proper, in view of the fact that all the males in the world have concluded to let Susan B. Anthony.—Syracuse Journal.

A Project on Foot for a Plank Road Between Oil City and Petroleum Centre.

By a special act of the Legislature, passed last winter, Wm. W. Williams, L. M. Sowers, J. P. Barr, A. M. Beatty and Ed. Bishop, were appointed Commissioners to take steps toward building a plank road between this place and Oil City. Before the act was passed the matter had been pretty thoroughly talked up by parties living along the line of the proposed road, and it is generally believed that should such a corporation be formed, the project would prove beneficial in more ways than one. At this end of the route we cannot boast of a good road leading out of the Centre, and oil operators, also coal dealers, would find it greatly to their convenience, to say nothing of the patronage the road would receive from pleasure seekers. Such a route would be patronized by the people from all sections of this region, as the drive would be the most pleasant in this section of the State.

The Commissioners will soon open the books to receive stock, and all feel confident that the investment will be a paying one. It will cost about $30,000 to build the road, as several bridges will have to be erected over the creek. We hope the movement will be successful.

THE THEATRE.—A fine audience assembled at Akin's Hall last evening, on the occasion of Rainey's benefit. Owing to considerable indisposition on the part of Little Nellie, she did not make her usual favorable appearance, but under the circumstances did herself great credit. "T. T." was in his element, and of course brought down the house. The entire troupe acquitted themselves creditably.

The four ordinary secrets of health are early rising, exercise, personal cleanliness, and rising from the table with the stomach unoppressed. There might be sorrows in despite of those, but they will be less with them, and nobody can be truly comfortable without them.

THE BILL for the punishment of seduction, recently before the Canadian Parliament, provides that the seduction under promise of marriage of a chaste, unmarried woman shall be punished by imprisonment for two years, but no conviction shall be had in any case, "on the testimony of the woman seduced, unsupported by other evidence, nor unless the indictment is found within two years after the offence." The object of refusing to receive the woman's testimony as conclusive is to prevent the innumerable cases of prosecution, by designing women, for sinister and mercenary purposes.

Don't fool your money away buying a bottle of bitters, but if you will drink, buy a bottle of Sunday Comfort at GATNEY'S.

A correspondent of the St. Louis Republican furnishes the following recipe: A weak eye made from good wood ashes, about as strong as common tea, put in bottle. Drink after each meal about half a wine glass of water, which I guarantee will be a complete preventive against cholera, cholera morbus or dysentery. This can be given to an infant without injury.

For family use, there is nothing as good as Canadaigua, which can be had only at GATNEY'S.

How to Keep Cool.—The following simple hints, from the Scientific American are useful to remember during warm weather of the present season: Be sparing in your diet, which should consist principally of fruits, berries and vegetables. Avoid everything of a greasy nature; also spices, condiments and sweets. Drink nothing but water. Chew nothing but food, and chew that well, but do not chew too much of it. Excess in eating is one of the principal causes of that lazy, listless, relaxing feeling experienced by so many persons in hot weather. Dress lightly and change often. Wear nothing at night, which is worn during the day. Bathe the body every morning with cool or cold water. Keep a clean conscience as well as a clean body and clean clothing and don't get excited. If uncomfortably warm at any time, immerse the hands, or feet, or both, in cold water for a short time, or let a stream of cold water run upon the wrists and ankles. This will cool the whole body in a short time.

A Modest Youth.—A young lady, with mind intent on shopping, entered a store in New Hamburg, N. Y., some time since, and addressing a fresh-looking, rosy-cheeked youth, desired if he had any nice silk hose. "Certainly, miss," replied he, and immediately the counter was strewn with the delicate articles. After selecting a pair, she looked up very innocently and inquired—

"How high do they come, sir?"

The clerk blushed, and turned all sorts of colors, but spoke not a word. She gave him a look of surprise, and repeated her question. Again the youth stammered, and said—

Really, miss, I—that is to say, I think—I could not be positive, but my impression is that they come just above the knee."

Just after midnight on Saturday a young man named Mathew Collins was stabbed to the heart on the street, in Cincinnati, and was killed. He was in company on a spree, and had just left a saloon. Two men were fighting; a third party interfered, whom Collins struck, and some one then stabbed him to the heart. He died in twenty minutes. The Coroner held an inquest, at which two witnesses swore that Thomas Kinney did the stabbing. He had fled. He is about twenty-one, small, slender, and clad in dark clothing.

It is said the Trustees of old Trinity would compromise with the heirs of Anacle Jans, if it were not for the melancholy fact that, there being so many of them, a postage stamp to each would swallow up the whole estate! A receiver will be appointed to take charge of the property of Trinity during the pending of the suit of the heirs. He will have to provide a very commodious receptacle for the money of old Trinity, but we fear his religion would be almost lost in his vest pocket. The property in dispute is valued at about sixty million dollars.

A fellow giving his name as professor Warner visited Harrisburg and obtained money from a number of business men to pay him for a balloon ascension, in which his wife and two children were to accompany him. On Monday Market Square was crowded with anxious people to witness the ascension, but no Professor Warner appeared, and the matter was voted a sell.

These soaps are impregnated with extracts of the mildest and most balsamic nature, and are warranted perfectly innocent and free from mineral and other pernicious adulterations, and are selected by the ladies and the public in general. In preference to all other soaps, as the great producers and preservers of a healthy purity of complexion, and a conservator of female beauty. For the softness and delicacy which they induce to the hands and face, their capability of soothing irritation and removing blemishes, eruptions, render them indispensable to every toilet. We kindly ask the public to try the virtues of these soaps. J. L. H. & Co., Proprietors.
