The Pennsylvania Central has advanced the tariff of its local fares twenty per cent. on some portions of the road. This is attributed to the great reduction in through fare east to compete with other roads.

Kate Field, while among the Adirondacks, shot a deer at a distance of nine rods. The head of the animal has been taken to Boston, and will be preserved as a trophy. The tail—well, the tail ends right here.

Wilkesbarre, Pa., has a school in which woman's work and housekeeping are taught.—Exchange.

They are taught all over the country—but not learned. There's the trouble.

The Corning Journal says a Lockport chap advertises for "an equal partner in the milk business." "People don't know whether he wants a pump or a wife.

A young woman went to a temperance lecture at Brooklyn, the other evening, and eloped with her escort at the close.—Exchange.

Her parents were probably in favor of "prohibition." She was in favor of "license."

On Wednesday the Virginia Legislature adjourned to meet the second Tuesday after Congress shall have admitted the State into the Union.

THE BROWN HORSE.—We are requested to state that parties holding chances in J. M. Woods' brown horse, which is to be raffled for to-morrow afternoon at Cortelyou & Voucher's saloon, are requested to be on hand promptly at two o'clock.

NANKEN PARTS AND STRAW HATS.—There is no longer any need for the most poverty-stricken to go thinly clad, for they can find ample accommodations at the Jamestown Clothing store. A splendid assortment of Fall and Winter Clothing has been received at this establishment.

"THE WOMEN OF NEW YORK."—This is the title of a new and popular work which is meeting with an extensive sale everywhere. Mike Buckley has received the agency for this work in this place, and will commence canvassing in a day or two.

SIMMONS' DRUG STORE.—A large supply of fresh drugs, paper hangings, and all articles usually kept in a drug store, have just been received at the drug store of Mr. S. Simmons. This stock is comprised of the very best of everything, and the public are invited to call. Mr. Simmons has just returned from New York, where he spent several days in making purchases.

THE OFFICIAL VOTE OF VENANGO COUNTY.—We have received the official vote of this county on the State and county ticket: Geary's majority is 266; Williams' majority, 347; Harrison Allen, for Senator, has a majority of 15. Grant's majority over Keenan, for Treasurer, 301; Crawford over Donaghy, for Prothonotary, 178.

THE FIRST OF THE SEASON.—We notice in front of the Petroleum Exchange Restaurant to-day, some of the finest specimens of venison that we have ever seen. What we saw is not only a "specimen," but includes a sufficiency for a multitude of people, all of whom may leave their orders, and have as fine a piece of venison steak set before them as it was ever their good fortune to taste of, savored as is every dish gotten up at this place, with every accompanying flavor. Its huge, delicious, beautiful Messrs. Southerland & Taylor have also on hand a fresh supply of wild game, quail, squirrel, duck and splendid turtle steak. The proprietors are alive to the wants of their customers.

YOUNG MEN'S FASHIONS.—The New York correspondent of the Philadelphia Telegraph, writes: Some sweet fashions for young men are out. One of these is the low-necked shirt, so low, indeed, that the shoulder blades are all but visible, and the Adam's apple is fully revealed, nestling in virgin purity amid a nook of linen. The masculine throat has been too long concealed, and, among expressions of feminine admiration, we may expect this autumn to bear in addition to "What handsome teeth Mr. So-and-so has got," the corresponding remark, "Yes, my dear, and what a delicious neck!" Shirt fronts, too, are elaborately embroidered, and lined with rose colored silk. A jeweler's masculine bracelets, inscribed with memorial names and dates, are displayed, and even handkerchiefs for full dress occasions. Add to these the Fra Diavolo hat, with peacock's plume, checked vest patterns of all possible shades in combination, and patterns for trousers, consisting of small squares rainbow in hue, underlying larger ones. Add to these again buttons of pearl, amethyst, and carbuncle, and it will easily be understood that the male belle is just as "finicky" as the female one about personal adornment. I say nothing of masculine powders and cosmetics, because this is a theme of which nothing is supposed to be known; but I simply put the question whether the creature who sports bracelets, and wears a low-necked shirt for the purpose of displaying a snowy bosom, that is throat, is not equally susceptible to the blandishments dormant in rouge vinegre and oxide of bismuth.

NEW BILLIARD HALL.—Messrs. Bradstreet & Sherwood, proprietors of the Rochester House, have purchased the billiard tables in the room formerly occupied by A. O. Farnham, and have been at work for some days past refitting and arranging the room preparatory to opening a first class billiard parlor. The room will be open to-morrow to the public.

A Beautiful Monument.

We had the pleasure of visiting Glenwood Cemetery, in the city of Lockport, a short time ago, and while there noticed among the many fine monuments which have been erected since the new enclosure was dedicated, one, which for magnitude, both in height, breadth and massive proportions, stands pre-eminent, and is the richest and most elegant of all. The base is of Lockport Limestone; it is accurately chiseled, and weighs eleven tons. The column, rising above, is nearly square, with tasteful ornaments of various designs. It is of American-Italian marble, and has a beauty of proportion and gradation of shades which we have never seen surpassed. The summit is surmounted with marble, foliated in the form of a cross. The monument is 35 feet high, and stands near that of the late Governor Hunt. The plot contains 6,600 feet, superficial measure, with handsome grading and walks of pleasant curve. At each of the four corners are hewn stone posts bearing the name of "Hodge," the man whose enterprise and wealth caused the erection of this appropriate family monument. The entire cost of the plot of ground and monument borders upon six thousand dollars. Mr. John Hodge, whose name we have mentioned in this article, is the same one who is so widely known throughout the country as the Secretary of the Gargling Oil Company. Snyder & Holly, of Lockport, are the builders of the monument.—Rochester Express.

The above we copy out of compliment to John Hodge, Secretary of Merchants Gargling Oil Company, at Lockport, N. Y. The monument is erected in memory of his deceased wife and father-in-law, showing an affection for the dead which is not to be obliterated even by the constant care of a large business. Mr. H. is but a young man, and prosperity in the future as well as in the past will be with him, or ought to be, for he is truly deserving.

OIL FIRE ON BULL RUN.—About five o'clock last evening a crude oil tank at Straight's refinery, Bull Run, containing one hundred and seventy-five barrels of oil, caught fire from sparks from the furnace of the refinery and exploded. The oil ignited instantaneously, and burned furiously for two hours. About twenty-five barrels of the oil was run under a dam and afterward dipped up. The loss will not fall short of $900.—Herald.

Mrs. Porter, the newly appointed postmistress at Louisville, was to assume control on Monday, but, owing to illness, was unable to do so. Mr. Speed retired on Saturday, and things were somewhat unsettled in postal affairs. Tuley, the old assistant, still holds on. He refused to pay money orders on Monday, not knowing the name to sign, and so things stand at present.

Alexander T. Stewart, as a beginning of his Hempstead Plains improvement for the benefit of the working men of New York, has contracted for five hundred miles of streets and roadways, and the construction of five hundred dwelling houses.

While Mr. Alvin Bradley, of Sheffield, Mass., was sawing in his mill recently, and while the saw was going at the rate of 160 per minute, a squirrel ran into the mill, upon the log, and up the saw teeth without injury.

Afternoon Dispatches.

Toronto, Oct. 22.

All of the Toronto field battery have been engaged in packing up their kits and necessities for a start if required, and they can be on the road fully equipped, guns and all, in two hours. Fifty kegs of gunpowder have been sent by express to Goderich. All the arms and guns stored at Kingston at the time of the last Fenian raid are now being distributed.

The gunboats Rescue and Prince Alfred, fully armed and manned, are here ready for sea. The former is at Kingston, on the St. Lawrence, and the latter at Goderich, on Lake Huron, under orders to sail Wednesday morning.

The troops here are notified to be in readiness and can move in a couple of hours' notice.

WILLIAMSPORT, Oct. 21.

In the race to-day the heat adjourned yesterday was won by Lizzie Keller in 2:38. The race for $500, open to all horses which have never beaten four minutes, was won by Fanny Fern in three straight heats. Time 2:31, 2:41 1-4, 2:41 1-2, beating Twilight, Quaker Girl and Rachel, Onward, Belle, No Name, Norwood and Mack were distanced in the first and Jeff Davis in the last heat. The third race was for $1,500, open to horses which have never beaten 2:42. No Name, Anthracite and Tom Keller each won a heat, when the conclusion of the race was postponed until to-morrow. In the 2-27 race, for $5,000, Idol won two heats when the race was adjourned.

A Saturday night special from Nashville says: "Andrew Johnson did not go to Franklin to-day, after all, and the knowing ones have it that he was to busy electioneering in Nashville to risk going out of town. He was on the street and around the hotels, during the day, and the general report is that he was working briskly for the main chance. The opposition are straining every nerve to beat him, and ever and anon the rumor gets out that Andy can not possibly be elected. Johnson's friends, however, are confident, and thus the matter rests."

Since the organization of the order of Odd Fellows in this country, in 1830, up to and including 1869, the amount of revenue received by the order has been $31,324,014.43. The receipts from 1860 to 1869 amounted to $13,111,133—an increase over the preceding ten years of but $150,000. The amount of relief afforded, as appears by the records of the order, from 1830 to 1869, was $14,775,030.42; and the number of members initiated 660,259. The ten years between and including 1850 and 1859 were the most prosperous the order has ever known in this country.

The National Capital Convention, soon to be held at St. Louis, will be made up of gubernatorially appointed delegates from Illinois, Iowa, Kansas, Nevada, Oregon, Missouri, Tennessee, Arkansas, Louisiana, Mississippi, and Nebraska. There will also be district delegates from portions of Indiana, and, possibly, a few of the other States. The voice which the convention utters, however, will hardly claim to be "the voice of the nation."

The will of Madam Jumel, who married Aaron Burr in his old age, is up before the New York Supreme Court, on a report of the testimony which the Commissioner has been two years taking. The property left by Madame Jumel is estimated at $1,500,000, of which a Mr. Chase, one of her relatives, is now in full enjoyment. One Champlain Bowen claims to be a cousin of the lady, and demands a share of the property. His right depends on establishing the legitimacy of the testatrix.

The Herald states there are rumors in Washington of a decided Senatorial opposition to confirming Robeson as Secretary of the Navy. It is held that Pennsylvania deserves a place in the Cabinet, and New Jersey does not. Senator Drake, of Missouri, who aspires to the Chairmanship of the Committee on Naval Affairs, is personally opposed to Porter, and as a consequence to Robeson.

A cautious itemizer tells what is the matter with a noted lady in the following terms: "The Princess de Metternich is to retire from society for a little while, and is buying lots of edgings, muslins, and so on, which she is making up into little garments too large for a doll and too small for herself."

Agatha States, the prima donna, has obtained an injunction against the bold sailor, her husband, restraining him from following her into the New York Academy of Music and therein beating her. The court rules that it is a States' right to be "let alone."
