J. STAMBAUGH Dec 11

A boy in San Francisco recently sat down on a leaky can of nitro-glycerine, contrary to his mothers express orders. The boy placed the youngster on her knee for the purpose of spanking him, but at the first blow a frightful explosion took place, whereby the woman, her ill-fated son and her house were shattered to atoms.

Relics of the rebellion have arrived in Fall River, Mass. Several rifled cannon, formerly on the rebel ram Tennessee, captured by Farragut at Mobile, were received on Thursday on their way to the Bridgewater Iron Works. These guns have been lying in the Brooklyn Navy Yard since the close of the war, and will now be broken up and used for old iron.

The heirs of an eccentric old maiden lady of Medford, Mass., were so curious as to her possessions that the day before the funeral they resolved themselves into an investigating committee and rummaged the premises for treasure. Seven hundred dollars in silver coin and two hundred dollars in bills were among the spoils, while an old armchair sat in by General Washington while drinking from the famous punch bowl now in possession of a Mr. Bradlee, of Boston, was a relic for which there was lively competition.

The English sparrows have migrated from Philadelphia—the place was too rural for them.
