Gold closed to-day at 111 1/4.

We publish to-day an able editorial copied from the Buffalo Express, in regard to the sale of cadetships, and more particularly the part taken by Mr. Pettis. It appears to us that the evidence of a deeply laid plot to destroy the reputation of Mr. Pettis is becoming more apparent every day.

Albert von Bordenburg and Gottlieb Bohner, alias Charley Moore, were hanged at Huntington, yesterday, for the murder of the Peightal family on the 17th of November last. Bohner made a statement, and Bordenburg persisted that he was innocent of the crime up to the last moment. The execution was witnessed by a vast crowd of people.

St. Patrick's Day, March 17th, is to be celebrated in grand style by the Irishmen of Titusville. The programme is to consist of a procession, speeches, music, &c. There will be a solemn high mass at 10 a. m.—Our townsman, Rev. James Dunn, is to deliver a sermon. Father Dunn is a zealous advocate of oppressed Ireland, and his sermon will no doubt prove of great interest. The Irishmen of the oil regions should turn out en masse at Titusville, on the 17th, and show their devotion to the mother country, and the "shamrock and thistle so green."

The monthly petroleum report of the Titusville Herald appeared this morning. The daily average production, as shown by shipments and stocks, was 11,917 barrels against 12,634 in January, or a decrease of about 717 barrels daily. According to the report there has been a general falling off in the production of nearly all the oil districts since the last report.

New derricks continue to be put up on the McCray farm.

Weather variable. Snow this morning; sunshine this noon; chance of rain this afternoon.

The production of the Parkers Landing oil field is estimated at 2,200 barrels per day. There are over 200 new wells going down. New wells are struck almost daily.

In the suit of the Roberts Torpedo Co. vs Dickey and others, trading as the Giant Torpedo company, injunctions have been granted by the U. S. District Court, Judge McCandless presiding. The young men of Pleasantville are about to start a series of prayer and conference meetings. Wonder if the editor of the Gas Light will join. It might make a better man of him. The London Times denounces the Captain of the steamer Bombay for proceeding, after the collision with the Onida, without positively ascertaining the damage that had been sustained by the latter. The next reunion of the Fifty-seventh Pennsylvania regiment will be held in Titusville, April 11, 1871. The business on the Cross Cut Railroad is increasing rapidly. Cars will soon commence running from Buffalo to Pittsburg via Cross Cut without change at Brocton.

The Wallace Sisters commence a weeks engagement on Monday evening next, at Sobel's Opera House. The following article is from the Watkins Democrat:

The Wallace Sisters are four in number, and a more bewitching quadruplicate of Beauty, Grace, Versatility and general artistic finish, is not to be found. The first representation submitted by these charming sisters, was on Thursday evening, when the Burlesque of "The Grand Duchess" was given. Miss Agnes appeared as the royal, erratic lady, and right royally did she wear her hereditary honors. Her Royal suite, Prince Paul, was most ably enacted by her equally talented sister, Miss Jennie, who in the picturesque costume of the period,—which period we should take to be that of England's second George,—looked a perfect, pretty, wicked Don Juan. Mr. S. B. Fritz did the best he could with a part not at all commensurate with his ability. Friday evening the sisters, with Mr. Villa and his company, which, by the way, is in every respect a good one, appeared in the new London Comedy of Caste, in which the Misses Agnes and Jennie again distinguished themselves, and added other leaves to the laurel wreath of victory with which their brows are so deservedly graced. Saturday evening saw the last of these ladies for the present, when the Burlesque of "Clorinda, the Girl of the Period," was played. In this piece, Mr. S. B. Villa, as the girl of the period, was the center of attraction. "Made up" as a blonde, with a profusion of golden ringlets and dressed in the height of feminine fashion, be, with swan-like movement, floated about the stage like a veritable daughter of the lady who first perloined the apple.— And to give additional aid to the deception, Mr. Villa played the part and sang the music in a high falsetto key. Apart from the performances of the Misses Jennie and Agnes, are the distinctive specialties of the two younger sisters, the Misses Maudie and Maud, who, although little more than infants, yet are capable of things that many of riper years would shrink from attempting. As Vocalists and Dancers, they are inimitable. And, judging from the smiles that lit up their childish features, they enjoyed themselves amazingly. These "Mites" seemed to be gifted beyond their years.— They exhibit an earnestness of manner, and a devotion to their art, worthy of older and wiser heads.

The Wallace Sisters are now playing to crowded houses in Rouseville. Secured seats can be obtained at the H tel.

WEST VIRGINIA OIL AND COAL ITEMS.—The Clarkburg Telegraph says that when the oil well at the mouth of Elk creek was being bored, a vein of bituminous coal seventeen feet in thickness was encountered by the operators at the depth of five hundred and ten feet. The extent of this vein is not known, of course, but it is fair to presume that it extends under the greater part of the ground upon which the town now stands. It is certainly an immense deposit, and to future generations will prove of great value. Burning Springs, Wirt County, sent three thousand barrels of oil to Parkersburg on the late rise in the Little Kanawha. The Kanawha and Ohio Coal Company of Coalburg, Kanawha county, shipped 98,370 bushels of coal during the month of February.

Some poetaster sings the Charge of the Blonde Brigade on Storey in the following flowing style: "Forward, the Blonde Brigade," Was there a girl dismayed, Even though her dearest braid Dangled disordered? Theirs not to make reply, Theirs not to reason why, Theirs but to whip and dye! Thus down the avenue Rode the six forward.

Rawhides to the right of them, Canes to the left of them Pistois in front of them, Battled and thundered. Stormed at with oaths from hell, Boldly they whacked, and well, Soundly they tanned his hide— Grandly his wrath defied— Ah, 'twas a tiling of pride When there the Blonde dared.

We understand that the Woman's Rights question is looming up before the people of Kane City. It is said that a mass meeting favoring the movement is soon to be held there. The good women of Kane City should have their rights by all means, but generally speaking

The rights of Woman who demand, Those women are but few; The greater part had rather stand Exactly as they do. Beauty has claims, for which she fights At ease, with winking arms; The women who want Woman's rights, Want, mostly, Woman's charms.

The Scientific Bohemian Troupe of Fancy Glass Blowers will give one enterainment at Sobel's Opera House, on Friday afternoon and evening, March 11th. The celebrated Glass Steam Engine Monitor, made of 5,000 pieces of glass, will be on exhibition. Don't fail to attend.

The streets are muddy. Our merchants are commencing to get in their spring goods.

THE SALE OF CADETSHIPS.

From the Buffalo Express.

When the first revelations were made in connection with the sale of cadetships by members of Congress we remarked that the case of Hon. S. Newton Pettis, who represented the Twentieth Pennsylvania District in the last Congress, looked like a manufactured one. From the testimony given before the Military Committee it was made to appear that a Mr. Bishop, of Titusville, paid eight hundred dollars, in consideration of which his son received an appointment to West Point, through the recommendation of Mr. Pettis. It was observable at once that no evidence was produced showing that the money was paid to Mr. Pettis, but it was alleged to have been paid to Major Derickson, and by him applied to the payment of a note bearing Mr. Pettis' endorsement. It appears from facts which have come to light since the first expose that Major Derickson had a nephew who was an applicant for the cadetship; that the Major was a personal friend and warm adherent of Mr. Pettis, and expected to obtain the recommendation for his nephew. Also that Mr. Bishop had offered to pay liberally for the appointment of his son. An arrangement was finally made without any communication with Mr. Pettis on the subject, that Major Derickson should withdraw the claims of his nephew in favor of Mr. Bishop's son, and that the latter should pay certain election expenses to the amount of eight hundred dollars.— Major Derickson waited on Mr. Pettis and asked for the nomination of Mr. Bishop's son instead of his own nephew to the cadetship. This request was afterwards acceded to; young Bishop appointed and the stipulated sum paid over by Mr. Bishop to Major Derickson. The transaction was generally known in its locality at the time and no exceptions were taken to it.

Mr. Pettis is not a member of the present congress, although he received the unanimous vote of Crawford County in the primary election of 1868, but was defeated in the nominating convention, and a candidate put forward who had not received a single popular vote. Political and personal malignity seems to supply the animus of the present agitation of the matter. If there had been any wrong in the transaction, the case had passed beyond the reach of the present Congress, and it was evidently brought before the committee for the purpose of killing off Mr. Pettis in the approaching Congressional campaign.
