The heavy rains of a day or two past has caused the creek to raise almost to overflowing its banks. No particular damage was done.

The up-creek train this forenoon was delayed two hours by a land slide at some point above Oil City.

The weather is most miserable to-day.—A mixture of rain, snow, hail, sleet, intermixed with a plentiful quantity of mud.

Everything passed off quietly Saturday night. Two more watchmen were on duty, which caused the roughs to "lay low."—Our advice to them would be to "skedaddle" at once, as trouble is brewing and they will discover that no boy's play is meant.

From the publishers we have received No. 2 of "The Technologist," a magazine devoted to Engineering, Manufacturing and Building. This valuable magazine should be in the hands of every mechanic and builder in the country. The illustrations and articles are all original, and prepared expressly for this magazine. The subscription price is $2 per annum; single copies 20 cents. Letters should be addressed to "The Industrial Publication Company, No. 176 Broadway, New York.

The worst day yet for local items.

General Daniel Pratt, the Great American Traveler and perpetual candidate for the Presidency, delivered an address in Philadelphia on the 23d inst. Should the General come this way City Fathers Malloy, Graham, bill-poster Taylor and Professors Anderson and Green, would no doubt tender the distinguished editor of the Boston Gridiron a public reception. The tinpanians would also be present.

Mr. Edward Fox is about to commence a new well on his lease of the Central Petroleum Co.'s farm.

TO THE CITIZENS OF PETROLEUM CENTRE.—The impression having gone forth that I intend to leave town and resign my position as night watchman after the 1st of May, I take this method of informing the citizens of Petroleum Centre that it is my intention to remain in town and act in the capacity of night watchman until dismissed by the citizens. PETER KINNEY.

It begins to look now as if the transporta of oil from Pittsburg to the seaboard is to be taken from the Pennsylvania Central R. R. and given to the Baltimore and Ohio Company, the latter road having offered to carry it much cheaper than the former. If this project is carried into effect it will take trade from Philadelphia to Baltimore; and the only thing that will prevent this is a material reduction in freight by the Pennsylvania Central, and that, too, without delay. The feeling at Pittsburg among oil men is bitter against the Pennsylvania Central.—Cleveland Herald.

Developing is to be pushed rapidly ahead on all the surrounding territory as soon as the weather will permit.

A curious case is on trial at Cincinnati, the parties to which reside in Miami Township, near North Bend. Sarah Pierson seeks to recover $1,000 from Mathias Blank and Eliza McDonald for the loss of time and service of her husband, Charles D. Pierson, and for labor expended upon him for six months succeeding the 14th of March, 1869. She alleges that on the day in question the defendant McDonald sold her husband five drinks of intoxicating liquor, and that the defendant Blake sold him three drinks, and that he became unable to control himself, fell and broke his legs. The defendant, deny all liability on their part. During the examination, a Mr. Balsley, who testified in relation to the condition of Pierson when he called at his house on that evening, was asked if Pierson had not drank some of the witness's patent cider, and replied that he had not; the witness added that that article was not intoxicating, and he was not manufacturing at that time. This brought up an inquiry in relation to the components of the patented article, and the witness was asked to state of what they consisted. He responded: "Well, sir, if you want to know the whole, there are there or four pounds of brown sugar to one pint of molasses, one ounce and a half of tartaric acid, and the balance of water. I paid for that receipt, sir, but you have got it for nothing." Great laughter succeeded this description of the new method of making cider without apples.

Petroleum Items from all Sources. A new well was struck Friday upon the C. Persons tract, near Shamburg, which is reported as doing fully 75 barrels per day. It is known as the "Jinnis well," the working interest being owned by W. J. Innies, of Pioneer.

A new well completed upon the Emery Bros. & Colwell tract, Friday, is doing about 75 barrels per day, though some estimate is doing over 100 barrels daily.

Three fine wells have just been completed upon the Chicago tract, or King farm.—These are owned by the Chicago Petroleum Company, of which Judge Guthrie is the representative. One of the new strikes is reported pumping 60 barrels per day.

Three barks and two schooners sailed from Philadelphia, during the past week, carrying 205,093 gallons of petroleum to foreign ports. Three ships, five barks and two brigs are now loading. Since the first of January 5,627,249 gallons have been exported.

Wm. Dirling, of Oil City, was yesterday brought before Alderman Donaldson on a charge of larceny, preferred by Wm. P. Laughrey. From the testimony it appears that Dirling was employed by Laughrey to drive a team from Oil City to some place in Indiana county. He was necessarily absent from Oil City for three or four days at a time. He had been driving the team during the winter, but about the 7th of the present month he disappeared and no traces could be obtained of his whereabouts. It was found that he had sold the horses and wagon to some man in Indiana county and immediately took his departure for the West. Constable Sarber yesterday arrested Dirling in this city, and after a hearing he was committed to the lock-up and will be taken to Indiana county, where an information for larceny has been made against him before Justice Johns.—Pittsburg Commercial Saturday.

Seven merchants, all doing business on the same street in Halifax, were lost in the steamer City of Boston. They had gone out to purchase their spring supply of goods and will never more return. This is a sad affliction, indeed.

The Fort Scott (Kansas) Monitor estimates that immigrants at the rate of a thousand a day will find their way to Kansas during the next three months. But will they stay there or proceed where the "metal is more attractive"—to the gold and silver regions in the Rocky Mountains?

A Chicago gambler has invented a new "tool." It consists of a small mirror set in a finger-ring, which, put on the little finger of the right hand, enables the dealer to see every card given to his opponent.

The steamer Dolphin, from Philadelphia for Richmond, was burned to the water's edge Tuesday, at Patuxent, Maryland.—The crew barely escaped with their lives. The fire was supposed to have been accidental.

The Mayor of Terre Haute, Ind., was arrested the other day for "cousin and dammit" in his office, and the Chief of Police of the same town was apprehended for provoking an assault. Nice State, Indiana.

The scenery in Texas is fine. A letter from Beville to the Corpus Christi Advertiser says that in a twenty miles ride from P. palote to Beville three corpses dangled from one limb of a tree. Such ornaments add to the picturesque character of the landscape, and give it a cheerful variety.

Talking of Fisk, Jr., the Tribune says: The world is never angry long with a singer who makes it laugh. So when Mr. Fisk treats the theft of a railroad as a huge joke, and entertains the Supreme Court with speculations upon the moral and financial effect of shoe-buckles like Commodore Vanderbilt's; when he stigmatized Daniel Drew as a batter pudding, and describes the Erie directory as a nest of robbers; especially when he expresses his own horror at the nefarious scheme into which he was badgered by Vanderplitt and cajoled by the tearful Drew—all New York is amused, and begins to soften the language in which it has been wont to speak of this great railway comedian. Yesterday perhaps he was a swindler and a ruffian; to-day he is only a sad rogue; to-morrow he will be 'that funny Fisk.' And all because he makes jokes in such unexpected times and places.

A prisoner in a Detroit court, when asked where he lived replied: "Live! Live! I live in the regions of eternal bliss. I own a farm of a thousand acres there. I plough my land with angels, and raise cabbages, cabbages, cabbages, beets, beets, beets.—You're a cabbage—you're a beet—you're an angel—you're a horse—you're a horse—you're an ass—an ass—an ass! Whoop!" "Is your father living?" "I'm my own father. I'm the father of all nations." "Have you got any mother?" "Yes, young man. Yes, young man; lots of 'em; ten of 'em.—You look as though you needed a mother. You want nursing; you ain't healthy. My mother shall be your mother, all of 'em—I'll be your father. Child of mortality, embrace your heavenly father." He proved to be an escaped lunatic.

Reading, a suburb of Perkopolis, was excited on Friday, upon the discovery that a clandestine marriage had been effected the night previous between Mr. Frank Clements and one Miss Roberts, aged seventeen, contrary to the wish of the lady's maternal relative. The mother was lured from her pleasant residence, by the information that one of her neighbors was in the last stage of dissolution, which, however, was a ruse. During her absence the blooming sweet seventeen was captured, not against her will, however.

The Reese River (Nevada) Reveille has had evidence that there are yet some things new under the sun, even in the experience of a live yankee. It narrates the manner in which a couple of squaws managed to play a comfortable game of euchre at the corner of the street. Squatting in the dust, one of them took her baby, which was fastened in a framework, from her back, and stretching it upon the pavement, face upwards, she and her companion proceeded to play their cards upon the belly, which they used as a table.

The last Army and Navy Gazette of the United Kingdom declares that it was entirely unprepared for the exhibit of our navy, as set forth in the Secretary's annual report and confesses to rise from its perusal with feelings not only of contentment, but of delightful satisfaction and rejoicing that our "navy, commerce and flag are rapidly disappearing from the ocean."

The Southern States are beginning to cultivate China grass to be used as a substitute for silk. A machine and process for its preparation have already been patented. The Louisiana planters have raised the most of this grass, but they sell it in London, where it is worked into what are called Japanese silks.

NOTICE. All persons having received a notice from this office to make return of their income for 1869, and failing to do so by the thirty-first day of March 1870, will be assessed as prescribed by law, and in order to get exonerated from said assessment must attend the appeals, which will be held at Franklin Pa. E. J. Ross Assistant Assessor. Petroleum Centre, Pa., March 28, 1870.
