PERSONAL.—Judge J. L. Connelly, of Pleasantville, was in town yesterday. The Judge was here for the purpose of soliciting aid for the M. E. Church of Pleasantville to enable them to pay off an outstanding debt. At the time the churches were built in this place, the citizens of Pleasantville, Judge C. taking the lead, with their usual liberality, "came down" handsomely in their aid. It is but fair to add that this debt was in part repaid, the Judge taking away with him, something over $300. It always gives us pleasure to record such evidences of the friendly feeling existing between the two places. May they continue to exist.

By reference to the advertisement published elsewhere, it will be seen that "The Brady's Bend Iron Company" are prepared to sell tracts of land for oil purposes in the vicinity of the flowing well on Armstrong Run. A rare chance is offered to oil men to invest. Mr. W. D. Slack of Brady's Bend, is the Superintendent of the company.

The grand entries into town of Gardner & Forepaugh's Circus and Menagerie, this forenoon, was a fine affair. The horses, trappings, vans, and in fact the whole institution appeared to be in good trim. Undoubtedly they will draw crowded houses.

The Venture well at West Hickory is said to be doing 288 barrels per day actual measurement.

The Petroleum Exchange Hotel has been reopened by that popular landlord, Ed. Sutherland. It has been thoroughly re-fitted throughout, and as heretofore under his supervision will sustain its old-time reputation. Success to it.

The oil and water pumping station, destroyed at the Cherryres oil fire, yesterday morning, was the property of the Cherryres Run Pipe Co., instead of Scott as reported.

ANOTHER NEW WELL AT WEST HICKORY.—A new well was struck on the Scott farm at West Hickory on Saturday last, which is reported as producing fully 175 barrels per day. It is about one quarter of a mile distant from the Venture well, and is owned by Neyhart & Grandin. The excitement in that vicinity is on the increase, and a "city" will probably be built during the next fortnight.—Herald.

The daily production of the Foster and Gregg farm is 62 barrels. There is only one new well drilling.

Letters are held for postage at Pittsburgh addressed to the following parties at this place: W. H. Nicholson & Bro., Griffin Bros.

New rigs continue to be put up on the Tyrrell farm, between Pitloch and Pleasantville.

An attempt was made to rob the Shamburg Postoffice on last Thursday night, but without success.

JENKINSMISM IN THE RUSH.

Toilets on the Frontier.

The local editor of a far west journal having attended a ball on the frontier, has felt moved after the manner of Jenkins, of the metropolitan press, to furnish a report of the dresses worn by some of the eminent ladies present:

Miss A. was everlastingly scrumptious in an underskirt of red calico, flounced with blue muslin, surmounted with an underskirt of lacy hooped in the rear en saddle-bow, with yellow bows. Waist a la anarogon busone de bustier. Hair in a chignon resembling half a cabbage head. Extraordinary belt.

Mrs. B. wore a skirt of home made flannel, displaying in a very beautiful manner her No. 11 moccasins. Corsage de sangano, ornamented with soldier buttons.—Hair fricase—perfume, of cinnamon drops. Exclusively highfalutin.

Madame C. a noted half-breed belle, attracted an all fixed sight of comment by appearing in a hoopskirt ornamented with fox tails, encircumbentibus. Waist of yellow flannel, slashed with straps of buffalo hide. She carried a big sunflower, and danced with great luxeness. Terrifically magnificent.

FAST TRAIN.—The Pennsylvania Central Railroad Company seems disposed to eclipse all rivals in the rapid transportation of passengers from the East to the West. They have put a fast train upon their road, which makes the distance between Philadelphia and Chicago in the extraordinary short space of time of twenty-six and a half hours. Starting from Philadelphia at half past twelve, noon, it makes no stoppage until it reaches Harrisburg, fifty-seven minutes past three p. m. Then it dashes ahead to Allentown, where it arrives at twelve minutes past eight p. m. Four hours later, twelve minutes past twelve, a. m., finds it in Pittsburgh. At three o'clock the same afternoon it is in Chicago. The first of these trains ran through on Monday of last week. One of them leaves Philadelphia and Chicago every day.

General Sherman has received a communication in the form of a petition signed by several hundred residents of Wyoming Territory, relative to the Indian difficulty and outrages in that region. They heartily approve the Indian policy pursued by the Lieutenant General, and heartily endorse the so-called "massacre of Piegan's" by Colonel Baker. They also state that the white settlers of Wyoming are constantly suffering by unprovoked depredations from Indians, and they ask that a sufficient military force, under command of Colonel Baker or some officer like him, be stationed in Wind River Valley to protect white people and punish Indians for any further atrocities which they may commit.

The Indianapolis Journal says of Gen. George H. Thomas that he was so indifferent to all the "pomp and circumstances of war" that, though made a Maj.-General on April 25th, he had no stars on his coat until after the battle of Stone River, eight months afterward, and they were put on by the strategy of his servant at the instigation of some members of the General's staff. He wore his Colonel's coat until the moment of his taking command at Mill Spring, though he had been a Brigadier General six months.

If the English authorities do not obtain permission from our government to pass steamers through the Sault Ste Marie Canal, the Red River expedition will have to make a march of five hundred miles through a desert and rocky country on the north side of Lake Superior. The steamers will bring the men to the boundary line and disembark them. The men will then march the few miles distance around the strait, and when the steamers have got through the canal and are in the British waters again, they will take them on board and proceed to Fort William on Thunder Bay, where the march to Winnipeg will begin.

DROWNED.—On Monday last, a man named John Evans, started from Parker's Landing in a small flat, containing an anchor stem and sinker bar, the flat being loaded down to within two inches of the top, and when passing over Parker Falls, the boat capsized, throwing the man in the water, and after a brief struggle he sank and was seen no more.—Oil City Times.

POSTOFFICES IN YERANGO COUNTY.—John F. Sayers has been appointed Post Master at Cass, in place of E. M. Potter, resigned.

A new office has been established at Barkleyville, Irwin township, with A. Huntsberger postmaster.

The weather is quite cool to-day, owing probably to the heavy thunder showers on all sides.

A good many strangers in town to-day.

"SHOO-FLY!"

A little green frog crept out of the mud. Where his home for the winter had been. And looking above a little brown squirrel Far up in a tree was seen.

Said the little green frog to the little brown squirrel, "Why is it! oh tell me, I pray! That you spring around in the branches green, While I am in the mud all day?"

Then the little brown squirrel looked down from his perch, In the top of the old oak tree, And he said to the little green frog in the mud:

"Shoo, fly! don't bother me."

The Detroit Free Press wants modern improvements worked into school reading book after the sort of the following examples:

"The goose is on her roost. She is a fine quadruped, and has a tenor voice. Can the goose fly far? No, neither the goose nor the rhinoceros can fly far."

"Here is the gas works. It is a high building. All our Congressmen are born here. Do congressmen ever steal? You may be sure they do."

"Here is a picture of a young widow.—See how 'saw' she looks! Her husband could not pay her dry goods bill, and so he died. Do you think she will get another man? She will try hard."

"Here is the sea side. You see that swell there drinking spring water? What is she here for? For her health.—Will she get it? Yes, if her father's money holds out, and she don't get engaged to that fellow with the paste-diamond."

"This is a picture of Horace Greeley.—What is he doing? He is mailing strawberry plants to his subscribers. They are fine plants and yield about a bushel a plant. This is his political economy."

A man named Patrick Russell was struck by lightning and instantly killed, at Corry Monday.

Joseph C. Ramsay, having been forcibly taken from the custody of a constable in Putnam County, Illinois, April 16th, by certain lawless persons, and murdered by hanging, Governor Palmer issued a proclamation Saturday, calling upon all public officers and all good citizens to exert themselves to detect and bring to justice persons concerned in said act, and offering one thousand dollars reward for the apprehension and conviction of such persons.

A crazy young man named Jess Morgan, who has been in the city hospital at St. Louis for a short time past, gouged both his eyes out with his thumb Saturday and died soon after.

This is the poetic way in which a Westfield, (Mass.) character explained how he got ill-matched with a shrew:

The children of Israel wanted bread, And the Lord sent them manna; Captain George Ace Noble wanted a wife And the devil sent him Hannab.

Some enterprising Chicago thieves stole four stoves and a piano on Thursday afternoon from a house which the tenant was removing. He left the house a few minutes unlooked, and the rascals carried off the goods in a wagon.

An infant son of Malcolm E. Evans was burned to death at Cold Springs, N.Y., Friday afternoon.

An accidental explosion of nitro-glycerine occurred in the Midland Railway tunnel, near Waterloo, N.Y., Friday afternoon, and a workman named Hannum was blown three hundred feet in the air and torn to pieces.

A Chicago woman says she has tried both, and being well dressed gives her more peace of mind than religion.

The Pennsylvania Railroad Company announces a semi-annual dividend of 3 per cent, payable, free of tax, on the 30th inst.

An intellectual Boston editor describes Smythe's gin and milk as "the juice of the juniper combined with the production of the domestic cow."

The Brookville Republican says: "Work will be commenced in earnest this summer on the extension of the Allegheny Valley Railroad, from the mouth of Mahoning to Driftwood, by way of New Bethlehem and Brookville. We trust the work will be rapidly pushed forward to completion. As soon as that road is finished, it will become necessary, in order to complete a direct line of low grade from Chicago to New York and Philadelphia, to construct a railroad from Brookville to Franklin."

A pipe is being laid from the Egbert farm to a spring of water on the hill, for the purpose of accommodating private families with water which has been somewhat scarce at that point.
