The strawberry and ice cream festival for the benefit of the M. E. Saaday School, passed off very pleasantly, last evening .-There was a large crowd of people in attendance, and all appeared to enjoy themwhere my Low lies Dreaming, Zula Zong, Opera from Martha, &c., in excellent style, and in a manner that very nearly approaches perfection. As they volunteered their services for the occasion, they are deserving of great praise. The affair was a success in every particular. About $100 will be realised for the school clear of expenses .-The sevool desires to return thanks to Mesers. Weaver, Holmes, Coulter, Barnes and others, and to Mrs. Carrie Hall, for the efficient services rendered by them.

The Corry Republican advocates the spaking of a gas well for the purpose of supplying Corry with gas. There is no doubt but that a great saving of fuel would be the consequence. Such at least is the casesthroughout the oil region. We know of several instances where the gas from one well is amply sufficient to run a dozen more and in one particular case that hes came uoder our observation nine pumping weils are run by the gas from one alone, and considerable allowed to escape at that. It costs but little to try the experiment and the saving in fuel would more than repay the expense of sinking a well in a

For the following the Lawrenceburg Independent is respansible: There is a spring on the Robinson farm, we are told, from which barrels of oil are dipped. The water boils apparently from the bowels of the earth, and the oil rises to the top of the water. The oil, it appears, does not or cannot, flow into

PETROLEUM AS FUEL

Another Solution of the Problem in Philadelphia.

The problem of petroleum as fuel bas reseived another solution in Philadelphia, by Messrs. Whipple & Dickerson, who, we are assured, have constructed and patented an apparatus, which in itself ingenious, and which involves a very important scientific discovery. A local paper says: They do not employ air for the purpose of obtaining the requisite amount of oxygen, but water. By this arrangement a current of steam is made to combine with the vapor & coal oils both at an exceedingly high temperature: and the two, when eguited, are entirely consumed. Whether the combination of steam and gas is mechanical or chemical is a question to be determined by scientific men; the practical point, however, is that nothing is lost-all the oil and probably all the water unite in such a way as to produce an intense heat without waste of material-The apparatus which these gentlemen invent is not difficult to understand. A small beiler, from four to five feet high, containing water is first heated with wood, and steam is caused to flow from it to the cylinder a few feet high and two and a half feet in diameter, and contains within it 600 copper tubes, through which the steam circulates. In the cylinder and outside the tubes, through which the steam circulates. In the cylinder and outside the tubes is the Mulberry street, New York, both fell out of coal oil, " the proper amount of which is a third story window. Their lunerals ocmaintained by communication with a large tank. The steam from the small boiler heats the oil and gas is evolved, which is carried back to the little boiler and ignited. The wood can now be removed, and this process will go on of itself. After the water in this boiler is beated sufficiently to cause the escape of a large quantity of gas from the oil in the cylinder, that gue is carried to the fire-box of the main boiler, where it is lighted. Steam is now given off by the tubes in the main boiler; this passes back across the flame of burning gas in the firebox, and is there bested to a temperature varying from 600 deg. to 1,000 deg. The steam thus super heated is conveyed through the tubes in the cylinder containing the oil, more gas is generated and the process now goes on without the ald of the little boiler. The gas is made to pass through sponges at the top of the cylinder. Thus the force of the current of gas is broken, and it at the same time mixes there freely with the steam which is permitted to leave the copper tubes. Both steam and gas then go to the steam is destroyed to oxidize the carbon in the petroleum gas. The result is there is even the smell of coal oil."

The Titusville Herald says: We under stand that the controversy in relation to the title of a portion of the Fagundas farm has been amicably settled. The piece in question is nine rods wide on the south side of the farm, Messrs. Phillips, Gleason, Mo-Gree and Janny sotting up some claim of was stipulated between these parties, and Nyehart, Grandin and Fisher, the purchasers of the farm, that the matter in dispute should be referred to Judge Brown of Warselves in the highest degree. The Columbia ren and Mr. Crosby of Corry, and if they Cornet Band were present and played a falled to agree, Judge Vincent of Erie few pieces such as Salt River Gallop, Come should arbitrate in the premises. Judgo incent was called in, and atter examination he determined that the purchase of Nyehart, Grandin and Fisher, is a valid one, and their title without defect, as to boundaries, quantity, and in every respect. Thus the matter rests, and no litigation will

Mr. J. D. Henry, the census taker for this district, has commenced his labors. We are requested by him to state for the benefit of those desiring information, and in order to facilitate matters, that the principal questions to be answered are: Age, occupation, place of birth, and value of real and personal property, &c. Boarding house and hotel keepers may answer for all who were stopping in their houses on June 1st. It is important that all should understand the subject in order that correct answers may be given. The above are the most important questions. We shall have occasion to allude to this subject again.

The Wallace Sisters Theatrical and Burlesque troupe, appear at Sobel's Operat oil men believe that there is a rich deposit House, on Monday and Tuesday evenings of oil below any point yet reached in that of next week. The decided hit made by these talented and charming actresses on the occasion of their last appearance here, is sufficient guarantee of crowded houses during this engagement. Their advertisemout will be found elsewhere.

On Saturday evening next there is to be a grand raffle for a piano, at the Rochester House, at 7:30 sharp. Be on hand.

gum," said the incorrigible.

Young ladies who wear slippers in the street with a short costume show very bad taste indeed, no matter bow pretty the foot or the stocking. Slippers are only meant for house wear, and worn in the street look as much out of place as rings worn outside of a glove.

A Nashville paper thus acknowledges a bottle of whisk: "Our corps compositorial return thanks for a timely and refreshing remembrance."

Linen dresses, trimmed with chiny or Valenciennes lace, for summer morning dresses are very pretty and stylish.

Coronets of different colored ribbons with small blows at the sides, are worn on the head, and are very dressy and becoming. Disagreeable and impertinent-Rain staring a person la the face.

It a man makes a beast of himself at dinner, does he become the lion of the party? "Oh, Emma, don't laugh so hard," said a little Boston Girl of five years, "you'll break a blood steamer." During a rough and tumble fight, on Saturday morning, between Mary Scullen and Mary Nevins, in a tenement house on curred on Mon day.

· Indianapolis has had the honor or dis-grace of a "Seate Spiritual Convention," which discu seed, among other things, the following remarkable resolution: "Kesolved, That if Jesus Christ died for men, God has nothing to forgive, and his refusal to save men is a piece of gross tyranny."

The marriage service in the opinion of the Cleveland Herald, should be changed to read: "Who dares take this woman?" And the groom shall answer, "I dare."

Mr. Inman has come to the conclusion that the steamer City of Boston has perished with all on board, and that the cause of the calamity can only be attributed to a collission with icebergs. He denies that she was too heavily ladened.

The officers of the Sixty-ninth Regiment have secured the services of Gen. McMahon as counsel for the Fenians. He has refused a tender of compensation.

A serious accident occurred last evening fire-box intimately mixed together, and 6:05 p. m., for this place. An oll and both are consumed, or at least most of the freight train was standing on the main track, partially switched off, and the passenger train ran into it with headlong no detritus—no ashes, no smoke, hardly violence. The locomotive was completely wrecked by the collission, two tank care containing 200 barrels of oil were set on fire and a freight car destroyed. A severe shock was communicated to the passengers on the train, but no one was injured. The track for a considerable section was burned to asbes, but another locomotive was made ready and the train arrived in this city lest evening, two hours and ten minutes behind title to the same by patent or otherwise. It time. We are without further particulars of the circumstances of the accident, but it is a subject of congratulation that no lives were lost or human suffering inflicted .-The A. R. & O. C. Ralirond is looked upon as one of the safest and most reliable railroads in the country, and has been refortunate character. - Titusville Herald.

Says an Ohio exchange: Messrs Patte .son & West, of Marietta, O., who have been operating for oil on the Joy farm, Federal creek, Morgan county, struck a vein of oil at the depth of ninety feet .-They commenced pumping Tuesday 24th uit., and in twenty-four bours had got out fifty barrels. Since then it has produced at the rate of thirty barrels per day, and has every appearance of holding out for a long time. The oil is light, 45 gravity. This is one of the ahandoned wells, having been sunk in 1865 with slight encouragement.

There are several wells in the same condition on the Joy farm, and we are informed by the Superintendent, Mr. Brough, that the company propose to treat them the same way. Perhaps'a half million of dollars have been expended on that firm, but from what we can learn a still further and more enlarged effortswill be made the coming season. Experienced excavators and DIVINE SERVICES .- Rev. David Patton, of New Castle, Pa., will occupy the pulpit in the Presbyterian Church, on Sunday next, forencon and evening. The announcement made last Sabbath to the effect that there would be no preaching the coming the spring from any of the surrounding wells—consequently it must rise with the water. The spring is situated not far from the Effizabeth off well.

The down train last evening was nearly Sunday was premature. Rev. Patton is three bours late, on account of an accident represented as feeing an elequent and able three bours late, on account of an accident divine.
