The Franklin Oil Field.

The late strikes on the Point continue to yield as largely as at first. The Vincent & Bleakley well is pumping 15 barrels; the Chase well, 8 bbls.; the Miller, Austin & Co., well, which was tided on Monday last is not yet tested. The Turk & McElhenny well, an old hole lately cleaned out is yielding 2 bbls. The Mackey well, the oldest on the point, is pumping 2 bbls. An old well known as the Stock well had been cleaned out and was yielding a small quantity, but is now being reamed, and will soon be tested again.

Six new wells are either drilling on this territory or the derricks erecting preparatory to drilling. Egbert & Bleakley commenced drilling just below the dam on Thursday. These parties have 40 acres of hill running back from the Point which they intend to develop as rapidly as possible, and before many days we may see the hillside dotted with new rigs. Paist, Long & McDonald are putting up a rig on the roadside opposite the dam; B. H. Haynes has a well almost completed a few rods beyond the railroad bridge; further up the road are the Vincent, the P. H. Watson, and the Smith & McAninch wells, all in course of boring. We understand that Mr. Watson will soon put four more wells down on his territory. A short distance further up the river are three wells on the George P. Smith farm. Two of them, belonging to Mr. Smith, are pumped by one engine, and yield 4 bbls. The other is owned by Parker & Co., and is doing 4 bbls.

On the opposite side of the river is the Winsor well, which is not yet finished. After boring a few days a mud vein was encountered, which prevented further operations without reaming the well out and casing it. They are doing this now, and the well will probably be finished inside of ten days.

An old well, situated near what was known as the walnut tree well, was torpedoed on Monday last, and is doing 4 bbls. It is owned by Nims, Smith & Grant. Spectator.

UNION OF THE OCEANS.—The ceremony at San Francisco of uniting the waters of the Atlantic and Pacific Oceans, performed by the Boston Board of Trade excursionists, is thus described in a telegram to the Boston Journal:

The bottle of water taken from the Atlantic, at Boston, was uncorked by Hon. Alex. H. Rice, the President of the Boston party, and one-half its contents poured into the Pacific ocean, making, as Mr. Rice said, "a literal blending of water of the two oceans, which should flow on together until there shall be no more sea, and symbolizing a unity of the people of America in ties of interest and brotherhood which shall continue until the last wave of time shall break up on the eternal shore." The space in the bottle was then filled with water from the Pacific Ocean, and its contents will be taken home by the Bostonians, as the mingled elements of the Atlantic and Pacific.

The party then formed a circle on the veranda of the Cliff House, a Californian and a Bostonian alternating, and the bottle of mingled water, as an emblem of a blended friendship, was passed through the entire circle, from hand to hand, and the company united in singing "America." A most interesting ceremony followed. A little daughter (two years of age) of Mr. R. G. Brown, of San Francisco, was present, and having never been christened it was suggested, on a moment's thought, that the holy rite should be administered. A table was brought out and covered with the national flag, and a large silver basin containing water from both oceans; when amid a stillness disturbed only by the surging of the sea, the parents stepped forward with the little child in its mother's arms, and the Rev. Mr. Waterston of the Boston party, with great beauty and solemnity, administered the rite of baptism. The entire audience immediately burst forth in singing the Doxology, to the tune of "Old Hundred."

DIVINE SERVICES.—Rev. David Patton, of New Castle, Pa., will occupy the pulpit in the Presbyterian Church, on Sunday next, forenoon and evening. The announcement made last Sabbath to the effect that there would be no preaching the coming Sunday was premature. Rev. Patton is represented as being an eloquent and able divine.

The Wallace Sisters Theatre open at Sobel's Hall, on Monday evening. Do not fail to attend.

A telegram from London announces the death of Charles Dickens, the great novelist, which occurred at his residence at Gadshill, near Rochester, in Kent, on the 9th. He died from a stroke of paralysis.

The La Crosse (Wis.) Leader says of the liquor seller who would sell rum to a small boy: "He deserves to be run through a threshing machine, and winnowed on a red-hot gridiron."

CRUDE AND REFINED.

Chris Walker, of Portland, went out to shoot crows; the barrel of the gun bursted and now he sees out of only one eye. The crow sees out of two as usual.

A singular illustration of the danger of impersonal personalities was afforded in Pottsville, when the Miners Journal inadvertently stated that there was a man in the place who had been drunk for thirty-five years. The editor was thereupon called to account by at least twenty persons who insisted that the item was a personal attack upon them. The man he really referred to, says the editor, "is sharp enough to keep his mouth shut about it, but keeps on drinking just as if not a word had been said."

Miss Olive Logan sprained her dramatic accessory at Leavenworth, Kansas, in alighting from a carriage, and disappointed the audience before whom she was to lecture. The leg she had so long denounced turned at last, like the wounded worm, and the withdrawal of her own support must still more ankle in her sole. [World. Awful.

The last year that Davy Crockett was in Congress, a political jollification was held professedly in honor of the birthday of Jefferson. Davy met several of the company going home from the festival, and thus graphically described their condition, "They were so drunk, that I'll be— if either of them could hit the ground with his hat in three times throwing."

We heard a joke recently on two Portsmouth drummers. While passing a house in Virginia, they observed a very peculiar chimney, unfinished, and it attracted their attention. They asked a flaxen haired uretic standing near the house if it "drawed well," whereupon the aforesaid uretic gave them the stinging retort: "Yes, it draws the attention of all the d—d fools that pass this road."

A countryman entered a doctor's office in North Carolina, and taking a level tumbler full of alcohol, which he mistook for whisky, drank it down at one gulp, then turned and walked out. An hour afterward while the doctor was expecting a summons to view the body of the rash countryman, in walked the individual. "Doctor," said he, "can't you spar me another tumblerful? It's the most satisfying lick I ever drunk."

An Indian, a day or two since, got overtly "dissatisfied," lay down close to a molasses barrel, accidentally turned the faucet, and went to sleep with a full stream running on his head. He was discovered after eighteen gallons, full measure, of the "sweet restorer" had run over him. The Mayor of the city further sweetened him by a fine of eight dollars.

The editor of the Hancock (Kentucky) Messenger, in a farewell address in his expiring journal, regrets that he "has not had the pleasure of writing the obituary of the miserable skindivins of the town." This is the bitterness of impenitency.

"Fools," says Josh Billings, "are telling us (condemners) that time is short, but the difficulty lies not in the shortness of time so much as it does in the length of the fools."

An old lake captain, at an Ohio funeral responded to the whispered inquiry, "how the departed looked" in a tone which might have been heard miles in a north-easter, "First rate; I never seed John looking better in his life."

An Indiana politician makes an appeal which should insure his election:

Independent candidate.
Mr. Editor Sir—this is to inform the good People that they may Vote for E. Preston to the Legislature at the Stay of Indianapolis next fall and he will let people know that clay county has a man there he will move court to every mans door and put the jail over in owen county pay of the bonds in greenbacks and if they wont take them not pay at all—kiss all the Babies will do anything before election But afterwards will do just as he pleases.
E. Preston.

EXPECTED VISIT OF SOUTHERN RAILROAD OFFICIALS.—The arrangements for the excursion of Southern railroad officials to Pennsylvania, are partially completed. The party, numbering from seventy-five to eighty will rendezvous at Baltimore, leaving that city by the Northern Central Railroad on Monday morning next, and thence via Harrisburg to Altoona, where they will remain for the night, examining during their stay the extensive work-shops of the Pennsylvania Central at that point. Tuesday evening the party will arrive at Pittsburgh, leaving for Erie, on Thursday morning via Allegheny Valley Railroad, making a short stop at Oil City and reaching Erie the same evening. Hon. Thos. A. Scott, President of the Pennsylvania Central R. R. will meet the party somewhere on the route.

Chicago just now finds a means of replenishing the city treasury by fining prostitutes large sums and male visitors small sums. This rule encourages business, so that the prostitutes are put at their traffic again immediately, so as to be able to pay their fines when next arrested.

Work on the Dunkirk & Warren Railroad is progressing rapidly, the contracts for grading a large portion of the road having been let already. It is expected the road will be finished this summer.

Infringement Notice.

The subscriber has learned that a certain firm in Titusville, known as "Bryan, Dillingham & Co.," have commenced the manufacture of Sucker Rods with Socket Joints. This is a Direct Infringement on his rights, as his claim is "connecting two sections of rod by means of wedges, wedging sockets, and double coupling bolt." He does not specify any particular shaped wedge, nor of what material it shall be made. All rods made as above described outside of his manufactory, are direct infringements. This, therefore is to

CAUTION OIL OPERATORS, and all others, against buying or using any rods so made, except those of his manufacture, as by so doing they will lay themselves liable, and will be dealt with according to law.
