OIL ITEMS.—A new well was struck on the Dempsey farm, Kane Run, on Friday Friday last, which is yielding fully thirty barrels per day. It is located on the flats and is about 680 feet deep. Mr. C. O'Donnell is the owner of the workint interest.—This is now the best producing well on the farm.

A new well was struck on the Brown farm, Cherrytree Run, about a week ago.—It is yielding about 18 bbls per day. It is owned by the Elliott Brothers of Philadelphia. This well is about 820 feet deep and had about 30 feet of oil bearing sand.—The Elliott Bro's. now has five wells producing on this farm. They are practical oil operators and well deserving of the good luck which they have met.

Three sets of tools are fast in the Lady Corintha well, Jas. McCray farm. Fears are entertained that they cannot be got out.

A part of the tools which have been fast in the Fox well, Central Petroleum Co's. farm, were safely removed yesterday, by the use of the "pole tools."

Another new well on the Omega Oil Co's. farm, will be completed in about two weeks. A "big strike" is anticipated.

NEW WELL.—A new well was struck on the Story farm, yesterday, which is yielding 25 barrels of green oil per day. It is known as No. 78, and is owned by the Columbia Oil Co., of Pittsburg. The well is 578 ft. deep, and had 15 feet of sand rock.

The Fenian fiasco, a few weeks since, has been eclipsed in its ridiculous aspect, if that were possible, by the Italian uprising in Tuscany. The march of forty mountaineers without uniforms, and armed only with knives and sticks, under Signor Galliani, to conquer Rome, presents a picture sublime in its grotesqueness and rarely equalled outside the walls of a lunatic asylum. There is a striking likeness between these two revolutionary (?) movements in this, that while they both proposed to avenge centuries of grievances by a resort to armed force, both were signalized by a lack of brains and rapid and overwhelming, if not disgraceful defeat. O'Neil made a bombastic speech to his troops, which would have done honor to a Quixotte, on the eve of disaster, and Signor Galliani repeated the performance with almost a like result. Of the latter, a New York Herald correspondent, writing from the "front," says:

"His proclamation stated to his followers that they would be reinforced before crossing the frontier by numerous other corps, all having the same objective—to drive out the priests from Rome, and constitute Italy one universal republic. To think that the Italians will sit by idle while we pour out our blood for these sacred aims would in itself be a crime." Such was the ending flourish of Signor Galliani's card. But a word in regard to the antecedents of the commander-in-chief. Galliani belongs to the culinary profession: he has been a cook the greater part of his life, and, having principally cooked for republicans, it is said that he was early imbued with republican ideas while getting up republican stews and sauces. Upon such meat, then, was fed this ardent republican before his recent attempt to set Pio Nono and Emmanuel at defiance.

Just to think that after all this waste of oratory and warlike preparations, eight of King Victor Emmanuel's carabinieri captured poor foolish Galliani's entire army!

A GREAT INVENTION.—W. D. SNOW, formerly in the Oil region, as Chief Engineer of the Allegheny Transportation Company, has invented a car axle whereby a New York and Erie six foot gauge car can be transformed into a Lake Shore four foot eight and a half inch car almost instantaneously. He is now on his way to the Pacific with one of these cars loaded in Jersey City, and run over the Erie road to Cleveland, and there transferred to the Lake Shore and Michigan Southern. There are five different gauges used on the various railroads in the United States, and a car with this improvement applied can be run over every road in the country. The matter is accomplished by a steel "feather," one and a half inches in width, inserted in a lateral groove in the axle five-eighths of an inch deep. Instead of weakening the axle, this is rather inclined to strengthen it. Notches are then cut in this feather, so that the wheels can be spread apart or moved nearer together, to accommodate any gauge of road.

A correspondent of the Clarion Democrat writing from Parker's Landing, says: Quiet a number of good wells have been tested in and around Lawrenceburg within the last two weeks. Forker well No. 3, on the Fallerton Parker farm was torpedoed, and has been producing about one hundred barrels per day for some time. The Emma well, on the Robinson farm, owned by W. P. Finley, Robinson and others is a new well, and is considered among the best in that section. Well owned by Brown & Finley on river bank opposite the island, was torpedoed a week ago, and is producing one hundred and sixty barrels a day. Judging from present indications the Clarion side of the river bids fair to prove as good territory as any in the Parker oil field. Among the new wells on this side is one on the Jas. Pollock farm, owned by S. D. Carnes, producing fifteen barrels and one on the Ankers farm, owned by Kipp & Churchhill, just tested and yielding twenty-five barrels.

Capital opening for several missionaries at Parker's Landing, which seems bound to out-do even Petroleum Centre in general depravity and pure craziness.—Rouseville correspondent Oil City Times.

It would be a good thing for the "high morality" correspondent to remember that "charity begins at home." Instead of writing up the faults of neighboring towns, he should confine his mammoth intellect more closely still to the great subject of "side walks," which appears to be his hobby.

By reference to the advertisement, it will be seen that J. W. Beatty has received the first invoice of Fire Works, &c., for the 4th of July. This will be good news for the little folks.

Greenwood, the murderer of Fleming at Lawrenceburg recently, was arrested in the woods about three miles south of Parker's Landing, the next day after the murder, and is now lodged in Kattaning jail. Fleming was buried at Kittaning, his remains being taken there in 1845.

CRUDE AND REFINED. The wheat crop in Georgia, Tennessee and the Carolinas is being garnered. It is very large.

A man named Barton fell dead while attending service in the Methodist Church at Janesville, Wisconsin, a few days ago.

Ambrose Coe, who stabbed to death Miss Abbie Somers, at Ashley, Illinois, on Thursday last, has been caught and caged. He says he wants to die. Jealousy was the cause.

The New York Herald is in favor of suppressing young America on the Fourth of July, lest they burn New York up by way of celebrating the day. Portland, Maine, was destroyed by a fire cracker.

Omaha has a colored Alderman.

London is projecting a half-penny paper. Its circulation is expected to reach 500,000 copies.

The unhappy lunatic McFarland has been engaged recently, in an effort to set aside the divorce obtained by his wife.—But he has also tried to annoy her in another manner. The Boston Herald learns from a private source that he has endeavored to kidnap one of the children living with Mrs. Richardson at Woodside. To accomplish this noble deed a woman was hired, who haunted her house until the mother was obliged to send the child away from her reach. Mrs. Richardson is still ill with chills and fever and says that the most merciful thing McFarland could do would be to kill her.

A man named Holt, proprietor of a boarding house in Hartford, Conn., swallowed a large dose of opium on Thursday night last, because his wife accepted an invitation to the theatre without his knowledge. Strong emetics saved the jealous man, and gave him a fresh Holt on life.

Walls James Robinson's Cincinnati Circus was parading through the streets of Middleton, Kansas, last week, the roof of a wagon, on which was mounted a band of musicians, broke through, precipitating the men into a den of lions. A local paper says: "The awful screams of terror and agony which arose from the poor victims who were being torn and lacerated by the frightful monsters below was heart rending and sickening to a terrible degree." Prof. White, one of the performers, went to the rescue of the unfortunate, and was almost torn to pieces. Conrad Feitz and Charles Schoer were taken out dead.

Lydia Thompson has a little girl six years old, who is said to be as handsome as a picture.

An American sharper has beaten the King of Wurtemberg out of forty thousand florins at draw poker.

About one million dollars worth of Chinese fireworks are used up in this country every Fourth of July.

Boston is troubled with a fashionable young lady who insists upon walking in the middle of the street.

George A. Barber, formerly of Cincinnati, and C. C. Wall of Toledo, are to have a type-setting match at Detroit. The contest will take place in a public hall, and the winner to have the proceeds from the admission fee. The time when the contest will take place is not yet announced.

A West Point correspondent says that the poor coverts are worried continually by husband seeking girls, who are willing to exchange wealth and maidenhood for the title of wife. Thus far the campaign has not been successful.

At Miles Grove, near Erie, on Monday, Charles Thompson, a school teacher, flogged an urchin named Griffin. Thereupon the boy's mother, armed with a peculiar "pitcher," covered with paper, entered the school room and demanded of Mr. Thompson why he had whipped her son. He replied that it was because the fractious youth deserved it, whereupon she proceeded to empty the contents of the "pitcher" on his scholarly person, and emphasized the performance by breaking the utensil over his pate. The teacher, found an immediate change of raiment indispensable and the pupils of the school precipitately retired from the room without waiting for formal dismissal. Mrs. Griffin was arrested, but compromised the case by paying Thompson fifty dollars, and turning over twenty-five more to the fund of the district. After the money had been paid Mr. Griffin asked his Fenian sponsor whether she had got her money's worth, to which she emphatically replied: "It is paid."
