Fire at Hynd Farm.

During the storm this afternoon a large tank of oil, located between Tarr and Rynd farms, was struck by lightning and destroyed. We did not learn the number of barrels of oil destroyed.

By a later dispatch we learn that both sides of the track is on fire, and that trains cannot get past. It is feared the depot and other buildings will be destroyed.

The census taker has nearly completed his labors in this place.

The Oil City fire department is to parade on the 4th of July.

The great topic in town to-day is how to keep cool. By a free use of ice water made up by a good sized piece of ice from the ice house of Bailey, Chain & Smith, we have managed to keep cool. Our advice to all would be to patronize this firm liberally. It's the only way to keep cool.

From present appearances the lecture to-morrow evening, will be largely attended. The subject chosen - "Infidelity and the Council" - is one that is agitating religious circles to a great extent nowadays. The Rev. gentleman will undoubtedly fully explain the question in all its bearings. As the object is a charitable one we hope to see a crowded house.

The Italian gentleman put in an appearance yesterday in a new fashion. Instead of the heavenly strains of music extorted from a hand organ, it was a snare drum and a dancing bear. The little ones were greatly delighted therewith.

That poor woman whose husband has up and died, leaving her with nineteen small children and five at the breast, was around again yesterday soliciting alms from the

A Pleasant Scene.

The Cincinnati Gazette, of Monday, says: The steamer Lorens was loading with her thousand valuable souls, just before dusk yesterday, a sweet sound of twenty-five or thirty voices was heard from the Bethel, at the upper part of the wharf, singing hymns of praise. This was a novelty on that day, and especially at such a time and place. Hundreds were attracted there, among them old curly-headed mates, who doffed their hats in reverence. Perhaps it was the first time they had heard such sounds since they heard them at their mother's knees. Deck hands were also there, and in many instances they were for the first time on an equality with the mates. So absorbed were all in the exercises, which consisted only of singing, prayers and addresses, that the ringing of the Lorens's musical bell was a discord which jarred on the ears of all, and caused them to look in the direction of the boat inadvertently. When a hymn was proposed, at one time, an Irish roustabout, standing beside his wife and two little children, called out, "Tell us something more about heaven." Short remarks were made by the Rev. Thomas Lee, and a number of laymen. The exercises were truly interesting, and the number in attendance was unusually large.

The big well at Brady's Bend is only yielding about 25 barrels per day. Several other wells will soon be completed in the same vicinity. Operators have been frightened off from going there from the fact that the wells have to be sunk so deep, the average depth being from 1,200 to 1,400 feet.

The thermometer stood at 96 in the shade at noon to-day, in front of the Record office. Just six degrees hotter than any previous day this summer.

Mrs. C. O'Donnell, is the owner of a new well, struck on Friday last, located on the Dempsey farm, Kane City. It is pumping 30 barrels daily. - Oil City Times.

We never knew that our friend O'Donnell had a better half engaged in the oil business. It can't be possible that "Con" has turned into a sixteenth amendment "unbeknownst."

The Republican primary meetings come off in Erie county to-day, and in Crawford county on Monday.

JAMESTOWN AND FRANKLIN RAILROAD TUNNEL. - The work on the tunnel for the Jamestown and Franklin Railroad Extension at Oil City is nearly completed, and will be ready for the cars early in July. - The business of this model road - model in its construction and equipment and in officers and employes generally - is daily increasing. Its facilities for transporting oil are the best in the region, and when its connection with the O. C. & A. R. R. shall be accomplished, as it will be in a few weeks, shippers will be benefited as well as the road. - Spectator.

A man named Walter Durky, was arrested at Shamburg a day or two since for stabbing and cutting John Lobough. He was taken to Franklin.

The Corry Republican says a number of parties from Pleasantville are hunting out residences in that city, and will take up their permanent abode there as soon as suitable purchases can be made. This will no doubt pain the editor of the Gauntlet.

Another town has been started at West Hickory, on the McCalmont tract, and twenty-two leases were given out on Wednesday last for building purpose, and from sixteen to twenty on the Sneider farm near its junction with the former farms. A hotel livery stable and other buildings are rapidly nearing completion. The election for Mayor and Common Council will be held as soon as the inhabitants get settled, or enough to form a quorum.

Considerable sport was occasioned last evening by a race between a native born American citizen and a Fifteenth Amendment. Fifteenth Amendment came out ahead getting the start by a long distance. Here is a chance for George Washington Griffin of Pleasantville.

A floating saloon has worked its way up from Pittsburgh to White Oak Station, Warren county. It will do a good business until the fall session of court, when anchors will be "reefed," sails stowed, and a tearful adieu bid to the officials of Warren.

Several thousand dollars have already been subscribed toward building an Episcopal church at Rousseville.

The Economic Society in Beaver county paid an income tax of $12,000 the other day. Economy is wealth.

Roger Sherman, Esq., of the firm of Beebe & Sherman, Pleasantville, was admitted to practice law in the several courts of Crawford county last week.

The Roman Catholics propose building a new church at Rousseville.

CRUDE AND REFINED.

A Montreal paper speaks of the "Mystery of Edwin Wood."

Grand Haven, Michigan, calls itself the American Venice.

Denmark is reported to have a "Maiden Assurance Company." American girls do not need any assurance.

A Kenosha (Wisconsin) fisherman lately took two thousand eight hundred pounds of trout and whitefish from his net in one haul.

Junebug soup is actually a new dish just out in Germany. It is said to be really superior to crab soup which gourmards consider delicious.

A prominent dry goods house displays a card in a show window, bearing the announcement: "One baby's wardrobe $425 - our own make." - Chicago Post.

The latest crime perpetrated against the King's English falls at the door of a Hartford (Conn.) journalist, who informs his readers that the members of a certain club will "excursh" early in August.

The severest thing said against Eve's daughters was by lady Mary Wortley Montague: "The only satisfaction I have in being a woman is that I shall not be compelled to marry one of my sex."

A thoughtful person thus muses on the story of Daniel in the lion's den: "How sad it was for these poor lions, when Daniel was dropped into their den, to be compelled to go sniffing about him, and think how nice a small chop, from the calf of his leg would taste, and be denied the luxury. It was rough on them lions, but it taught them self-Daniel."

It is said of one of the burlesque blunder: Ad an actress she is equal to the great bulk of female stars now travelling in the dramatic milky way. As a dresser, she has ever been in the front ranks; and as an undresser, where the character requires it she is equal to the emergency.

The latest "sweet pretty" thing we have seen is this: "As the unseen violet betrays itself by its odor, so will love, however carefully concealed, discover itself by impalpable emanations from the heart that forms its arbor." The "arbor" part is especially fine - and appropriate.

Ohio has got an Enoch Arden, but he didn't look in the window and catch the idea, and lie down under the fence and die. He jumped through the window and smashed up the household utensils, and punched the head of his successor. People are different about such things.

Editors do not always think of their smart things on the spur of the moment; but one of them down in New England got in a good repartee the other day. Daniel Pratt a great bore, come with his customary introduction: "I am the Great American Traveller!" "Well, travel!" was the reply he got.

The last rail of the Denver Pacific Railroad was laid on Wednesday, and the first train arrived at Denver the same night. - Trains will run regularly hereafter.

Eccentricities of a Small Girl.

Pittsburgh has a bright, beautiful twelve year old girl named Della Dean, who is decidedly eccentric. It fact she is an ardent little thief, although the papers call her a mild kleptomaniac. Her respectable parents have given her up as a bad job. Her latest exploit perpetrated a day or two since, was walking into a neighbor's house by a back door, and rumaging till she found sixty-five dollars in money. She then collected together all the children in the neighborhood, and played the good angel by treating them to strawberries and ice cream and sweetmeats in profusion; she then bought them all new hats and some dresses, and took them to the photograph gallery and had their pictures taken after which she disappeared from her companions, and the whereabouts of Della Dean is the latest mystery of Pittsburgh.

POLICE. - "Big Mike," a notorious scoundrel, engaged in that exceedingly pleasant pastime of beating a woman, at the upper end of the street, a day or two since. As a consequence he was arrested and taken before Justice Reynolds, who held him to bail in the sum of $700 to appear at Franklin to answer. Failing to secure the required bail he went up, and now "playeth checkers with his nose" behind the bars. Long may he stay.

A refreshing shower came up this afternoon. It was accompanied with hail.

For all kinds and best qualities of coal, go to C. H. Williams's coal yard, just across the bridge on Boyd farm. He sells a good article remarkably cheap. Give him a call.

Cool, cooler, coolest - Christie's Soda Water.

Mr. Joseph H. Barnard of Wisconsin, will preach in the Presbyterian Church at this place to-morrow, morning and evening. - Sunday School as usual at 2 1/2 o'clock.

July 4th this year will come on Monday, consequently, on that day, the banks will be closed, and notes maturing on the 4th will fall due the day previous, which, being Sunday, will make it necessary for parties interested in negotiable paper to attend to the same on Saturday, July 2d, in order to save costs and a visit from a notary public.

Geo. Stock & Co., are cleaning out the old wells on the Cram farm, Hanna's Gap, six miles above Franklin. These wells were pumped several years ago, and produced paying quantities of oil, but were abandoned at the time of the big flood.

A Pittsburgh jury finds this verdict: "We the jury do find that the deceased came to his death accidentally by a so-called Pitman Shaft, on board the steamer Glendale, and that the balance of wages due him for work and on said boat, shall be used as part payment for funeral expenses."

Encouraging reports continue to come from all parts of the State of the prosperous condition of the crops.

Persons shooting squirrels at this time of the year are liable to a fine of from two to twenty dollars for each offense.

Parker's Landing is to have a boat race on the Fourth of July.

Troy Centre, Venango county, is to have a post office on and after the 1st of July next.
