EXTENSIVE SALE OF LAND—The large tract of land at West Hickory, lying southwest of the McNair well, and in a direct line between that well and Pitohole City, was sold yesterday to Messrs. H. Rosenbach of Pittsburgh, and Arnold & Phinney, Vera & Blake, Thos. Frothingham and S. A. Woods of Petroleum Centre, for the sum of $25,000. The land comprises 360 acres, extending one mile in length and half a mile wide, and was sold by Rosenbach & Co. of Pittsburgh, to the above gentlemen. It is thought by operators to be good oil territory, and the owners intend putting down several wells immediately.

Quite a lively little row occurred at Titusville, day before yesterday, between a party of white men and a number of African amendments. The Mayor of the city was compelled to order all the saloons closed and appoint extra police, in order to keep the peace. Several men were quite severely wounded during the melee. A good field of labor for the missionaries is now opened at that moral city. Who bids?

The return judges of the Crawford county primary election met in convention at Meadville, yesterday afternoon, for the purpose of counting the votes cast on Monday. Geo. B. Delamater has a majority of 374 for State Senator over Geo. K. Anderson. Col. S. H. Dick of Meadville, received the nomination for Congress by a large majority.

Our citizens will bear in mind the lecture on Friday evening next, at Sobel's Opera House, on Friday evening next, by Rev. A. N. Craft. The subject—'Papal Infallibility, the Other Side'—is one that should be understood by all. As the object is a benevolent one, the balance going to the M. E. Sunday School, let there be a crowded house. Tickets 25 cents.

LARGE FIRE IN PITTSBURGH.

Seven Refineries and the Sharpshurg Bridge Destroyed.

Loss $300,000.

Special to the Daily Record.

PITTSBURGH, June 28.

The lightning struck the Citizens' Refinery, this afternoon, which together with the Eclipse, Anchor, Forsyth, National and three other refineries, was destroyed.

The Sharpshurg Bridge was burned also. The fire is still burning.

LATER.

The Citizen, Eclipse, National and Belle Refineries were seriously damaged. The fire originated by the lightning striking a large tank of oil supposed to belong to the bull elk. The storm also seriously damaged the warehouse of the Brilliant. Loss probably $300,000.

A Den of Lions not Lions.

The Detroit Tribune says of that story of the circus musicians being eaten by lions in Missouri, that "the lions treated the musicians with distinguished consideration, and politely escorted them to the door of the cage without taking a single juicy steak from them. The musicians didn't tumble into the den of lions at all, but went on blowing their horns with melodious composure. The lions were not all hungry; and couldn't digest the musicians if they had swallowed them. There weren't any lions attached to the circus. There wasn't any circus. The musicians tumbled into a den of liars—not lions."

The Chinamen of Virginia City, Nevada, have been dedicating a temple with oriental ceremonies. The performance began at 4 A. M. The temple is a frame building, and cost about $300. The interior is fitted up with a profusion of tinsel ornaments, at a cost probably of $800. In the west end of the temple stands the high altar, and seated upon it are three crowned and bearded gods or kings. Two of these wooden gods have long beards and mustaches, while the third is of the sailor cut. All three are seated behind a sort of curtain, hanging down from a canopy, and looped aside that they may plainly be seen by their worshippers. In front of the altar is a table whereon was a full grown roasted hog, with cakes sweetmeats, &c. Before the altar were a number of colored candles burning, and dishes containing burning sandalwood. The priests were dressed in long blue robes, and were quite imposing in appearance. The ceremonies consisted in blessing certain robes with which the gods were clothed, blessing the wine and food before the people, and in many bows and genuflections. Upon the conclusion of these exercises in the temple there was a grand discharge of bombs and fire-crackers outside, which lasted for half an hour.

A Strange Story.

A youthful couple in West Haven, having a tender regard for each other, had announced their intention of becoming man and wife, when the summer heat shall have passed. But love is impatient, and each night the Juliet received her Romeo in her private bower on the first story, he climbed through a friendly window looking out upon the garden. Some of the young man's friends learned the state of things, and one night they watched him as he made his ingress and egress. The next night they resumed their position, and when Romeo appeared they frightened him away. One of the scapegraces then climbed through the window, found the lady's chamber and took the place of the frightened lover. Her lamp was unlit, and the lady was in blissful ignorance of the change until the gray streaks of dawn revealed to her that her companion was not her affianced. The village is greatly exercised, the young woman almost heart broken, and her friends, "unconsoled." As a matter of course the gossips find ample scope for their favorite recreation.—New Haven Palladium.

Just received at Sobel's Dry Goods Store a large and choice stock of new goods of the latest American and foreign goods, which are now being offered at remarkably low rates. This is by far the finest stock of goods ever brought to Petroleum Centre.—Call in and examine them.

Mrs. Henry Gunn, of Richmond, Ind., went off prematurely with another man, Henry Gunn being yet undead; and he and the little pistols Mrs. Gunn left, musket along as best they can, alone.

Talk of Brigham Young locating in Petroleum Centre.—Rouseville correspondent of the Oil City Times.

Which will no doubt give the brothers from Rouseville a better chance than ever before, not even excepting the "high morality correspondent," who would undoubtedly "immediately fine."

About $1,000 has been subscribed towards building an Episcopal church at Rouseville.

CRUDE AND REFINED.

"Sambo, did you ever see the Catskill Mountains?" "No, sah, but I've seen um kill mice."

A St. Louis census marshal reports that one woman told him to call again in a day or two, when she could promise him a larger list.

The language has recently been enriched by the term "stealage," to describe a process by which Indian appropriations are diminished.

Iowa City has a "national game" club composed of deaf mutes; though how people who can't speak attain proficiency in bass bawl remains a mystery.

The libel suit for $100,000 brought against the Buffalo Commercial by the Hon. D. S. Bennett, has been, at his request, postponed until October next.

A backman at Newport gained the custom of the Friends, at the late yearly meeting, by saying "thee," but ruined his chances by asking, "Where's thou's baggage?"

One of the Beecher girls used to say that the bad three rules to guide her in copying her father's MSS: If a letter was dotted it was not an I; if a letter was crossed it wasn't a t; and if a word began with a capital letter it didn't begin a sentence.

Dan Bryant, the minstrel, intends building a magnificent minstrel hall in New York.

Rudolph, the billiardist who was recently defeated by Dion, wants to play another game for $1,000 a side.

Thaddeus Stephens preferred burial in an obscure burying ground, rather than in either of the two beautiful cemeteries in Lancaster, in both of which he owned lots, because colored people could not be buried there; and over his grave in his obscure resting place is a plain marble with his own inscription: "I lie here because the earth is free to all. Thaddeus Stephens."

A few days ago the people of Denton, Ill., were horrified by the announcement that J. K. Ressler, a citizen of that place, had been shot and killed by a woman, in Spring Settlement, about five miles west of Denton. Ressler called on Mrs. McFee, and after some conversation, threw her down and outraged her. Immediately afterward she went into an adjoining room and procured a loaded pistol, and returning, shot the deceased, who ran out of the house into the yard, where he fell down, and the infuriated woman shot him again in the back of the head, while he was lying on the ground. It is understood that Red Cloud, under the advice of the Great Father and Secretary Cox, will immediately establish an agricultural college on his reservation, and that he will offer Horace Greeley the chair of "What I know about Farming."

Already the summer fashions are appearing upon the streets of the Indian villages in Wisconsin, and they are attracting a good deal of attention. One of the Wisconsin papers describes a suit worn by a boy five years old. It consists of a garter tied around the left leg.

Gen. Mulligans diary, which will soon be published, contains the following, under date of March 22, 1860: The occasion of this motley mass was the closing speech of Judge Douglass upon "Kansas." Mrs. D. sat just in front of me with her rother in the reporters gallery. For three hours Douglass thundered in the capitol. His sarcasms were vitriol, and his arguments like twice-told tales. He plucked the administration by the beard. He stabbed it with evenomed blade. He scorned and defied it. Wheeling upon South Carolina in one of its interruptions, he thrilled the Chamber with a grand retort, delivered with the pomp of Grecian tragedy and the fire of the Scotch Douglass.

Frank Thorn is to receive $10,000 for his leap from Suspension bridge at Niagara Falls on the 13th of August next. "We notice the fact," says the Buffalo Courier, merely for the purpose of congratulating Frank's heirs."

In conversation with the suicide a day or two since, he appeared (like Weston on his great "Portland and Chicago walk") to be confident of success. By careful experiment he has ascertained that he can hold his breath 2 1/2 minutes. It will take one minute to bear "something drop" after he leaves the bridge, which will leave 1 1/2 minutes for the boats below to fish for the corpse.

Ed. Sutherland and C. Robson returned home last evening from an extended fishing and hunting tour in the woods of Warren and Elk counties. Like the mighty Nimrods of old, undoubtedly they made fearful havoc among the finny and feathered tribes, besides having a good time in general. Thank you, gentlemen for that nice string of trout.

The Jamestown and Franklin Railroad tunnel at Oil City is through and will be completed soon.
