Fire Meeting.

The fire company are requested to meet at the engine house, at 7 1/2 o'clock this evening. All members of the company are generally requested to attend, as business of importance will come up before the meeting.

The arrangements for the Fourth of July have been completed as follows:

The Declaration of Independence will be read from the balcony of the Opera House at 1 1/4 o'clock p. m., by A. S. Haver, Esq., after which the Oration will be delivered by W. C. Plummer, to be followed by a grand foot race, jumping match, &c. In the evening there will be a grand display of fire works, and a ball for the benefit of the fire department.

A meeting of those engaged in the production of petroleum was held in Library Hall, Oil City, Wednesday morning, pursuant to call, for the purpose of consultation as to the cessation of drilling wells for the ensuing three months. After a discussion of the subject by those present, a resolution to the effect that no more wells would be drilled by those present before October 1st, was carried. A committee, consisting of Messrs. Lyman Stewart, Titusville, Geo. Boulton, Columbia, and John J. Fisher, Hickory, was appointed on the subject, with request to report at the next meeting of the Oil Producer's Association, to be held on the second Wednesday of July next.

In Mosquito Valley, near Williamsport, Pa., a quarry of marble has been opened, which, when duly manipulated, is as black as ebony, and so clear that it reflects like a mirror. No other marble is so dense in fibre, and capable of so fine a polish as this, and the quarry from which it is taken is the only one of the kind known to exist.

PRIZE FIGHT BETWEEN TWO COLORED LADIES.—Two stout negro ladies, as black as Cimmerian darkness, proceeded to the Eastern wharves yesterday morning, about nine o'clock, for the purpose of deciding by a physical combat which was entitled to the affections of a certain colored gentleman. The ladies were dressed in fighting costume, having no more clothing upon their person than was absolutely necessary to conceal their nudity. A large crowd of the friends of each accompanied the two aspirants for fistie honors. Upon arriving on the ground the preliminaries were soon settled, and the battle commenced by No. 1 giving No. 2 a blow in the dice-box, causing No. 2 to kiss mother earth in a way that elicited shouts of applause from the crowd, intermingled with cries of "Dat's do way to polish her off!" "Bress de Lord, what a whopper dat was!" No. 2 in coming up for the second round acted wary, and after some feinting the combatants, clinched and came together in an embrace that only admitted of "butting," which was done with severe effect by both. After a kick in the bread-basket, given by No. 2 to No. 1, as the latter was rising to her feet, and which act had caused cries of "Dat's foul!" "Fore God, dat's gouging!" the two colored amazons went at it again, and the wool flow as they tore it from each other's heads. The fight would have continued longer but for the cry of "Perlice," when the principals, seconds, and all took to their heels hot haste, and thus ingloriously ended a disgraceful scene.—Savannah (Ga) Republican.

A good side show—A pretty cheek. The woman question—Is he married? The weight of the world—Short weight. The only organ without stops is a gossip's tongue.

What soup would cannibals prefer?—The broth of a boy. Is a temperance lecture synonymous with a water spout? Grocers should remember that honest tea is the best policy.

To be let—Some young swells' faces; they are generally vacant. T. Carlyle's last word for abstinence stupidity is "Jackassery."

Commissioner Delano has written a letter in reference to the use of the word "gallon" the law regulating dealers. He says that according to the decision of a number of the United States District Judges, the word gallon, in the act of April 10 1869, defining wholesale liquor dealers, shall hereafter be construed as meaning wine gallons, whether applied to distilled spirits, wines or malt liquors, and that therefore wholesale liquor dealers will be limited in their sale, to quantities of not less than five wine gallons, regardless of the proof of the spirits.

"KILLED HIS MAN."—IRA H. PIERCE, Esq., who was formerly a member of the bar of this county, and City Attorney of Titusville recently shot and killed a man at Mount Pleasant, Mo. The Missouriian attempted to carve Ira, which delicate attention he declined, and resisted with a pistol. Pierce was arrested, and after a hearing promptly acquitted.

An eccentric individual broke in the windows of Bovee's Hotel, night before last. It is supposed he was troubled with McFarland insanity. Mine host Harbert, of the McClintock House, was hard at work all day yesterday building a new sidewalk in front of that house. When completed it will make a decided improvement on that side of Main street. He is deserving of the thanks and prayers of all pedestrians.

The new well on the Coldwater Oil Co.'s lease, Central Petroleum Co.'s farm, is yielding from fifteen to twenty barrels per day. This company have three more wells in various stages of completion. One of the three will be down in about three weeks.—So far the indications are good.

We are now prepared to furnish vegetables, fruits, firecrackers, groceries, &c., wholesale and retail at A. M. SHULT'S.

Remember the lecture at Sobel's Hall, tomorrow evening.

A little son of Capt. Clark, of Erie, was drowned at that place, day before yesterday, in the Erie & Pittsburgh docks.

A number of our citizens left town this forenoon to attend the races at Miller farm.

To learn that a man named Joyce was struck by lightning, at Tidioute, yesterday, and killed.

In September a convention of somewhat novel character will assemble in Philadelphia, being the annual meeting of the National Union of Locomotive Firemen. The object of this union is to advance the social standing and organize the business interests of the members.

CRUDE AND REFINED. Here is a light and airy description from a southwestern paper of an episode of southwestern life: "Four Kentuckians in jail for murdering a neighbor, had a surprise party from a hundred or two citizens the other night. They hadn't any words ready, and wouldn't have had time to say them if they had. All leave families."

The following is an amended and reconstructed version of the "Star Spangled Banner," as done by Parepa Rosa and an arvil and cannon chorus, at the Bethlehem Jubilee:

"Tis the star spangled boom banner, Oh long may it smash wave, Oh'er the land of the bang tree, And the home of the rip brave Cheap Christianity.

"I've been a member of this church nigh on to forty years," said a pinched up libel of Christianity, "and it hasn't cost me six and a quarter cents." "God bless your poor, economical withered up old soul," said a fervent brother in the corner.

The Duluth Minnesotan says John F. Tracy now probably controls more miles of railroad than any other man in the country, viz: the Rock Island & Pacific to Council Bluffs, (his old company) 600 miles; the Chicago & Northwestern, 1,200 miles; and the Chicago & Southwestern to Leavenworth, not yet finished.

There is at the Westchester Garden in New York city, an occasional visitor, a youth of 27 summers, known as "Heppels Baby," whose capacity for beer is almost unlimited. He measures one hundred and ten inches in girt. He recently drank in one afternoon 139 glasses of bock beer and turned the hay scales at the 5 cwt notch.

The bodies of Senator Broderick and Gen. E. D. Baker were buried near each other and while Broderick has been remembered by a suitable monument, Baker's grave is still neglected. An appeal has been made in San Francisco papers for a monument to General Baker.

A young man in Towanda, a few nights since, who had imbibed too freely of the "cratur," had rather a curious adventure. He went to the Barclay railroad basin and disrobed himself of his clothes, and then went home and retired to rest. The clothes being found next morning on the margin of the water, it was supposed some unfortunate man had sought rest beneath the waves. The clothes were examined carefully, but no clue to the owner could be discovered. On arising next morning the owner of the habiliments found on the river's margin was astonished to find himself clothesless. He said it to th' levees. But it was no use, the clothes betrayed him, and he acknowledged the joke.

The Lexington, Kentucky, observer says: a young woman of this city who is struggling to lead a better life, met her betrayer sauntering leisurely along one of our streets the other day. His unconcern and her own misery walked the tiger in her, and she "let" into the scoundrel and gave him such a drubbing as he had been needing for a long time. When she had thrashed him till she got tired she walked off.

A case of the old fashioned, genuine sort of spontaneous combustion is reported by L'Union Medicale, in an article from the pen of Dr. Berthole. The subject of it was a woman 37 years of age, who was addicted to alcoholic drink. She was found in her room with the scera and some of the limbs consumed, the hair and clothes having escaped. The very minute of the description of the state in which the deceased was found shows that ignition could not have been communicated from without.

It is vain to stick your finger in the water, and pulling it out, look for a hole and equally vain to suppose that however large a space you occupy, the world will miss you when you have passed on.

A few days ago George R. Story, whilst ploughing for corn on the farm of W. Leonard, in Elk township, Chester county, turned out a large number of Indian darts and arrow heads. There were some fifty or sixty of them, and they were all found in a bunch, as though they had been buried together, probably on the grave of a chief or other high dignitary. They were made of a foreign stone, of a greenish tinge, all nicely dressed, of uniform shape (beech leaf) and from three to six and a half inches long, and two to three and a half inches wide.
