Another "Big Strike!"

THE ROBERT E. LEE WELL YIELDS 70 BARRELS THE FIRST 12 HOURS PUMPING!

A GOOD 150-BARREL WELL!

THE JAS. S. MCCRAY FARM LOOKING UP!

PETROLEUM CENTRE AHEAD YET!

The well on the McCray farm, owned by J. M. Kepler and others, was completed on Monday, tubed yesterday, and commenced testing last evening, getting oil almost as soon as pumping began. For the first 12 hours, from 7 p. m. last night to 7 a. m. this morning, she pumped 70 barrels of oil—actual measurement. Up to 4 p. m. this afternoon the stream of oil has not diminished in the least, if anything being on the increase. She bids fair to be a hundred and fifty barrel well.

This well is about 789 feet deep; had 42 feet of third or oil bearing sand-rock, and is located between six and seven hundred feet north of the "Banner" well on the Jas. S. McCray farm. The working interest is owned by J. M. Kepler, Sharp & Worden, Jacob Taylor and others.

We understand the well has been named after Robert E. Lee, the rebel general.

The striking of this well is causing a revival of the oil excitement in this vicinity, and this forenoon it has been visited by large numbers of people.

P. S.—The "Banner well" on the Dalzell farm continues to yield 325 barrels per day. Petroleum Centre is ahead yet!

At a late hour Monday night a disturbance occurred in Mike McCool's saloon, St. Louis, during which McCool was accidentally shot in the left arm, fracturing the large bone and producing a serious wound.

THE PARKER OIL FIELD.—The Charles Hewins well is a new strike on the Conley farm, which has been pumping for some two weeks, producing about eight barrels per day.

The Continental, on land of D. S. Allen, about one and a half miles west of Foxton, is a new well, struck last week and is now being tested with twenty feet of sand and a good show of oil.

The Harper and Robinson well is a new strike, on hill, on the Robinson farm, which is just being tested and tested. We have not yet learned its production.

The Smoky city, is a new well on the headwaters of Church Run, on Logue farm, which has been pumping for about two weeks, but has thus far failed to yield oil in paying quantities.

No. 14, Colgin farm, Queenstown and Brandy's Bend Oil Company, has been down and pumping for about two weeks, yielding some six or eight barrels per day.

No. 13, Colgin farm, is a new well, which has been pumping since Tuesday last, and is producing some eight or ten barrels per day.

No. 5, on land of Moses Sullivan, Esq., is another new strike, which commenced pumping on Monday last, and is now yielding about four barrels per day.

The McClintock well, on Bear Creek, near the old furnace site, has been down and pumping since Monday last, but has thus far failed to yield oil. We are told that the sand rock presented an excellent appearance, and owners and others counted on a good well. There may be some thing wrong with the pumping apparatus, and the well may yet prove good. The McClintock is located not far from the Parsons well, which is a good one.

The Anna well, on lease No. 11, Conley farm, has been down and pumping for some time, yielding some fifteen barrels per day.

The Morehead well is a new strike, on the Conley farm, which makes a good start, and is now pumping twenty barrels per day.—Independent.

The "Rev." Charles Whitcomb, who succeeded in victimizing the people of Titusville several weeks ago, has at last "come to grief," in Springfield, Massachusetts, under the name of Rev. A. Whitcomb. He introduced himself to the society of Trinity Methodists, claiming to be a clergyman in good standing in that denomination. He was invited to speak in the church, and did so with considerable effect. He represented himself as having been in the army, and a prisoner at Andersonville, where he was wounded by a rebel sentinel. He claimed to have his pocket picked at the Springfield depot, and was consequently penniless. Seventy dollars was raised on the spot, and given him. But was recognized as an impostor before he got out of the place, and is now in the Springfield jail under a charge of obtaining money under false pretences. His carpet-bag was examined and found to contain $2,500.

In Shoepkes case the opinion of the Supreme Court affirming the judgment of the Court of Cumberland county is to the effect that the verdict of guilty of murder in the first degree shall stand. There is now no doubt but the defendant will be hanged, unless Executive clemency saves him.

Admiral Dabigren died yesterday morning at the Washington Navy Yard.

We noticed on the street yesterday a novel team consisting of a horse and cow saddled together. Occasionally the horse would cast a benevolent look at the cow as much as to say "In your natural protector; you can't play any McFarland game on me in order to get a divorce."

We understand that a grand foot race is to come off this afternoon, either on Washington street or the "Boyd farm," between Harry Griffes and J. J. Felter, for a purse of $50. It is thought that at least $10,000 will change hands on the result of this race, the parties thereto being novices in the "pegs do your duty" business.

Old Dan Rice arrived in town this forenoon with his mammoth Circus and Grand Asiatic Animal Spectacle. This afternoon everybody and everybody's wife and wife's sister are going to the circus. As this will be the last opportunity of seeing the big show, and listening to old Dan's witticisms, let the boys be crowded.

Josh Billings says there are four styles of mind:

- 1st. Them who knows it's so. 2d. Them who knows it ain't so. 3d. Them who split the difference and guess at it. 4th. Them who don't care a darn what way it is.

The Census Marshal reports the total population of Corry at 6,714.

A Colorado paper plaintively pleads: "G'sh dang it, send us more girls."

THE OIL WELL AT TONAWANDA SWAMP.—The Tonawanda Swamp oil well excitement seems to possess something more than a mere "sensation." Already two wells have been bored and with every prospect of success. A correspondent of the Orleans Republican says: "Mrs. Collier, the owner and prospector of this work, is sanguine in the belief of success, as she ought to be seeing her outlay for land, work and other expenses attendant upon it, has equalled, or exceeded, she says, $50,000. There is a steam engine, and two sets of bands, digging night and day, going down from two to ten feet every twenty-four hours. Last Saturday night when stopping for Sunday, it was down 811 feet, and they intend to go from 300 to 400 feet further, unless the oil is struck before. A good road is to be made from the main road immediately, when it will be as pleasant a ride from Albion or Batavia to the springs as can be found in this section of the country; and we understand it is the intention to provide a temporary place for refreshments until a permanent hotel and cure can be completed. In the meantime, many invalids are resorting to the water and with signal medicinal benefits."

Recently a thief, of the Mawworm type, said to an English judge quite confidently, "My lord, I really assure you I committed the theft in a weak moment; quite, indeed against my own will, my lord, quite." "O, very well," said his lordship; "it is only right that you should have no cause for complaint. The offence will be met in a proper spirit. As you committed the act against your own will you will be punished against your own will."

Two enterprising Yankees have just started a drove of horses from Los Angeles, for this Eastern world. They are to be driven eight hundred and fifty miles, to Salt Lake and then put upon the cars for the East.—They were raised on the ranches near San Angeles, and cost the Yankees about twenty dollars a head. If this venture succeeds, an unlimited supply can be had from the same quarter; one single Los Angeles ranchman having three thousand more of the same sort to sell. It is but a few years since droves of horses were taken across the plains from Illinois to San Francisco.

The Chicago Post says: "These Chinese are funny. Ab-Sing is not a chol' leader, as might be inferred; but he has a dog named K-i-l. One of the superintendents of the Celestial shoppers in North Adams is Ea-Ting. Why don't he take Lo-Fing and Slee-Ping for partners, and start a hotel?"

AT IT AGAIN.—The Painesville Advertiser of Saturday says:

The Messrs. Casement, after a few months rest, and tired of the monotony of our streets have taken a contract for building a railroad from Titusville to Union, Pa. The proposed road will connect with the Philadelphia and Erie Railroad at Union, and will be some twenty-five miles in length. On Thursday last they removed their office from this place to Titusville, which will be their headquarters. Mr. Carlisle as chief clerk, and Capt. D. B. Clayton as master track layer, go with them.

An inmate of the Middlebury, Vt., jail told members of the Y. M. C. A. who proposed holding religious services there, that they might come whenever it was convenient for them—they would always find them at home.

The following was perpetrated by a tender-hearted man, who stood listening and shivering, as he listened to the notes of a Band-organ beneath his window: "Ehrraptured here I'm by the window standing, Listing the heavenly music in its chime With ecstacy my pouch I thrust my hand in, And take therefrom a jolly paper dime; But stop a moment, ere I let it wont, I guess I'll compromise, and throw a cent."

To Coal Dealers. Cards have been published in the Record threatening to expose certain dealers for selling short weight. I do not know to whom the signers of said cards alluded to, but I do know that I have weighed coal from other yards and in a great many instances it has fallen short from 200 to 300 pounds to the ton, the truthfulness of which I am willing to make affidavit to. I also use standard scales, and will gladly weigh all coal brought to my yard without charge, and give a correct bill of weight. Believing this system will eventually expose the thieving parties, I heartily approve the action of the dealers before alluded to, and will do all in my power to co-operate with them to that end.

Respectfully, G. H. WILLIAMS.
