The Tidoute Journal gives the following interesting account of oil matters on the Fagundas farm, West Hickory:

Big Boiler well pumping 125 barrels; McCullough well 175 barrels; Burns well 125 barrels; No. 2 well 125 barrels; No. 3 well 125 barrels; No. 5 is testing.

On the McCalmont farm there are 2 wells drilling. Phil. Marr pumping 10 bbls.

Sutley farm, No. 1 drilling.

On the Col. Brown farm one well is nearly down.

On the Tuttle Farm the following is the state of things at present:

Lease No. 1, 20 acres, well No. 1, owned by Messrs. Irwin & Bird, of Petroleum Centre, is pumping 50 bbls, No. 2 tubing.

Lease No. 2.—Venture well, No. 1, 150 bbls per day. Gilchrist & Calvert well on the reserved ten acres is pumping 75 barrels of oil.

On lease No. 3, Fisher & Harrington No. 1, is pumping 100 barrels; No. 2 60 bbls.

On the Benson tract well No. 1 is testing.

On the Carson tract the Burt well No. 1 pumping 10 bbls.

On the Allen tract, Lease No. 1, is graded ready for rig.

Lease 2, ground being made ready for

Lease 3, clearing off ready for rig.

RETURNED.—Capt. J. S. Barber, of Rondout, N. Y., who was engaged in the oil business on Cherrytree Run, below the Metropolitan tract, during the excitement four years ago, put down two or three wells, got disgusted at the non-striking of oil and left, has returned once more and proposes to sink several wells on the ten acre tract, Cherrytree Run, owned by the Rondout Petroleum Co., of which Major Thos. Cornell of that place is the principal man.—The Capt. already has one rig up which for durability cannot be excelled in the Oil Regions. The rig is put up over one of the old holes which it is proposed to clean out and drill deeper, it being claimed that it was never put through the third sand rock. The Capt. is well known to the traveling public he having been in command of different steam boats on the Hudson River for the last 26 years. We wish him luck in the oil business.

We are in receipt of a communication signed "William," in which the writer takes exceptions to the manner in which the account of the railroad accident, published in the Record yesterday, was written, claiming that the injured man, Mr. Behane, was not intoxicated at the time, had no coat on and that no broken whiskey bottle was found in his pocket, &c. &c. We give the unfortunate man the full benefit of the writer's doubts. Our information was received from reliable parties, and we have reason to believe was in the main correct. If, as the writer states, Mr. B. is a "sober industrious man," possessed of good bearing and eyesight, it is certainly a most singular circumstance that he would continue to walk on the railroad track in full view of an approaching train, and after the whistle had been repeatedly blown, without making an effort to save himself. There's a "blunder" somewhere.

Brass instruments develop the countenance. There are also some countenances that have a lively development of brass.—Meadville Republican.

We know of some countenances hereabout that brass could not develop in the least. Its whole "cheek," and "army mule cheek" at that.

Our citizens should bear in mind the concert at Sobel's Hall, this evening, under direction of Miss M. H. Henderson. The programme is a select one and cannot fail to please the large audience that will undoubtedly be in attendance.

Hart well No. 1, adjoining Phillips & Boyles well No. 2, Jas. S. McCray farm, was through the third sand-rock at noon to-day, and will be ready to test by to-morrow forenoon. From the indications so far it will be a big well.

An excursion party of 150 persons, from Pittsburgh and vicinity, passed through this place yesterday afternoon by special train, on a pleasure trip to Chautauqua Lake, and from thence to Niagara Falls.

Major McClintock, editor of the Tidoute Journal, has "struck oil" at West Hickory. We are glad to hear of his good luck.

Elliott well No. 3, Cherrytree Run, was torpedoed day before yesterday and made an excellent show. Unfortunately the sand pump and about 500 feet of cable was lost in the well, and operations had to cease until they could be taken out.

Little Mollie Digby, the lost child of New Orleans, who disappeared on the 9th of June, has been found in a handsome residence in that city, having been concealed by a negro woman.

Latest and Most Important War News.

Henry, August 15—7:30 p. m.

I have just returned from the battle field near Metz. The advance of the Seventh Corps attacked the enemy, who instantly reinforced from the fortresses. The Thirtieth Division and part of the Fourteenth sustained the advance. The conflict was desperate, involving the entire line. The enemy was repulsed at all points and pursued to the glacis of the detached works near the fortress, which enabled the enemy to give shelter to wounded. Our wounded were instantly cared for. By day-break the troops returned to their first bivouacs. All fought with incredible energy. I have gone among them and congratulated them with all my soul. I have spoken to Generals Steinmetz, Gastrow, Mantuffel and Goebau.

The following official dispatch dated August 15th, about four o'clock in the afternoon, is just made public.

Our advance finding themselves before Metz and believing the enemy who were encamped under the wall about to retreat, General Galtzo's brigade was ordered to attack the rear guards of Marshal Bazaine's corps. A violent combat ensued. The Second Brigade then advanced under Oetensacken, and immediately the divisions of General Kamacke and Wrangle participated driving the enemy at all points.—Meanwhile the French General L'Admirault attempted to flank the first Corps, but was attacked by the reserves, which advanced with drums beating under Gen. Mantuffel. The enemy was splendidly repulsed and driven into the fortress. Many were captured. Our troops advanced to Bellecroix and Borny within range of the forts. This morning the King made a reconnaissance on the field of battle, visiting the advance posts to ensure transportation of wounded French and Prussians alike, and a point above Konks, on the right of Moelle. From this point the enemy was invisible in the clouds of dust, and we infer, therefore, that the main body has departed.

Paris, August 16.

An official dispatch from the Prefect of Metz to the Minister of the Interior says a body of Germans Uhlands have been seen in the neighborhood of Commeny, marching towards Barle Duc. He therefore cut the railways in that section to impede the advance of the enemy.

London, August 16.

According to the most reliable advices the evacuation of Metz was started by the advance guard of the Crown Prince. Reports from Verdum state a great battle is going on, but the silence of the French authorities confirms the rumors received here of a Prussian victory.

Great consternation was produced in Paris by the declaration of a state of siege in Algeria.

Savona, August 16.

The fortress of Marsal, a small town a little northeast of Nancy, has been captured by a body of Bavarian troops, after a short bombardment. Sixty cannon were captured.

An inventor of "a machine to facilitate marriages" has sent a model to the Patent Office at Washington.

Yesterday, a well-to-do citizen was down town until late in the evening, and the society of a number of friends had somewhat disturbed the serenity of his mind.—In getting into a car, to re turn home, he staggered a little, and tangling his feet in a lady's skirt measured his length on the floor. He struggled to his feet, and looking around, indignantly demanded to know who struck him. A gentleman present remarked sotto voce: "You fell over that lady's feet, nobody struck you." The salubrious citizen turned round and surveyed the cause of his accident a moment, and then, as if by no means satisfied with the reason of his mishap, said: "Madam you've got the biggest feet I ever saw." "Siri!" asperated the lady, flushed with anger. "Pray, don't apologize, madam," interposed the man. "I'm aware it ain't your fault, but take my advice, sit sideways in the future, and give them the full range of the car," and taking a seat he looked the essence of sublime indifference.—N. O. Picayune.
