OIL CREEK JUNCTION RAILROAD.—We were mistaken in stating last week that the J. & P. Railroad was to be extended from Oil City to Petroleum Centre. The road is to be built by a new organization under the title of Oil Creek Junction Railroad Company, of which S. P. McCallum, Esq., of this city, is President; Geo. B. Ely Treasurer; James W. Osborn, Esq., Secretary. Directors—Geo. H. McIntire, P. H. Watson, James Miles and James W. Osborn. A preliminary survey of the route has been made and work will be commenced in a short time.—Venango Citizen.

The Titusville Herald of this morning publishes a sensational report signed by Jas. Sanders, stating that the Carpenter well No. 1, Shaw farm, had been torpedoed and the production increased from twenty barrels per day to eight hundred barrels per day. From a gentleman just from Rousseau, and who had visited the well, we learn that it was pumping 200 barrels per day and decreasing. It was thought it would an 80 to 100 barrel well.

The O. C. & A. R. R. have completed their new depot at Trunksville. The Express office is in the same building, and is under charge of our friend Morgan, formerly connected with the express office in this place. He is the right man in the right place.

Crawford county gave the nomination to Mr. Gilliam at the late conference meeting. Mercer stood her ground to the last for Mr. Achre, her candidate. The latter county can now have a chance to stir Crawford.

The corner stone of the new Episcopal Church at Rousseau was laid this morning.

FATAL STROKE OF LIGHTNING—TWO MEN KILLED.

About half past four o'clock yesterday afternoon, during the severe thunder storm that prevailed in this section, a derrick on a new well on the Great Republic tract, about a mile southeast of Shamburg, belonging to Jonathan Watson, Jas. Pettigru, Superintendent, was struck by lightning and two men, Richard Sweet and Nelson Francisco, who were in the derrick at the time were instantly killed. Mr. Sweet was engaged in drilling and Mr. Francisco, was sitting on a stool in the corner of the derrick, at the moment of the instantaneous death. The person of the former exhibited few external marks of injury, except upon the foot and breast, though his clothes were considerably burned. The other unfortunate man was thrown violently to the floor and his hip and forehead cut. The derrick was shattered, the lightning having descended one corner of it and the rope. It was noted that the links of the silver chain worn by Richard Sweet were separated, also the case of his watch. Mr. Sweet had followed the occupation of drilling some four years; he was a single man, twenty-four years of age. He has a brother at Shamburg, of the firm of Jones & Sweet. His remains will be taken to-day to Sandy Hill, N. Y., his former residence. Mr. Francisco was about forty-five years of age, lived at Shamburg and leaves a family to mourn his untimely death. He was making a friendly call on Sweet who, when the storm came up, was warned to "shut down," but thought the precaution unnecessary.—Herald.

Court Proceedings.

Franklin, August 24.

At the meeting of the court the case of Commonwealth vs. Theo. Hatch was resumed; indictment, aggravated assault and battery, which occupied all the forenoon. The jury is still out.

Commonwealth vs. O. Lanac; aggravated assault and battery on a colored woman at Petroleum Centre, by throwing a lighted lamp. The jury found defendant just guilty enough to pay the costs.

Commonwealth vs. T. McLaughlin; assault and battery, nol. pros. entered.

Commonwealth vs. D. Wagner and Wm McDowell; assault and battery and robbery. Tried. Jury out.

MELONS at from 15 to 40 cts. at A. M. Shult's. Also, a heavy stock of Tomatoes, Peaches, Pears, Grapes, and everything good, which will be sold cheap. Don't go past without giving us a call. We are going to sell cheaper than the cheapest.

The Oil City Times of this morning reports the Lady Coriatha well, McCray farm, as having started up at 200 barrels per day, and gradually fell off to 50 barrels. The well commenced pumping 50 barrels and increased to 100. It has never yielded over 100 barrels daily.

On Wednesday last a boiler on the Hiner farm, near Pithole, exploded, throwing a man named Irwin who was in the engine house at the time, some distance in the air, injuring him so severely that amputation of his leg was necessary. The operation was performed by Dr. Wynne of Titusville.

The Burtis well at Pithole, an old landmark there, was struck by lightning yesterday afternoon, and the derrick and oil tank destroyed, but the well is still pumping.—No person was injured.—Herald.

The business of Franklin is decidedly improving, owing to the successful oil developments in that vicinity.

One of the coincidences which so often take place in human affairs is, that when at Tunis, in a boat, Captain Folsom presented Farragut with a Turkish scabbard. The scabbard of this weapon was ornamented with an embossed figure, representing a frigate passing between the fires of two forts, having three tiers of guns. This seems like a prophecy of the victories of New Orleans and Mobile.

The Paris Charivari represents a French soldier working a mitrailleuse. Before him is a vast plain covered with dead bodies.—"Dear me," explains the soldier, "why I only began turning the crank five minutes ago, and the war is already over. I must have turned it too fast."

An impression prevails in some quarters that the two cent stamp on checks will not be required after October 1. This is an error. The new law exempts "promissory notes for a less sum than one hundred dollars, and receipts for any sum of money or for the payment of any debt."

Instead of "hops" at the watering places this season, there are so many round dices, that they are called "twists." It is very common to see a gentleman walk up to a lady, run out his elbow, and say, "Madame will you favor me with a twist?" And she twists.

Latest and Most Important War News.

New York, August 25.

A special to the Evening Telegram says: There is a great deal of excitement this afternoon over a rumor in the stock Exchange to the effect that the Prussian army under the Crown Prince was defeated by the French under McMahon. The rumored repulse of the Prussians, although occasioning the wildest excitement cannot be traced to any reliable source.

A special to the Evening Telegram says: The report of the attempt to assassinate McMahon is reported this forenoon but without foundation.

Reinforcements for the army continue to go forward. A number of Arab chiefs have gone to the front. A corps of Poles is organizing for service in the French army. It is positively ascertained that the camp of Chalais has been burned by order of the Commander-in-Chief.

A special dispatch from Berlin says: Since last Tuesday Metz has been completely surrounded by a strongly entrenched force of Prussians.

No attempt at a rally had been made to noon yesterday.

NEW FASHION IN HANDS.—Have you ever seen a pet dog sitting on his hind legs? Do you remember the pensive attitude of the paw? Can you recall the idiotic helplessness expressed in the line in which they droop? If you do, you have before you a perfect representation of the new fashion (growing into great favor with the ladies) of holding the hands. By so bending the arms that the elbows make very acute angles, and then by allowing the entire hands, from the wrists downwards, to hang loose like hair bells, an air of graceful impudicity is imparted to the general appearance. When you see a woman holding her hands thus, she looks like a superior sort of penguin, and you may be sure that her style is reprehensible.

A long continued drought in New England recalls the story of a minister of New Hampshire, who prayed for rain in this fashion: "O, Lord, we pray for rain! Not a tearin', drivin' rain such as harrus up the face of natur', but a drizzlin', sozzlin' rain, such as taste a'll day, and pretty much a'll night."

A philosophical cartoon in Philadelphia thus speaks of the section over which his wheels make their tracks: "If you run over a youngster in this war, the folks don't say anything, 'kase they got more children than wittles for 'em; but just run over a goat or pig, and blast if a mob ain't arter you in two minits."

A little Delaware boy, dying, is reported to have "charged his brother William not to dance, or sing any more songs." The Boston Post thinks that's the boy to make a Sunday School book of.

Six hundred cords of wood belonging to the Lake Shore Railroad was burned at North East, Pennsylvania on Monday, near the depot.

A bachelor on Twenty-seventh street, New York, had the blues, and applied to a doctor for some medicine. The doctor inquired into his case and wrote a prescription in Latin, which the bachelor took to a drug store. Translated the prescription read, "seventeen yards of silk, with a woman in it." The bachelor proposed to a lady that evening, and was married in two weeks.
