SOCIETY AND FASHION.

Ribbons are supplanting every other ornament for the hair.
 Ladies this season prefer narrow ruffles to flounces, on the skirt.
 Fire gilt bronze is a very favorite material for fancy articles now-a-days.
 The last usage of Fashion declares the chignon in all its forms banished from her dominions.
 A velvet smoking jacket is considered indispensable to the wardrobe of the swell of the period.
 The "coming" wedding cards are rose colored, large and nearly square. Monograms larger and more elaborate than before.
 Velvet scarfs are becoming popular for evening dress. They pass from the left shoulder under the right arm, and are fastened at the back of the corsage.
 It is universally admitted that fashions for fall and winter will be considerably toned down—that the endless draperies and disfiguring paniers will offend the sight more.
 All sorts of what Mrs. Partington calls "articles of virtue and bigotry" Russian leather now-a-days will show it prettiest are mouchoirs with heavy plate gills with a large monogram.

Latest and Most Important War News.

London,
 Yesterday the Prussians managed to cut the line of communication between Amiens and Rouen.
 They were beaten off without their object.
 There was a slight skirmish yesterday, in which the Prussians were successful.
