GREAT FIRE AT PARKER'S LANDING.

By a telegram from Parker's Landing we learn that a disastrous fire broke out in that town this morning...

LATER.—The following is a list of houses destroyed: Morrison's liquor store; Leavenworth's saloon; Snedeker's boot and shoe store; Spat's clothing store; Weaver & Son's restaurant; Eckert House; P. F. Lock's barber shop; Herbst's office; Goldrick, Parson & Gaitley's office; Johnson's saloon; Fell's & Fuller house; Stahl's dry goods store; Spencer's restaurant; Fritz's billiard saloon; Book's billiard saloon; Johnston's saloon, and a number of other small offices and buildings.

The fire originated about half-past four o'clock this morning in an old "free and easy," from an unknown cause.

By a dispatch from Foster Station, we learn that the new well on the Angell, Prentice & Whitney tract, is yielding about 150 barrels per day.

The beautiful drama entitled the "Pearl of Savoy," will be produced at the Opera House, this evening, Miss Fanny B. Price appearing in her great character of "Marie the Pearl of Savoy," supported by the entire company in the cast.

For every idler in the community somebody is at work. It is a sponge, a burden, a hindrance to somebody or some family in particular, and the community at large.

Eric received a shaking up Tuesday by the second earthquake of the season. No shock was felt in this city.

A special to the Pittsburgh Commercial, says:

Brady's Bend, Pa., Nov. 2, 1870. A new well was struck to-day on the farm of Jacob Mildren, Armstrong Run, and is flowing through the casing one thousand barrels per day fully. It is said that she has flowed four hundred barrels in the last six hours. This well adjoins the famous Armstrong well, and near the James well, which has been flowing one hundred barrels per day for the last month. Several new wells are being drilled and will be completed shortly. The territory surrounding these wells is being leased rapidly.

Later dispatches received here state that the flow of the well is variously estimated from 400 to 1,200 barrels daily. As near as can be learned the well is flowing from 300 to 400 barrels per day, without the tubing in. This production will probably last until the powerful volume of gas which exists in the oil territory at that place, exhausts itself. LATER.—A telegram from Brady's Bend, received at noon to-day, says the new well is flowing at the rate of 400 barrels per day. This shows a large falling off from first reports of the production.

Among the very best of our exchanges is the East Brady Independent, published by Col. Sam. Young, at East Brady. It contains every week a full and complete account of the oil and other news from the Allegheny River, besides a vast amount of miscellaneous, political, telegraphic and other news. The Col. has recently enlarged and otherwise beautified his paper, making it typographically and editorially one of the best papers in Western Pennsylvania. Those of our readers desiring a first-class, spicy readable journal in every respect, should subscribe for the Independent. Its not only independent in name but independent in action. Success to the Col. and his paper.

A man named Patrick McPhillips has been arrested at Shamburgh, and after an examination, committed to jail at Franklin to await the result of the injuries to George H. Lehman, one of the men shot in the late affray at that place. Lehman is badly wounded, the ball passing through his left lung and coming out between the shoulders. The name of the other wounded man is Thos. Farrell, who was shot in the shoulder by a man named Edward Kirk. Kirk made his escape and so far has eluded the officers in pursuit of him.

U. S. Collector P. R. Gray, has given notice of the discontinuance of the Deputy Collectors' offices at Mercer, Titusville and Oil City. This leaves only two Deputy Collectors in the District—one at Meadville and one at Clarion.

Shakespeare's describes—"One Pinch, a hungry barefaced villain, A mere anatomy." But he didn't board at the Petroleum Exchange Hotel, for if he had, he wouldn't have been hungry after disposing of one of the square meals gotten up there, or even an oyster stew or fry. If you want something good to eat, and plenty of it, drop in and see "Alf." or "Ed." at the Petroleum Exchange.

Rev. M. Crezier, formerly of the city of Indianapolis, Ind., will preach in the public school house, of Petroleum Centre, on Sabbath next, at 11 a. m., and 2 p. m.—Subject—the opening of the seals, (Rev. 6, 1-8) the Final Judgement, Acts 17-31. All are invited.

A man named Michael Garty was run over by a freight train on the A. V. R. R., near Sandy Station, on Sunday morning last, and instantly killed. Coroner Larue, of this city, was summoned, an inquest held, and a verdict in accordance with the facts, rendered.—Citizen.

Latest and Most Important War News.

London, Nov. 3. It is reported that Thiers has proposed at Versailles an armistice, on the basis suggested by the British Ministry, and that the proposition will be, if it has not already been, accepted by Prussia.

Thiers expresses great satisfaction at the course pursued by England. The World cable special dated London, Nov. 31, says: An armistice has been concluded. Tours, Nov. 3.

The Government has no news from the mission of Taliers, and there are no official advices from the army of the Seine.

From Marseilles very unfavorable reports are received in regard to the conduct of the people.

Some excesses have been committed, and it is said the Administrator was shot at on the occasion of his assumption of municipal control.

Luon shall be defended to the death. No person shall leave the place in anticipation of a struggle, except women, children and old men.

All others who escape, or seek to escape, shall be considered infamous, and dealt with as traitors.

The journals of Tours declare that the more facts in regard to the surrender of Metz become known, the more is shown Bazaine's course was treasonable.

Much stress is laid upon the manner in which the officers and men were deceived in regard to the condition of the finances.

The fact that forty million of francs, and enormous quantities of munitions were delivered to the enemy, is also dwelt upon as evidence of treason.

To night the young and talented artist, Miss Fanny B. Price, with a full New York dramatic company, opens at Sobel's Opera House, in the great sensational drama of the "Pearl of Savoy." Miss P. is too well known to need any recommendation from us, and we have no doubt but that the house will be crowded.

The Louisville Courier-Journal gravely obituarizes a deceased contemporary as follows:—

The Texas paper called the Jimblecute is dead. It was only a few months ago that it denounced us a liar and a scoundrel and a horse thief, because we incidentally referred to its funeral as an event likely to occur some time within the present century. We saw death in its face the day it was born.

A clergyman, reading a chapter from the bible for his congregation, found himself at the bottom of the page with the words, "And the Lord gave Noah a wife," then, turning over two pages instead of one, he continued, "and he pitched her within and without with pitch."

An exchange thus speaks of a certain class of young men: They who suppose that they are approaching Byronic excellence by turning down their shirt collars, running after women and talking soda in the morning to cure a night's debauch are cultivating a delusion. These characteristics were not popular, even with Byron, and if he had been more of a man his example in this respect would not have come down to us to mislead young men who take more pride in the hair on the outside than of the brains on the inside of their heads.

A bank check for $500, which has had a curious history, was sent to the Treasury Department at Washington, a short time since. It was taken from the body of a murdered Texan cattle drover, several years ago, by Indians, who in consequence of the variety of colors in the rich engravings attached some special importance to it and cut the paper into several pieces, dividing them among the tribe. A peace commissioner finally persuaded the gentle savages to give up the pieces, and he pasted them together, and forwarded the check—now complete—to Washington.

Some Indiana youths returning from a ball compelled every one they met to dance for their amusement, till they met a kindred spirit who pulled a revolver and made them dance for his amusement an hour or more. Then they went home.

While one of the river boats was taking on some live stock, among the lot was one large gray mule that refused to walk the staging. The mate sung out to a roanabout to "twist his tail and he'd come."—A coroner's jury have decided that he came to his death by "obeying orders."—La Crosse Leader.
