Let the Cleveland shysters who live by doing job printing for the Oil Regions come to the Oil Regions to do it, or let them go hungry. That's business. And let those who send abroad to supply their various personal wants, to the detriment of home merchants and mechanics, go abroad for their customers. That's common sense.—Rouseville Bulletin.

We agree perfectly with the Bulletin in its remarks on this subject. There is a class of business men who patronize a Cleveland printing house because they get printing done a trifle cheaper than it can be done here,—at the same time if there is any little favor they want they are always willing to patronize a home paper when it costs nothing, apparently laboring under the mistaken idea that printers can live on nothing but newspapers and grow fat. This applies to other small dealers and tradesmen, as a case in point will illustrate. A few days since one of these "shysters" came around peddling valve cups, offering them a trifle cheaper than the dealers in town sold them, and induced quite a number to buy. At the same time those who bought should they happen to want any little job of patching done, at which every one knows there is no money to be made, are always running after home dealers to "patch them up." Our advice to all such would be to buy their goods of outside dealers, and also to depend on them for their patronage. We are glad to know that there are but few such "penny wise and pound foolish" business men in this place. By the above remarks we do not mean to carry the idea that we are begging patronage. Whenever the time comes that we cannot earn a living by publishing a newspaper at this point, then we shall "peg out," "slip our cable" as gracefully as the circumstances will admit and "drift" away.

"Looking at the aurora borealis" is the excuse made of families and young men give now at breakfast for being out late the previous evening.

A Lesson for "Starcers"

A correspondent writes that Paw Paw, Michigan, can furnish its full quota of those feathered bipeds, yeelp "loafers," whose principal occupation is loitering about the public houses, staring at ladies who pass by, watching the crossings on windy days their vacant faces radiating with a satisfied grin if by chance a bit of petticoat or an ankle is exposed to their gaze. As three of these worthies were lounging on the steps of the R— House, a day or two since, a young lady, a stranger and exceedingly beautiful, passed by, regardless of the admiring stare which the group gave her, and entered L—'s dental rooms. The trio after voting her a "stunner," and wondering "who the deuce she could be," determined to follow her, and one of the party extemporizing a toothache on the occasion. As it happened, the lady, who was an acquaintance of L—'s, had called to make a friendly visit, so, as there was no excuse for delay, the sufferer from toothache was at once placed in the chair. But when L— glanced into his mouth he found, to his surprise, not a trace of decay, but, on the contrary, thirty-two perfectly sound teeth. He saw through the affair at once, and thinking to make it interesting, he began feeling about with a pair of forceps, then with a firm grasp, seizing the bicuspid comar, he turned it with a single wrench completely around in its socket. The fellow howled and kicked and struggled, but L— with a firm grasp held him in the chair, saying soothingly, "Be perfectly passive! I'll have it out in a minute!" and in another instant the tooth was on the table. The fellow sprang from the chair, and as he spat the blood from his mouth L— handed him a glass of water, saying quietly, "Rinse your mouth. Half dollar, sir!" He passed over the fifty, and the trio, looking extremely witted, sneaked out of the office.

This evening there is to be a select so-party at the new hall, nearly opposite the Rochester House, on Washington St. The managers have spared no pains in getting up the party, and a nice time may be anticipated. Carter's Band of Union will furnish the music for the occasion.

Woodhull & Claflin's Weekly, the organ of the ex-spiritual medium, ex-Wall street brokeresses, has trained its guns on the Pennsylvania Central railroad and the roads under lease to that corporation.—This week the Philadelphia & Erie is the particular agony of the sensational female. The road is expected to survive.

ACCIDENT.—A little child of Mr. Jas. K. Elliott, residing in Wild Cat, met with quite a severe accident yesterday afternoon. It appears that Mr. E.'s wife's sister had set a pall hot of water on the floor, and went out of doors on an errand. His two children were playing about the room at the time, when one of them accidentally fell into the boiling water. The child was badly scalded about the body and lower extremities, but with proper care will probably recover.

It will be seen by reference to A. Leggett's advertisement in another column, that he is selling Valve Cups for $12 per hundred, or 50 cts. a sett. He also keeps on hand a complete assortment of harnesses, trunks, &c. Mr. L. has the reputation of being one of the best mechanics on Oil Creek, and oil operators and others will do well to give him a call. Try his Valve Cups.

A young woman in Sacramento, Cal., is threatening to get a divorce on the novel ground of "protracted festivities." She says her husband celebrated his marriage by getting drunk, and has kept up the festival ever since.

The Boston Post gets off this: When they brought the returns into Greeley, It is said he first swore—then said really I think that's a beet— If it isn't I'll treat, Said the agricultoolooral Greeley.

"Kissing for fun" cost a man $150 at New York, on Friday, a jury in the Common Pleas Court deciding that it raised hopes of marriage.

Two San Jose lovers, both under age, evaded the law by hiring a steam tug and a minister in Frisco, going to see a marine league, and there getting married.

Latest and Most Important War News.

New York, Nov. 17. The steamship Lafayette left port at noon yesterday, with consignment of munition of war amounting to nine hundred and fifty thousand dollars, consisting of Springfield muskets, cartridges, carbines, artillery, &c. The muskets were purchased from the United States government and sent to this city from Watervliet arsenal.

London, Nov. 17. The ships Hans and Lepsic formerly plying between New York and Bremen, and latterly between Baltimore and Bremen, have been captured by a French man-of-war.

Particulars wanting. 78 passengers were taken with the Hans and 29 with the Lepsic.

Brussels, Nov. 15. The telegraph dated last evening, announcing that England, Turkey, Austria, and Italy, have agreed to preserve a common attitude toward Russia, and a collective note to that effect is preparing at Vienna. The threatening attitude of Russia causes a panic in the money market of that city.

Here's the way Punchinello speaks of one of our self-made men: "Hon. John Morrissey, like Webster, is a great Ex-ponder. Even greater than Webster, for the constitution of the United States is a trifling affair compared with the constitution of John C. Heenan. Mr. Morrissey is a very able man, and made his mark early in life—before he could write his name, I'm told.—No man has made more brilliant hits, and his speeches are concise and full of originality. 'I'll take my straight.' No sugar for me, &c., have become as household words. A man like this, though he may be vilified and slandered for a while, will evidently come in on the homestretch with a right bower to spare. That's a nice place John has got at Saratoga. Fitted up so elegantly and with so much money in it, it looks like a Fairy bank with the faeries gamboling upon the green. Its all very pretty, no doubt but excuse me if I pass."

The Green Bay (Wis.) Gazette contains the following unique notice:

"Whereas my pet, my pretty toy, My wife, my Lizzie J., Has left my bed and my employ, With other men to stray; I, therefore, take this forewarn You not to trust her with a straw, For I will never pay her coin, Unless compelled by law.

HENRY KANUTE.

Big Swamigo, Oct. 13, 1870."

Brutum Fulmen—Old gentleman: "Now you children, I'll tell you what it is: If you make any more noise in front of my house, I'll speak to that policeman." Chorus of juveniles (much tickled): "That policeman! Lor, we ain't feared of 'im; why that's father."—Punch.

The Commonwealth has purchased six thousand breech loading rifles, of the most improved pattern, for distribution throughout the State among the volunteer companies. Until distributed, the new muskets will be stored in the State arsenals at Harrisburg and Philadelphia. It is said that these rifles weigh fourteen pounds each, or nearly four pounds more than the Springfield musket.

In a case of adultery, lately tried in Kurrachee, India, the Mohammedan law of divorce was explained as consisting of the simple plan of the husband repeating three times, "You are divorced." This saves all the complicated machinery of a divorce court, but the wife is not allowed to avail herself of the same three talismanic words.

To-morrow evening there is to be a grand masquerade ball at Brown's Hotel, Miller Farm. Costumes and masks will be furnished by Mrs. J. B. Smith, and will be on exhibition Thursday and Friday, Nov. 17 and 18, at Brown's Hotel. Mr. Jas. O'Neill, the popular landlord of this hotel, never undertakes anything of this kind but what he is bound to carry it through in good shape. Undoubtedly there will be a goodly number in attendance.

Since January 1st, there have been rafted out of the Susquehanna boom at Williamsport 1,045,535 logs, or 213,366,588 feet board measure.

There will be fifty-three Sundays in 1871—the year beginning and ending on Sunday.

A German, who went to hear Nilsson says there is not enough of her. He wants a singer who looks like a fedded-bed-mit a string tied around der middle."

Dan Rice has sent his agent south and will soon follow with his great moral show. Dan will continue his farewell tour so don't be long, as he is able to crack a joke.
