PAPER.—As is customary, and in order to allow the "old boys" a chance to read and give thanks with the balance of unity, no paper will be issued from office to-morrow.

To-morrow has been designated by the President of the United States and the Governors of several States, as a day of thanksgiving and praise to Providence for the manifold blessings showered upon us as a people. Our harvests have been plentiful, and the country has been exempt from war and pestilence. With all this in view it is meet and proper that we should give thanks to Our Father in Heaven, and while doing so let us remember those who are less fortunate; who perhaps are stretched upon beds of sickness; or maybe are mourning the loss of near and dear friends and relatives, or are suffering for the bare necessities of life. Let us remember all these, and especially the poor. By so doing we shall not only feel easier ourselves but make happy some who have been less fortunate. The day will undoubtedly be generally observed.

BURNING ACCIDENT.—On Monday afternoon, Mr. Rufus Brown, who resides on the Ingersoll & Bronson lease, Sam. Boyd farm, met with a severe burning accident by an explosion of benzine. It appears he was engaged in cleaning the engine at one of the wells with benzine, when an explosion occurred, by which he was badly burned about his face, breast and arms. Fortunately no flame was inhaled inwardly, and he is in a fair way of recovery.

The Post office at Petroleum Centre will open at 7 1/2 o'clock a. m. and close at 9 a. m., and open at 1 o'clock p. m. and close at 6 o'clock p. m. on Thursday the 24, 1870.

PETROLEUM AS FUEL.

[From the New York Commercial Bulletin]

After many trials which have proved futile, the use of petroleum as fuel has at last been brought to perfection, and it is now a fixed fact that crude oil can be used for generating steam, in either stationary engines, locomotives, or steamboats. The great obstacle in using this production as fuel has been the clogging up of the tubes used for feeding the flames by a deposit of solid carbonaceous matter, and this difficulty has been the only obstacle to complete success. This has at last been removed, and there is a factory in Philadelphia which is running night and day with no other fuel. No trouble is experienced from the cause above mentioned; and the fires have been running six months continuously. There is no smoke from this new fuel, no gas, and no trouble in feeding the furnace, the engineer acts in his own capacity and that of fireman combined, as he has only to turn a stop-cock to increase or diminish his fire. Having no ashes to clean out and being enabled to keep his engine room in good order at all times, the smell of the burning oil is scarcely perceptible. This material for generating steam is about to be tried here on a large scale, and if entirely satisfactory will prove a great saving in large factories, and petroleum only costs about one-half as much as coal when used as fuel, with a very large saving in labor. It generates steam much more rapidly than coal, and is just as safe to use, there being no danger of its taking fire if managed with ordinary care. It is now thought that this substance can be used on ocean and river steamers, and, if it can, running steamers can be made more profitable than now, as much of the room required for coal can be used for the purpose of stowing cargo, thereby materially increasing the profits of the voyage.

Persons familiar with Russia say that the other nations will be surprised to learn the completeness of her naval and military preparations. Several first class war steamers, carrying from thirty to forty guns each, are on the Pacific coast, and can be ready to sail at short notice to attack English commerce in Chinese waters. The port of Possyette, on the coast of Manchouria, is thoroughly fortified and fully equipped as a naval station, and connected with St. Petersburg by telegraph. The army has been thoroughly reorganized in the past five years, and a large force is now in or near the Black Sea. Russians now in New York say that the delay in making the demands for revising the treaty of Paris has been to get the troops in position, and be prepared for the possibility of war.

Monday afternoon, Edward Rouch, a brakeman on the railroad, while carrying the bell cord over a train of cars just outside of the lower yard limits, slipped and fell between the cars and was instantly killed, some twenty-six cars passing over his body. He was brought up to the city, and Tuesday morning his body was sent to his friends, who reside in the neighborhood of Cochranon.—Meadville Republican.

COAL OIL SALES IN CLEVELAND.—The Cleveland Leader says: The coal oil receipts of this city return four millions six hundred and thirty thousand and thirty dollars for the quarter ending September 30. Of this amount one million two hundred and twenty-five thousand seven hundred and thirty nine dollars was returned by one firm. Five hundred thousand two hundred and forty-three dollars by another; and four hundred and nineteen thousand and fifty-one dollars by another.

OBITUARY.—Mr. George W. Fuller died at the residence of his father, Wm. R. Fuller, on the Egbert farm, at 7 o'clock last evening, of typhoid fever. Mr. F. was a very promising young man, and his sudden death has caused a gloom to fall over a large circle of friends and relatives. At the time of his death he was in his eighteenth year.

A fine young man in Portsmouth, going to call on a fine young lady, Sunday evening, stopped to caress a supposed kitten that was sporting on the sidewalk. His new suit, when completed, will cost him $40.

Latest and Most Important War News.

Berlin, Nov. 23. A magazine exploded Monday near Metz killing and wounding several soldiers.

News is received from Paris by balloon up to midnight Monday. The City was tranquil. Gustave Fidiens, who was arrested for complicity in the riots on the 31st of August was at large again.

The supply of meat has been limited to 50 grammes daily of horse flesh. Vegetables are abundant. The Garde Mobiles were repulsed at Dreaux and Chateau Neuf. They fled west and north-west.

Some Landwehr, with two squadrons of the Fifth Hussars, were attacked by the French on the 29th, and withdrew to Charvot Tillan with a loss of 120 men and 70 horses.

Luxemburg, Nov. 23. The bombardment of Tatonville by the Prussians is very active today.

The states of the mind of the Western youth is illustrated by the following conversation: Father—"Who's the pitcher in the Red Stocking Ball Club?" Son—"Why Brainerd?" Father—"In the White Stocking Club?" Son—"Pinkham." Father—"Who was the second President of the United States?" Son—"I don't remember."

The least known part of this country is, perhaps, North Alabama, where, for a distance of two hundred miles, there are such inexhaustible stores of iron ore that it will not cost $2 a ton, while in Ohio and Pennsylvania it costs at the furnaces from $9 to $12 a ton. The coal is inexhaustible in the same vicinity. This great mineral wealth must ultimately make the Elyton region an unrivalled manufacturing district.

Boston and its vicinity consumes 450,000 barrels of lager and ale annually, and the worship of Gambrinus is increasing.

The present state of Europe is thus curiously described:

- Russia covets, Denmark's spoiled,
- Turkey fears, Spain is dead,
- Austria ponders, France lies dead,
- Italy chafes, Prussia sneers,
- Belgium-Holland, Betula shuts her eyes
- Walt in dread: Ann—Shores!

A change of time on the Philadelphia & Erie Road went into effect on Monday. The winter arrangement on the O. C. & A. R. R. and other roads in this vicinity will probably go into effect on Monday next.

We are in receipt of an invitation to attend the Dedication Exercise of Chateau Longe No. 508, I. O. of O. F. which takes place at their new hall in Titusville to-morrow afternoon at 2 p. m. "Will you take sunding?" said a German totteller to a friend, while standing near a tavern. "I don't care if I do," was the reply. "Well, den, let's take a walk."

This is a fair specimen of the vengeance with which they commit suicide in Kansas City: A man in the third story of a hotel fastened one end of a leather strap around his neck, and tying the other end to a bed-post, sat far out on the window sill and shot himself. The wisdom of this plan is evident, from the fact that if the shot failed he would have fallen out of the window and been hanged by the strap, and if the strap broke he would have gone down to the pavement and been a bad man for the undertaker.

A French man-of-war and a German merchantman, that had sailed in company for several days, exchanging friendly signals entered the harbor of Sydney, September 4, when they first learned that war existed.

The Venango County District Convention I. O. of G. T., will be held in Good Templars' Hall, Oil City, Tuesday, Nov. 23.—An interesting time is expected.

The Georgia authorities are preparing to put their new free school law in operation. It is modeled after the Pennsylvania system is very thorough and will give Georgia the first liberal and complete school system ever adopted by a Southern State.
