Almost a disastrous conflagration occurred at the McClintock House, Saturday evening by the explosion of a lamp in one of the bedrooms in the second story. The fire caught the window curtains and from that caught some clothing and would soon have spread to the wood work had it not been discovered. The loss was small. People cannot be too careful with their lamps as they are very liable to explode.

This forenoon while the freight train north was switching at Rynd Farm, the caboose and two freight cars ran off the track by the switch being accidentally left open. The cars were all tipped over and their contents dumped out. Conductor Cornell, who was in the caboose at the time, was thrown out striking against a pile of lumber and injuring him about the back quite severely, but not enough to take him off duty. The cars were loaded with coal.

There was great rejoicing at Allegheny City, on Thanksgiving Day, over the birth of an heir to the house of Shrum—a bouncing boy weighing eight pounds. The rejoicing was shared by all hands, on account of its being the first birth in the City.

By the caving in of a sand bank, on the Quinn farm, about a mile from Titusville, on Saturday afternoon, two men named Patrick Kane and Bernard Coffey were buried three feet beneath the surface and when taken out life was extinct.

Attention is called to the advertisement of the old and reliable Excelsior Life Insurance Company of New York. Messrs. Davis & Foster, Franklin, Pa., are General Agents for this company in the oil region, and Mr. M. D. Lane, Special Agent.

Corry has three hundred good Temples.

FAGUNDAS CITY.—This town, located in the West Hickory District, is generally noted throughout the oil region, and an occasional reference to its improvements is interesting. A correspondent of the Forest Press writes:

The town of Fagnudas, or Battle City, reminds one of the loudest days that oil ever inaugurated, carrying one back again to those five days of speculation. Yet men learn wisdom from past experience, and after all no such confusion and disorder as characterized in their earlier days Pitohole, Shamburg, and some other oil towns prevail. The buildings are more substantial generally, not being shanties, but homes and comfortable store-rooms, in many instances lathed and plastered—and better than all, amidst all these buildings, the House of God stands among them, lifting its high steeple, proudly overlooking all.—This church edifice is a fine building indeed, an honor to the place. The hotels are swarming, not with bedbugs, &c., but with active business men. No oil section presents a more industrious and excellent population than this. I will not give you any detailed account of hotels, stores, &c., of which there are many, as your columns are open for "business" in the way of advertising, and they can "blow their own horns."

Railroad Meeting.

At a meeting of the purchasers of the Oil City & Pitohole Branch Railway, held at the McHenry House on Tuesday, a new company was organized under the name of the "Pit Hole Valley Railway Company," and the following persons were duly elected Directors:

S. L. M. Barlow, New York; C. Day, New York; David Jones, Ravens, Ohio; Joseph G. Dale, Tionesta, Pa; Samuel Rea, Pittsburgh, Pa; J. McQueen Woods, Pittsburg, Pa.

The Directors elected the following officers:

A. H. Steele, President; C. Day, Secretary; J. A. Dale, Treasurer; Jas. T. Blair, Superintendent; S. Newton Pettis, Attorney.

The general offices of the Company are at Pit Hole, Pa.—Meadville Republican.

It is understood to be eventually the intention of the company to run the road through to Pleasantville, Shamburg and Titusville.

But Douglas round him drew his cloak, Folded his arms and thus he spoke:

"I'm weary and hungry, boys, let's go into Low Vouner's Oyster Saloon and try an oyster stew for fry, and they came out no longer weary or hungry, all of which can be easily explained by dropping, into his restaurant and trying a dish.

IMPORTANT NEW STRIKE.—A well on the Hill tract, Pine Creek, owned by T. C. Joy M. Bronson, F. W. Andrews, of Titusville, and Benson, Hopkins and McKelvy, of Enterprise, which has been pumping about six barrels the past ten days, was torpedoed on Wednesday by Mr. Thomas, since which time, we are reliably informed, it produced at the rate of 150 barrels per day.—This well is about three miles from Enterprise, on the line of the proposed Titusville and Tidoute Railroad, and opens up a new and valuable territory.—Herald.

Among the list of patents granted to citizens of Western Pennsylvania for the week ending November 23d, 1870, and each bearing that date, are the following:

- 109,433—Machine for threading bolts; Milton Love, Corry.
- 108,434—Chuck; Milton Love, Corry.
- 109,462—Tube-Drawer for deep wells; Jonas P. Smith, Pioneer.
- 109,463—Tube-Drawer for deep Wells; Jonas P. Smith, Pioneer.
- 109,464—Sucker-Rod Drawer for deep Wells; Jonas P. Smith, Pioneer.

A man named Anderson, was severely injured on Friday last by falling from a building in Venango City.

A man named Spatz, has been arrested at Parker's Landing, charged with setting fire to his own house in order to secure the insurance money upon it, and from which the recent disastrous fire at that place had its origin. He was bound over in the sum of $5,000 to answer, and failing to secure bail was committed to jail at Kittanning.

The proof against him is said to be conclusive and it is to be hoped for the benefit of the whole oil country that he will get, if guilty, the full measure of the law.

When the propeller Cuyahoga struck upon the rocks in the Sault river recently, she sprung a leak which required the pumps to be kept in constant motion. This lasted until the propeller reached Lake Michigan, when the leak suddenly stopped. Upon being placed in dry dock at Chicago, it was discovered that a monster catfish had been drawn into the break, completely shutting out the water.

Lille, Nov. 26.

An engagement took place Saturday at the village of Boves, near Amiens. The French troops repulsed the Germans with the bayonet.

The assailants suffered severely, losing three times as many men as the French. The army in and around Amiens is full of confidence.

Tours, Nov. 26.

The Moniteur says a great battle is impending.

Skirmishing so far has resulted in favor of the French. The Prussians demonstrated toward Getz and Monargis, but encountered much resistance, which obliged them to make a change in their plan of attack.

They moved a portion of their troops from the centre to the right, seeking to overwhelm the French left, which was too extended to be easily defended, and the enemy's movement was in such force that there had to be a heavy concentration of troops to resist it.

Chateau Dun in consequence was left uncovered, and has possibly been captured.

The Prussians on Thursday bombarded Neuville.

Tours, Nov. 26.

There was desultory fighting at several points along the army of the Loire Friday.

No particulars The Ublans are reported near La Chartre, twenty-five miles southeast of Lemans.

Luxemburg, Nov. 26.

Heavy cannonading was heard yesterday in the direction of Montmedy.

The place at last accounts was closely invested, though siege works had not been commenced.

The commandant threatens to blow up the fortress rather than surrender.

The garrison of Belfort made a sortie Wednesday, but were driven back.

CUT AND DRY.

Admiral Stephen C. Rowan, promoted to Vice Admiral, was in command of the Asiatic fleet at the time, and was not aware of his good fortune until his arrival in New York, a few days ago. He has been detached from active duty and placed on waiting orders.

A white man in one of the bar-rooms of Alabama, the other day, offered to pay for a quart of whiskey if a negro present would drink it. The offer was accepted, and the darkey is now a colored angel.

A man in Virginia has invented a flying machine, and is perfectly willing that any of his friends should try it from the highest church steeple in the place. But none of them care about going out "on the fly."

All railroad tickets are good until used the condition, "Good for this day only" being of no value—according to judicial decisions.

"The Same" is the name of a most popular drink. It is often the case that when you hear one man call for whisky, twenty call for "the same."

"The last of $700," was the valedictory written by a New Orleans chap on the back of a bill, before he passed it in for a drink.

It is reported that the fast trains between New York and Chicago are to be withdrawn the trouble and expense of running them being out of all proportion to the profits.

"The Fireplace" is the name of drinking saloon in Chicago. Any man can warm by it for ten cents, or get red hot for a quarter.

"Carrie," of the Boston Traveller makes a centre shot when she says if women were as particular in the choosing of a virtuous husband as men are in the choosing of a virtuous wife, a moral reformation would be soon begun.

The Venango Spectator says there is an oil well near that city which is pumped by water power.

On Friday five empty coal barges went down the Creek. They were built near Titusville, and are to be used in the Pittsburgh coal trade.
