The Titusville Herald's monthly petrofoum report appeared this morning. The production for November is estimated at 18,012 barrels per day, showing a decrease of nearly 2,100 barrels from the October production. The report is very full and complete and must prove of value to all interested in the oil business.

Sherry's New York Theatre arrived in town this forenoon. They will appear at PRENSYLVANIA PATENTS.—The following Sobel's Opera House this evening in the are among the United States Patents grantgreat drama of "Rip Van Winkle," and will ed to citizens of Western Pennsylvania

New WELL .- Well No. 88, Columbia farm, commenced testing on Friday last, and is now yielding 70 barrels per day .-No. 87, recently struck, is yielding over 100 bands per day. The Columbia farm now has two of the best producing wells in the ell region. The Columbia Oll Company of Pittsburgh are among our most successful ell operators.

NEW WELL.-A new well was struck on the Karns lease, Rochester truct, on Saturday night and to-day is yielding about six burrels. It is known as the Mechanics well. The Ruchester tract adjoins the Columbia

NEW WELL IN PINSOROVE TOWNSHIP .-A new well has been struck a short distance from the famous burning well and near Centrevelle, Pinegrove Township. It is known as the Canning well, and at first was the subject of all sorts of sensation reports. but can be safely set down as a ten barre well. This opensiup a new field. We will hereafter give further particulars about tals territory. - Venango Speciator.

George Turner who shot Rowland Knight, linger, at Hydetown a few days since, has surrendered himself gto the custody of the sheriff of Crawford county, and is now confired in Joil at Meadville.

EXPLOSION AND FATAL RESULT .- On Friday hat the boiler at well No. 10. Hoover farm, exploded, severely injuring William Miller, and resulting in the deat b of his brother Martin Miller. William Mil. ler was standing near the pump at the time of the explesion, and escaped fatal results. He ran out of the engine house through the scalding steam and water and plunged into the river, which no doubt arrested the effects of the disaster on him. -Martin was carried with the wreck; of the house and boiler nearly one hundred feet. and landed on the river beach, where he was picked up and taken into the water of the river, but too late to be benefitted .-Both of the unfortunate young men were then taken to a neighboring house, where a physician was called, who dressed their wounds and did all in his power to alleviate their enfferings. Martin bad to all'appearance suffered internal injuries and died dur, log the night. William is getting along favorably, and the physician thinks his chances for recevery are good. The young men were highly esteemed, and this calamity falls heavily on a widowed moth er .-The cause of the explosion is not definitely known, but the boiler was leaky and in bad condition generally, and as long as inferior boilers are in use we may look for such catastrophes as this.--Venango Specia-

Darwin's great principle of natural selection has recently been carried very nearly to its limits at Allemagoozelum City. Mr. David Kenney a few days since caught in Cherrytree Run a queer specimen of an amphiblous animal. This nondescript has a head shaped like a rat's, the body of a lizard, feet like a duck's, and a fish's tail. It was put into a box filled with water, but lived only a few bours. Mr. K. bas preserved it in alcohol, and it is his intention to send it to Harvard college for classification in natural history. Mayor Kenney has given it a German christening, as follows: Rattekopferdechseleibentefussekatzhensch wanz.

4 The Oil City Register saye:

The storm of Monday evening last, and the heavy gale of wind accompanying it. was the severest of the season. A number of derricks were blown down, but beyond this no damage was done.

Chris. Sillinger, a lad twelve years old, was drowned in the Allegheny river near Morans, during the storm. Previous to the storm two ladles employed him to carty them over the river in his skiff. He lauded them safely, but it is supposed the storm overtook him when returning .-Neither skiff nor body has been found at our latest advices.

The sixth new well on the Angell. Prentice & Whitpey tract, at Foster Station, on the Allegheny River commenced pumping on Friday last; and is now yielding between ninety and one hundred barrels per day. So far every well put down on this tract has proved a paying investment.

With their characteristic energy and goabeaditiveness in business matters, Mesers. Mease & Armstrong have again enlarged. baving purchased the stock of H. II. Warner, consisting, of flour, feed, hay, grain and provisions, and will hereafter run both establishments. This will no doubt largely increase their trade, as we hope it may. Our citizens should extend to them a liberal patronage. Remember their location -on Washington street, next door to the Mc-Clintock House.

The club has a room, furnished with beds, and the women gesto bed and sleep notil the time for their husbands to come home, when they are awakened and sent home. They think they can break their husbands of the babit of staying out. But perhaps they may get in the habit of staying out themselves, which the husbands will have to break.

Just as a traveller was writing his name on the register of a Leavenworth hotel, a bedbug appeared and took its way across the page.
