Monday, Nov. 28, 1870.

Gold, at 1 p. m., 110 1/2.

A day or two since we published an item copied from the Corry Republican, stating that a man named T. W. Evans had been arrested in that place on a charge of stealing a watch and a sum of money at Oil City.

By a letter received from Mr. Evans to-day, we learn that instead of his doing the stealing, the watch and money was stolen from him by another man.

Mr. Evans has been in the employ of the O. C. & A. R. R. for a number of years, and has always borne an excellent character for honesty.

We cheerfully make the amende honorable.

The price of lubricating oil took a sudden jump upward from $3.50 to $5.00 per barrel, at Franklin, yesterday.

We learn from good authority that in the whole Shamburg oil district there is not a single well producing over 15 barrels per day.

Over one hundred thousand barrels of oil have been purchased by parties residing here, at their own option for the first three and six months of next year; also, a large quantity sellers' option. At prices ranging from $3.30 to $3.75.

A man named Andrew Miller, living at Miller farm, was bitten by a pet rattlesnake yesterday, and died yesterday morning after terrible suffering.

We are informed by Rev. James Dunn, pastor of the Catholic Church of this place, that the article going the rounds of the press, purporting to be an "everlasting curse of the Roman Catholic Church, promulgated against Victor Emmanuel" by Pius IX, is a forgery, the article being taken from the "Tristram Shandy" of Sterne.

A fire broke out at Alexander Schofield & Co's refinery, Columbia farm, about nine o'clock last evening, which was extinguished without material damage being done. Loss estimated at $150 to $200.

FORLORN STRANGERS.—Four destitute men were asking at the station house for bread yesterday, and were sent to the Young Men's Home, on Duquesne way. They have worked on a railroad at Titusville, but the contractor "let out" without paying them, and while on the road to a job on the Connelville, poverty overtook them.—Pittsburgh Commercial.

Wonder who that contractor was?

The latest rumor in the way of railway matters is that the proposed change in the A. & G. W. division of the Erie Railway will take effect on January 1st., the road passing out of the Erie management into a Company with Gen. Geo. B. McClellan as President, and James Mollenry, Vice President. Of course the rumor mentions that Corry is to be the end of a division. Further particulars will be laid before the public as soon as we learn them.—Corry Republican.

The Episcopal Church at Rousseville is to have a fine bell, the gift of a liberal Philadelphian.

French Creek claims the champion knitter of Chautauqua county, a Mrs. George Rouse, who can knit two pairs of socks and cook three meals of victuals per day, besides looking after a dairy of ten cows.

Forty-two regular trains leave Oil City on the four railroads terminating at that place. The receipts at the station there for freight and fare, are $12,090 per month in excess of what they were four months since.

Azarius Moses, of Mercer county, made the journey from Connecticut, via Harrisburgh and Pittsburgh, to his present place in 1798, with an ox team team, being forty-two days on the route. At that time New Castle contained six or seven log houses, and Sharon was inhabited only by Indians; the white settler of the latter place being a man named Jones. Mr. Moses is a hale and hearty bachelor of eighty years and considers himself good for several years of life.

A New London Sabbath school teacher said to a very little boy, recently: "Suppose some bad, wicked boy should stop you on your way to church, and ask you to go to some bad place with him. What would you say?" "What would I say?" repeated the little wag, "I would say, 'Shoo, shoo, don't bother me, I'm bound for Sunday school.'"

Manager Sherry closes a very successful engagement, at Sobel's Opera House, this evening, on which occasion will be presented the most popular Irish drama of the day, entitled the "Colleen Bawn; or, The Brides of Garryowen." Miss Virginia Howard appearing as Eily O'Connor, the Colleen Bawn, and Mr. E. K. Chester as Hardees Cragan. The performance will conclude with the very laughable farce of Jem-Lind. As this is positively the last appearance of this excellent company in this place for some time, our citizens should give them "a bumper at parting."

The Rondout Petroleum Company are drilling a well on the hillside portion of their tract. The well is now down 700 feet and a fine sand rock 27 feet thick has been struck. This tract lies below the Metropolitan Co.'s property, on Cherrytree Run, and has hitherto been considered dry territory. From present appearances a good well will be struck.

Irwin, Bradstreet & Sherwood well, J. S. McCray farm, is being tubed to-day preparatory to testing.

A certain green customer, who was a stranger to mirrors, and stooped into the cabin of one of our ocean steamers, stopped in front of a large pier-glass, which he took for a door, and seeing his own reflection, he said: "I say, mister, when does this ere boat start?" Getting no answer from the dumb reflection before him, he again repeated: "I say, mister, when does this boat start?" Incensed at the silent figure, he then broke out: "Go to thunder! ye cursed saffras colored, sock-headed bull calf; you don't look as if you knew much anyhow!"

South America is certainly the most chaotic country on the face of the earth—conspiracy here—revolution there—ganchos in another place—new railroads—revolutionary movements—new lines of steamers—Congressmen asserting that Gen. Grant ridicules their wars, and getting a positive denial from American Minister—trouble 'twixt Equador and the United States of Colombia—conspiracy and so for a column. Their volcanoes must be to blame for all this.

The breakage of English steel in working is about ten per cent., while that of American is but two per cent.

The Cleveland Leader gives a list of one hundred and twenty vessels now laid up in that port for winter.

Latest and Most Important War News.

Brussels, Dec. 16. A report prevails here that Montmedy has not capitulated, but on the contrary, the Prussians were repulsed with great loss in killed and wounded.

London, Dec. 16. Dispatches dated Margony, 24th, says the bombardment of Paris is not expected for ten days.

Berlin, Dec. 16. The Provincial Correspondence of this city says the proposed bombardment of Paris has again been postponed, because such a course at present would be detrimental to military operations, and the real object of the war and interest of the army at this juncture are paramount considerations.

Unquestionably at the right moment, the commander of the investing army will take such action as will fully insure immediate success.

London, midnight, Dec. 14. It is reported that Feemp, a seaport town, 21 miles northeast of Havre, has been occupied by the Germans.

Bordeaux, Dec. 16. The Sub-Prefect of Havre, in a report received here, claims having sent a dispatch announcing a French victory at Paris.

He maintains that there is a general and precipitate retreat of the Prussians from the north of France.

The force of Gen. Fallierber continues to operate successfully, and some Prussian attacks on Gen. de Chanzy's line have been repulsed with loss to the assailants.

A report by a balloon which landed at Harfleur has not been received at Bordeaux but a dispatch from the aeronaut says there is good news from Paris.

The following dispatch has been forwarded to prefects of Departments:

The Duke of Mecklenburg on Wednesday attacked the town of Ficteral, on the road from Chateau Dan, which he occupied in strong force.

We recaptured the place yesterday. Having united his troops with those of Prince Frederick Charles, they engaged our forces in combat yesterday near Verann.

The battle lasted till night, and the loss of the enemy was great.

News has been received that between the towns of Briar and Glen three battalions of Bavarians have been defeated by the Mobles.

London, Dec. 15. Proof of a Prussian scheme for the restoration of the French Empire came from every quarter, that Bismarck says this is the only way the war can end, that Republican France will fight forever, that the fall of Paris can produce no effect, and that the only course is to make terms with the Emperor and go home and leave the French to fight it out between themselves.

The President and Secretary of War are determined to suppress the custom of "hoaxing" and maltreating new cadets at West Point, Two Cadets, Frank and French, have been dismissed from the service of the United States, by an order of the 6th, for attempting to molest new cadets.

A Wisconsin woman grood up her child in a cider-mill. This jury had to decide besides-self.

A Chicago editor says that "half the people who attend musical entertainments don't know the difference between a symphony and a sardine."

The Kentucky Baptist preacher won't get his life insured because, he says, it's no more or less than "straight betting against the Almighty."

A Yankton (Dakota) man on thanksgiving day, drank twenty-two glasses of rye whiskey, in Wambold's saloon, in fifteen minutes, and afterwards was forced by others to drink a dozen more glasses of beer.—The man died in five minutes after drinking the last glass of beer.

A pair of unsophisticated twin sisters in St. Joseph, Mo., played a game of "old sledge" for the hand of a neighboring farmer the other day. At a critical point in the proceedings one of the artless young creatures "turned up Jack" from his hiding place, in her sleeve, won the stakes, and married him in a week. The loser cherishes a prejudice against cards and all other tricks that are vain now, and has set her cap for a Sabbath school exhorter of the vicinage.

"The Old Franklin Almanac" for 1871, published by A. Finch, Philadelphia, is a valuable publication. It contains a complete record for 1870, and as a work of reference is invaluable. Price 20 cents.

A friend of ours says that he loved his wife when he married her, but when he found out what excellent buckwheat cakes she could make, he worshipped her. Young ladies take warning.
