A new well was struck on the Wilkins farm, West Hickory, yesterday, which we learn by a telegram is yielding 75 barrels per day.

Yesterday, Mr. E. M. Verrill of this place, purchased of R. W. Evans of Titusville, the property known as the Evans tract, being a portion of the Dempsey farm on Cherrytree Run.

Shocking Railroad Accident.—About two o'clock yesterday afternoon the rear car of a passenger train on the A. & G. W. R. R., going west, while passing over the trestle work at Sutton Station, seven miles from Meadville, was, owing to a broken rail, precipitated down an embankment a distance of about forty feet.

The Presbyterian Social will be held at the Central House, this evening. A pleasant time may be expected.

Madge (to her elder sister, who had just rung the bell door bell) "Flora, your beaux here." Flora—"Let him in immediately, you naughty girl." Madge—"I will if you'll promise to give me your bon-bon box and cordials."

A CAPITAL JOKER.—The New Jersey Patriot tells the following story, which it says is all the more palatable because it is true and can be touched for. It took place a few Sundays since at one of the prominent 4th street churches. It seems that a worthy deacon had been very industrious in selling a new church book, costing 75 cents. At the services in question, the minister, just before dismissing the congregation, rose and said: "All you who have children to baptize will please present them next Sabbath." The deacon, who by the way, was a little deaf, and having an eye to selling the books, and supposing his pastor was referring to them, immediately jumped up and shouted: "All you who haven't any can get as many as you want by calling on me, at 75 cents each." The preacher looked cross-eyed at the brothers, the brothers looked at the clergyman, the audience punched the audience in the side, the bubble grew larger, until it burst in a loud guffaw. Ladies colored up, crimsoned, blushed, and thanked the Lord for the low price of peopling the earth. The woe benediction that morning worth speaking of. The deacon, after he had found out his mistake, changed his pew from the front of the church to the third from the rear; and though he cannot hear the sermon he is consoled with the thought that the young ladies can't snicker at him.

THE FAIR.—The interest in the fair at Sobel's Opera House is increasing each evening. Much merriment was occasioned last night by the fish pond and fortune telling departments, under charge of Mr. Johnson. This evening the Junior Dramatic Association will give an entertainment, and new novelties will be introduced. Tickets admitting to fair and entertainment, 25 cents. The polls for voting on the various articles contested for, will be closed as follows: Friday evening at 8 o'clock the vote on the office chair, between Messrs. Kaffer and McCray, will be decided. 9 p. m.—The Boy's Prize. 9 1/2 p. m.—The Ladies' Sacque, between Mrs. Huribart and Mrs. Carman. 10 p. m.—The Ladies' Work Box, between Miss Henderson and Miss Kate Wall. 10 1/2 p. m.—The Doctor's Case. 11 p. m.—The Ladies' Watch, between the committee. On Saturday evening the polls will close as follows: 8 1/2 p. m.—The Bible, between the Committee. 9 p. m.—The Secretary. 9 1/2 p. m.—The Clock, between Messrs. Gaffney and Theobolt. 10 p. m.—The Silver Set, between the Hotels. 10 1/2 p. m.—The Gold Chain, between Messrs. Healy and Sternburg. 11 p. m.—The Gold headed Cane, between Messrs. Barcroft and Hare. 11 1/2 p. m.—Gold Chain, between Messrs. McMahon and Robinson.

Among the strongest of rare lozes is a veil given by Nicholas, Emperor of Russia, to the late Thomas H. Seymour of Connecticut. It is very large, of exquisite design, and so fragile, so ethereal in texture that when shaken out and cast upon the air it floats like a thistle down and it is many minutes before it will settle in a close room and then a whispered invitation will start it on its aerial travels again.

Down in Jersey the girls call the New York city swells "spuds;" and when they go to the city shopping the creatures contrive to do Broadway between the hours of three and four in the afternoon, which they call "spud-time." Spuds is good.

On Sunday evening there is to be a concert and review of the M. E. Sunday School at the Church. It will consist of a review of the quarter, together with singing and recitations by the children. The church has been beautifully decorated and trimmed with evergreens for the occasion, and the friends of the Sabbath School are cordially invited to attend.

It appears that the anthracite coal production of Pennsylvania sent to market during the present year amounts to 14,539,272 tons, an increase of 1,988,420 tons over last year.

Buffalo clergymen are disposed to be somewhat personal in their public petitions, judging from the following extract from a prayer offered by one of the fraternity last Sunday: "On Lord, bless those who are on their way hither; bless those who are getting ready to come; bless those who do not come at all; and in a special manner we pray thee, bless those who arrived in time to hear the first prayer."

Some boys at Fort Dodge, Iowa, played European war. The "Prussians" burned a haystack behind which the "French" had taken refuge, and dislodged them.—The owner of the haystack says he doesn't know much about this war business, but he'd like to see the man that pays for his fodder.

Latest and Most Important War News.

Bordeaux, Dec. 28. General Faldherbe, in a dispatch to the Minister of War, announces that owing to the intense coldness of the weather he will encamp his troops near Arros and await the prosecution of the general movement throughout France for the relief of Paris and the deliverance of France. The weather in Southern France is intensely cold. The Prussians cannonaded the town of St. Calais on the 25th and then entered the place, where they committed many disorders. General Chausy sent a formal protest to the Prussian General and subsequently issued an order of the day to his troops in which he says: "I have warned the Prussians against further perpetrations of such horrible actions which they have committed against unarmed places and people, who merit better treatment from the enemy because of their humanity to the Prussian sick and wounded."

The General adds that it is evident that France is not combatting honorable enemies but devastating hordes; but he will on his struggle to preserve her honor and independence.

London, Dec. 23. General Chansey complains of the conduct of the Prussians. He denies having been defeated and avows his intention of taking revenge for the acts of vandalism of the enemy.

St. Calais, in the Department of Sarthe, 26 miles from Le Mans, has been invested by the Prussians who left the town after making a requisition upon the inhabitants.

It is said General Bourbaki is moving with his army to the eastern portion of France to operate against General Worder.

THE DECLINING YEAR.

The year begins to tremble with age. Like an old man who leans upon his staff, and in the graveyard reads the epitaph of all the offspring who have passed away: But yet soft breezes with his thin locks play, scattering their sadness with a joyous laugh, while the great sun yet warms in his behalf. And with his darts keeps winter still at bay. Yes, soothed and flattered in full many ways, though all the fields be bare, and woodlands err, half hidden from his sight by thickening haze, serenely smiles the slow declining year. Like one who has in goodness spent his days, and waits his coming end without a fear.

MASONIC.—On Tuesday last the following officers, elected at the quarterly grand communication of the Grand Lodge of Pennsylvania, were installed in their respective stations in due and ancient form: Robert A. Lamberton, of Harrisburg, R. W. Grand Master; Samuel C. Perkins, R. W. Deputy Grand Master; Alfred R. Potter, R. W. Senior Grand Warden; R. Clark, R. W. Junior Grand Warden. Peter Williamson, R. W. Grand Treasurer. John Thompson, R. W. Grand Secretary.

True diamonds have been found in Arizona, as well as rubies and garnets, and the gold miners have thrown some excellent stones away, ignorant of their value. True diamonds have also been found in fifteen or twenty places in California. They are found in the gravel deposits of the gold placers, but it is asserted that washings for diamonds would not prove remunerative.—It is, however, suggested that the Arizona gold miners should acquaint themselves with the appearance of diamonds in the rough, and not lose the chance of enriching themselves by the accidental discovery of precious gems.

Cincinnati has a divorce case wherein the parties aggregate one hundred and thirty years in age, and the plaintiff complains of cruel treatment and that she had to labor for a living while her husband was drinking whiskey out of a britania teapot.
