FIRE MEETING.

The members of the fire company are requested to meet at the office of S. Reynolds at 7 1/2 o'clock this evening sharp. Business of importance will come before the meeting and it is desirable that all should attend.

Gov. Geary's annual message is out, and is an able and comprehensive document. By it we learn that the State debt has been reduced during the current year $1,702,187, leaving a total outstanding of $31,111,662. Financially and otherwise the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania is in an exceedingly prosperous condition. Constitutional revision is the prominent feature of the message, and the Governor handles the subject in an able and masterly manner. Altogether the message is undoubtedly the best that has yet been issued by Governor Geary. It should be read by all interested in the prosperity of the old Keystone State.

Look out for J. H. Christie's new advertisement.

The contest between Rudolphe and Dion for the billiard championship and $2,000, resulted in a victory for Dion, the game standing at the close—Dion, 2,000; Rudolphe, 1,592.

New Well.—Well No. 4, McCray & Adams lease, J. S. McCray farm, mention of which we made yesterday as having to be shut down and the tubing drawn on account of the valves becoming clogged, started up again at ten o'clock this forenoon, and is now yielding at the rate of forty barrels per day, with good prospects of an increase. Owned by Jas. Adams and J. S. McCray.

Messrs. Johnson, Berry & Co., are about to erect a new refinery at Miller farm. It will contain ten stills, one 500, another 1,000 barrels, and the rest of smaller capacity.

That often spoken of and much abused individual, Johnny Steele, vindicates himself through the columns of the Meadville Republican, as follows. The letter is well written and should set at rest the many Quixotic yarns that have been going the rounds of certain sensational news papers for years:

ROUSEVILLE, Jan. 2, 1871.

DEAR SIR:—Please permit me, through your interesting and valuable paper, to return my humble and heartfelt thanks to your correspondent, for his remarks in regard to me and my unfortunate career. He is the first and only man who ever attempted to state, in public print, anything but the lowest scoffs and slurs in regard to me.—Any man of reason knows what evils beset me at the time the possession of the property became vested in me. Money was no object to any one, and I was set upon by vultures of all persuasions, and on all pretences. I was a minor and hardly knew what to do. I tried to have a guardian appointed, but, under the excitement at that time, the bill demanded was fabulous, and failed. Every one I met bad advice for me, and, in the end, wanted to, or did borrow money. I could get no peace at home for bets for projects of every description. I never handled any amount of money. Bewildered my agents on the farm, and a host of self constituted agents, my share was small. Some of your townsmen assisted faithfully to rid me of money and property. I should have thought all would be satisfied, when they got a 11 I possessed, but it appears that some miserable satraps of newspaper correspondents, either disappointed at not getting a share, or prompted by their evil nature, still try to keep up a cry of the fabulous amount I spent, and in such absurd ways. I have since, as before, tried to earn an honest living, which I know is more than many of my defamers do.

Should your correspondent be in this section, I shall be very happy to have him stop and see me, when I shall tell him such facts in regard to my "Rise and Fall" as may interest him and corroborate his remarks in regard to me, and a great deal more. By giving this a place in your paper, you will receive the thanks of
Your Humble Servant,
JOHN W. STEELE.

A dispatch from Franklin dated Jan. 2, says:

Mrs. McIntyre, the old lady injured by the falling of the Franklin bridge last Friday, died this morning. The body of Wilford Kilgore, agent of the Allegheny Valley Railroad, was found today among the ruins of the bridge. It is supposed from the condition of the body that he was instantly killed, as they were obliged to saw the timber apart in order to remove him. One of his legs was broken, and his face considerably cut. Great credit is due John S. Allen, agent, and other employees of the Allegheny Valley Railroad for the recovery of the body.

FIRE.—A fire at Nevada, Texas, on the morning of the 31st ult., destroyed property to the amount of $100,000.

At Millin, Pa., on the night of the 31st ult., $200,000 worth of property was consumed.

On the morning of the 1st inst., five steamboats burned at New Orleans. Loss over $500,000.

By the fire at Millin our townsman, Mr. J. Stambaugh, lost a valuable private residence.

New Well.—A new well was struck on Friday last, on the Roundout Petroleum Co's tract, Cherrytree Run, which is at present yielding about ten barrels per day. It started up at about four barrels and gradually increased to ten. This well has 28 feet of sand rock, and is located on what has heretofore been considered dry territory.—The striking of this well will undoubtedly stimulate operating in that vicinity. Capt. J. R. Barber of Alleghenium, is Superintendent of the tract.

The Corry Republican accuses us of copying items from that journal without giving the proper credit. We deny the soft impeachment, never having knowingly copied anything from that paper without giving due credit. The article in question was clipped from the Jamestown Daily Journal. Nuff ced.

There will be a meeting of the fire company at Justice Reynolds' office, this evening. A general attendance is requested.

Mrs. Clara Louise Kellogg sings at the Parish Opera House, Titusville, this evening. We understand that a number of our citizens propose attending the concert.

The recent "spell of sleighing" has been improved by all, and rather disastrously to some, especially the livery stable keepers. Mr. T. McDonald has had no less than four sleighs smashed up, and Mr. Sinsley two or three. They have been thoroughly repaired, however, and ready for the next.

Organization of the Legislature.

Democratic Officers of the Senate—W. A. Wallace, Speaker, Jacob Zeigler, Clerk, Assistant Clerks Timothy A. Sloan, Wm. P. Furley, Transcribing Clerks, Edwin Rebig, H. C. Koyser, Wm. Bayard, Wm. Merrick, Sergeant-at-Arms, John P. Coleman, Asst. Sergeant-at-Arms, J. R. Dunbar, J. A. Duncan, Postmaster, J. H. Reale, Doorkeeper, Mordecai Willard, Assistants, Frank Serba, John Deitrick, Messenger, John Keller, Assistants, Jacob Paul, Herman Kretz, Superintendent of Folding Room, Joseph G. Goward and six pasters.

Republican Officers of the House, James H. Webb, Speaker; Geo. Solfridge, Clerk; E. H. Lee and Smith, Assistants; Transcribing Clerks, T. Harlan, of Chester; G. Halsey, of Luzerne; T. Morehead, of Erie; R. Eberly, of Lancaster; J. Bodine, of Tioga; Charles Summerville, of Philadelphia.

Sergeant-at-Arms, W. J. Owen, of Philadelphia. Assistants, J. G. Ramsay, of Allegheny; M. M. Mott, of Susquehanna; Isalah Striver, of Philadelphia.

Doorkeeper, H. K. Sample, of Pittsburgh Assistants, E. J. Adamson and James Bonebrake, of Allegheny, G. J. Henderson, of Indiana.

Messenger J. C. Flanagan, of Venango, Assistant, S. L. Kauffman, of Lancaster, D. S. Elliott, of Bedford; James B. Carpenter, of Dauphin.

Doorkeeper of Rotunda, A. B. Wolf, of Washington.

Postmaster, A. B. McCartney, of Mercer. Assistant, R. A. Cochran, of Washington. Superintendent of folders, James Remy, of Philadelphia, with eleven pasters and folders.

Bills providing for a convention of the State of Pennsylvania have already been introduced in the Senate by Council and White, both Republicans.

A correspondent of the Denton Monitor says a handsome, dashing woman rode into a village in that region a few days ago, and alighting from her horse, went rapidly to a drinking saloon, where a number of sovereigns were having a "high time." She singled out the fust looking man in the crowd, and, walking up to him, seized him by the arm and ordered him to put down the glass which he was about to drain. He dashed down the glass and rushed away; the lady followed, and finally cornered him in the billiard room. She told him in a firm, determined voice, that the place he was in and the course he was pursuing would not answer for her husband; that he was wasting her property, and that she would no longer consent to be disgraced and impoverished by him. She demanded his pistol. He refused. She took it from him, cocked it and presented it at him, and told him he must leave or die. He concluded to leave. She marched him out as a prisoner of war to where his horse was hitched, ordered him to mount, and in a few minutes the two were leaving the town, the wife riding in the rear of her captured lord, with his six shooter in her hand.—Galveston (Texas) News.

PETROLEUM.—The exports of petroleum from Philadelphia to foreign ports, in 1870 amounted to 48,955,626 gallons, or 15,923,615 gallons more than during 1869.

The exports to Antwerp for 1870 were 14,439,443, against 8,486,301 for 1869. Our oil men will make a note.

Messrs. Stratton & Kip, the well known oil brokers of Franklin, have erected a large bulletin board near the Central House, upon which they keep posted a description of the oil lands, leases, &c., which they have for sale throughout the oil region. Among the number can be found a lot of choice leases situated on Pachel Run in the heart of the Franklin lubricating oil district. These gentlemen offer rare inducements to oil operators and others desiring to invest in first-class territory. The attention of oil men is called to their bulletin board. Further particulars can be learned by addressing Stratton & Kip, Oil and Land Brokers, P. O. Box 1200, Franklin, Pa.

It isn't safe to indulge in "kissing for fun." In a suit in Boston, last week, in which the defendant admitted that he had kissed the complainant, "just for fun, you know," the jury decided that the proceeding was calculated to raise hopes of marriage, and accordingly brought in a verdict of $150 for the party kissed.

At a meeting of the officers and teachers of the M. E. Sunday School, at the church, last evening, a frer discussion of the subject it was concluded to hold Sunday School hereafter at the old hours of meeting, viz: 12 1/2 o'clock Sundays.
