At the fire meeting, last evening, the fire committee reported the hydrants and fire plugs in good working order, also that Messrs. Taylor and Adams had thoroughly overhauled and repaired the engine and hose, and that everything pertaining to the fire department was in excellent working order. The fire committee and others interested in the matter are deserving the thanks of the public for their energy in getting the hydrants, &c., thawed out and ready for use in case of fire.

Well No. 89, Columbia farm, situated on the bluff above this place, commenced testing yesterday, and is making an excellent show. Will undoubtedly prove a good well.

Since the above was put in type we learn that the new well commenced pumping oil at evening and is now yielding 50 to 55 barrels of oil daily. The well has 33 feet of oil bearing rock, and is 589 feet deep.—Owned by the Columbia Oil Co. of Pittsburgh.

About forty couple went from Tidoute to Titusville, last evening, for the purpose of attending the Kellogg concert. A large number of people from this and other places along the Creek were also in attendance.—The concert was a success.

On the night of the 22d of December, Michael Carmodey, employed as a deck hand on the steamboat Oil Valley, which was lying at Cairo, suddenly disappeared and is supposed to have been drowned.—From letters found in a traveling satchel it would appear that Carmodey had a wife and family living Farmington, England.—He formerly worked in Oil City. We learn the above from the Pittsburgh Chronicle.

A New Orleans yagrant objects to sleeping in the station houses of that city because they insult him by making him become a passenger.

FIVE O'CLOCK OF THE MORNING.

Ad life o'clock de birds wake up,
Und soon commence der singing;
De sun shines out, de plants break forth,
Mid life de earth is ringin';
De air is full mid heldy perfume,
De dew dot shines so brightly,
Und de bloom of youth comes on your cheeks,
As you drip the fields so lightly.

Der liddle sdream dot sparkles by,
Id ablates und id bubbles,
Feels goot doo schlick your feed in dot,
Tud wash dem midout droubles.
A fool is he who does not see,
Dese righ signs ad, d'ys dawning,
I'd see dem myself, but I'm always asleep,
At life o'clock of de morning.

Debris.—The ability of every one to pay depends upon his ability to collect debts due him. The individuals of a community are linked together by a chain of debts and credits, and in times of depression the refusal of one person to discharge a single liability often embarrasses a line of a dozen debtors and creditors. Hence the prompt payment of small debts become in times like these a public as well as a private duty. The same money which pays a debt in the morning, may pay a dozen before night, and twelve men are thus relieved from anxiety and pressure by the action of one.

Petroleum ranks among the most important on the list of American exports. The total shipments of oil from the United States from January 1st to October 1st, was something over 100,000,000 gallons against less than 80,000,000 during the corresponding period of last year. The aggregate value of petroleum exports for the eleven months ending with May 31st, 1870, as shown by statistics of the Treasury Department, $28,628,446, which is more than the value of the flour exports, and nearly as much as that of the exports of wheat.

Our old friend, W. R. Johns, Esq., the senior editor of the oil region, has again launched his bark in the sea of newspaperdom, proposing to make daily trips. We are in receipt of the first number of his new daily the Oil City Daily Register, which presents a neat and tasty appearance, and is filled with a choice selection of local, miscellaneous and other reading matter. The paper is devoted to the petroleum interest and will also seek to advance the interests of Oil City. The citizens of that place should extend the Register a liberal support. Success to it.

Justice Thompson, who was the immediate predecessor of Judge Nelson, of New York, on the Supreme bench, was prone to excessive libations. One morning after a carouse he was promptly at court, and before taking his seat entered into lively conversation with some of the guests of the previous evening. One of these fearing that the good judge might have "suffered from the accident of hospitality," (as Mr. Webster once quaintly observed) said to him: "Well, judge, I hope you are feeling well to-day."

"Yes, sir, thank you: quite well, sir. I have just taken a gin cocktail, sir, and it has acted like a sciro facial—it has revived my judgement."

Messrs. Codington & Cornwell have just received several car loads of that celebrated Old Ormsby coal. By far the best brand of coal in the market. There are but few greater pleasures this cold weather than to sit by a genial fire made of Ormsby coal, such as C. & C. have for sale. Therefore, buy it, try it, and be convinced of its excellence.

All chairs in Plymouth Church left unsold Tuesday night were disposed of yesterday at rates in excess of those bought last year. The total amount realized was about $1,800.

At a meeting of the officers and teachers of the M. E. Sunday School, at the church, last evening, a fier discussion of the subject it was concluded to hold Sunday School hereafter at the old hours of meeting, viz: 12 1/2 o'clock Sundays.

F. H. MONROE, Secy.
J. H. Christie, at his store on Washington street, has the finest stock of pure drugs, medicines, perfumeries, toilet articles, &c., in the oil region, and by fair dealing and a free use of printer's ink, is doing a thriving trade. Read his new advertisement at the head of the second page and give him a call.
Catharine Flynn, of St. Louis, drank a quart of whiskey, and laid down by a blazing fire. What was left of her the following day, was interred at the city's expense.—Mural—Sleep out doors.

Latest and Most Important War News.

London, Jan. 5.
A dispatch from Havre dated the 3d. reports Bourbaki marching on Germany and Chausey, at Lemous; constantly pushing ahead troops in flying columns.
Ten thousand are marching toward Paris via Chartres.
Garibaldi is at Dijon doing very little.

Gen. Lardherbe is at Annas preparing a movement on Monteufl, probably with the intention of joining Bourbaki, who is on the road to Germany to form a junction with the army of the North.

There are now in Havre 16,000 troops, outside and in the neighborhood of Balbre 20,000, exclusive of regulars, franc-tireurs and cavalry.

The forward movement of the troops commenced to-day.
There is a general exodus of troops by railroad.

Gen. Pottengau returned this evening from the front of the Prussians, who are in force between Barenteau, Croix, Mure Monteufl and Rouse.

A dashing attack was made early this morning by the French, numbering about eight hundred men, mostly regulars.

One hundred sharpshooters advanced to a farm between Ligusleot and Battleville, near Balbre, held by body of Saxons under Monteufl's command.

The object of the French was to capture the garrison.
The first success was promising, resulting in the capture of three outposts without any alarm being given by the French.

New York, Jan. 5.
A World special, dated London, Jan. 4, says:
It is known in the highest German circles that desperate efforts to reduce Paris are being made.

Upon the reduction of the forts on the southwest and northeast sides of the city, the entente will be stormed.
The present movement of Bourbaki and Chausey is more dangerous than ever before.

Lille, Jan. 4.
The battle fought by the army of the North on the 3d last, resulted in a great victory for our arms.

New Use for Balloons.—Mr. Ferguson of Front street, goes home drunk for the fortieth time, and his wife holds up her hands with vexation and indignation.

"Don't sw'er word. 'Liza (hic) don't sw'er word! I'm goin' to buy a balloon (hic) b'loon."

"What on earth are you going to buy a balloon for, Mr. Ferguson?"
"I'll tell you (hic) 'Liza. Y'see they've gossamany (hic), got a'many rum shops 'long Mon'gomery street, a feller can't get home without gettin' drunk. I can get 'way with balloon (hic) you know. You can come to the store an' blow it up, an' (hic)—an' then you won't have to blow me up."

The Marshal County, (Iowa) Times says: "Don't go back on your newspaper. A subscriber to the Times recently stopped his paper, and the next week was kicked by a mule so severely that his life is despaired of."

The Methodist Recorder don't like pet names for adult women, saying: "We consider it a sickly sentimentalism, if not sacrilegious brass, to ignore the name sealed by the baptismal covenant. How would it point a verse of scripture to have it put in modern style, thus: "Now a certain man was sick, named Lazarus, of Bethany, the town of Mollie and her sister Mattie!"

Fagana Isaac, a black-eyed Jewess, was a witness in the Court of General Sessions, New York, recently. She had given her testimony and was about leaving the stand when she suddenly seized Recorder Hackett's hand, and implanted upon it a burning kiss. The dignified Recorder, deeply embarrassed, hurriedly withdrew the hand, and blushed as the spectators smiled.

The first day of January, Messrs. Sobel & Auerhalm entered into partnership in the dry goods business. These gentlemen are well known in this vicinity; have laid in a large stock of goods, and will undoubtedly build up an extensive trade, as we trust they may.

Mrs. Homespun, of the Prairie Farmer is a Christian philosopher. She says that the following lines are constantly on her lips:

For every evil under the sun,
There is a remedy or there is none;
If there be one try and find it,
If there be none, never mind it.
The bells of Charleston, Illinois, chews tobacco.
