FATAL RAILROAD ACCIDENT.-Conductor Taylor's train going south, last evening, when a short distance the other side of Shaffer, ran over and instantly killed a man named James Hough, who it is supposed was intoxicated and had laid down on the track and fallen asleep. Engineer Stout, who is accounted one of the most careful engineers on the road, made the following signement to our reporter: The train was e ming round a curve running at an ordinary rate of speed, when he noticed some thing on the track about sixty feet shead of rked to the fireman that it was probably a stone, and the cowcatcher of 2 terror, of which the Daily Courier would throw it off the track. PLANK ROAD. - The construction of a plank read along the Vailey of Oil Creek, from Oil City to Petrol-am Centre, would contribute as much as anything else to the business prosperity of not only Oli City but of every town located on its conte.

Good roads for driving on, have always been considered essentially necessary in play. every town or city. Riding out is requisite for both health and recreation. If our city was provided with such a convenience, not only would a large number of our wealthy and well to do residents keep horses and carriages, but the resident attractions would be greatly enhanced. Our locality would then attract a wealthy class of people who now go to Titusville and other places, which they assist so materially in building up, and making prosperous. It e mistake not, a charter has aiready been obtained for a plank road from Oil City to Petroleum Centre. A twenty foot road can be built for $100,000. Oil City, Rouseville, Tarr Farm, Petroleum , Centre, and the intervening places can easily raise this amount of slock. What do our neighbors think of it? We should be glad to have their bearty co-operation in a measure that will be so beneficial to all concerned .- Oil City Register.

We have frequently beard the subject spoken of as being a long needed improvement and one; that would undoubtedly add to the prosperity of both pinces. We hope our business men and capitalists will take hold of this matter and unite' in raising stock enough to earry it through to completion.

According to an ancient legend to-day (the 2d of February) is Candlemas or ground hog day. The tradition is that the ground hog, or woodchuck, comes forth from its borough in the earth, and takes a survey of the weather. If it sees its shadow in the sunlight, it retires within its for tress and makes preparations for a long season of cold If, on the contrary, it sees not its image. and the day be stormy, in augurs an early spring. Or, to use the old familiar lines-"As far as the sun shines in on Candlemas

Just so far will snow blow in in May." It is also said at this time that the backbona of winter is broken. "On Candlemas Day is consumed, one-balf the wood and half the hay."

According to a correspondent, Parker's Landing and Lawrenceburgh must be hard places to reside to. He writes thus:

This part of the oil region coutsins some desperate characters. Yesterday I saw a young man in Lawrenceburg with a handkerchief tied around his hand, and when ssked what the trouble was, replied with perfect nochalance, "I lest a finger last night." He was then told that he ought to stop fighting. Says be, "yes, I know it is - bad business, but the bound laughed at me when I had the handcuffs on last week, and, — him, I took one of his eyes out."

They have been if two men named Chambers and Living-stone, were wanted here. They have been arrested at Pittsburgh and in their posses-sion was found a full kit of burginr tools Among their effects was a card of one of the note in this city. Mrs. Murth before ber marriage-then Mise Susan Flanigan-was accounted one of the most beautiful and accomplished ladies residing in Jersey City. She was remarksbly witty in conversation, and at twenty years of age she seemed to haven 'rilliant future. Her mother designed ber for some auspicious marriage which should secure for her talents and accomplishments the scope which they deserved. The girl, however, contracted a strong liking for a young butcher, named William Murth, with whom her family deals; and in opposition to her parents wishes, she contracted a matrimon-tal engagement with him. This step displeased her father and mother, and never to this day have they been able to reconcile themselves to the marriage. The girl appeared to deeply regret her parents displeasure. It is said that she was also disappointed in her estimate of her husbands character. In despair she took to drinking and for three years, it is said, has rarely drawn a sober breath. Her drunkenness led to her death. The story which obtains most credence where she is best known is this: Less than a week ago she went into a liquor saloon near her residence, and becoming boisterous was ejected from the place. She returned and was a second time ejected. She was not to be mastered. bowever, and in the struggle which ensued between herself and the proprietor she was thrown headlong down the steps leading from the saloon. In her fall, her head struck a protruding faucet, and serious injuries were sustained. She was taken to her bome unconscious, and with the exception of one lucid interval of short duration. remained so until she died. It is said. upon the other band, that she fell accidentally while descending the steps, and sustained the lojuries which resulted in her death.

Kenyon's New Double Acting Oil E amp for Pumping Oil or Water in Deep Wells.

Kenyon's New Doubled Acting Oil Pump is acknowledged to be the best pump now in use. One of its leading features is that it not only produces a continuous flow of oil or other fluid, but that it creates and by means of which the seams or veins of the well are in a great measure cleared of parafine and other obstructions, and the oil in the veins is drawn towards the well. It has been ascertained by actual test that the use of this pump causes a gradually increas-ing flow of oil. It is well known by oil ing flow of oil. It is well known by oil operatore that this improvement is of great value, and one that has been long sought for. The ablest mechanics of our country have for years been at work trying to find out some new and untried plan to prolong the life time of an oil well; and nothing yet to our knowledge has been brought before the public that in any way equals the power of the Kenyon Pump, experience having taught that it is the long continued suction that has the power to keep up and increase the production of oil wells. O 3 operators are referred to Mr. Geo. Bonitos, Superintendent of the Columbia Farm, for information in regard to the practical work-Superintendent of the Columbia Farm, for information in regard to the practical workings of the Kenyon Pump. We append the following testimonial from the managers of the Columbia Farm:
