According to recent researches, petroleum when exposed to solar light, absorbs oxygen and changes it into ozone, although this does not combine with the oil, the ozone remaining free, and oxidizing everything with which it comes in contact. Petroleum oil impregnated with ozone, has a totally altered smell, burns with more difficulty, and attacks the cork stoppers of the vessels very strongly. If the vessels are of glass, their color exercises much influence upon the absorption of oxygen by the petroleum. Thus, petroleum oils, when exposed in white glass to solar and daylight, become yellow and impregnated with ozone, assuming a greater specific gravity and losing their ready combustibility. This is said to be especially the case with American petroleum. The practical inference may therefore be deduced that petroleum intended for burning should be kept in stone or metal vessels; or, if in glass, protected as much as possible against the influence of daylight.

The editor of the Chautauqua Democrat, whose office was recently burned, Phoenix-like announces that he will recommence the publication of his paper as soon as possible. The Democrat is a good paper, and its editor has our sympathies in his misfortune.

The remains of James Hough, the unfortunate man who was run over by the cars, near Stauffer, night before last, were buried at Corry yesterday.

By a letter from Mr. Frank P. Dobson, Business Manager of the Wallace Sisters' Burlesque and Comedy Troupe, we learn that they will shortly appear in this place, supported by a brilliant company of 25 artists, and a full and efficient orchestra and brass band. We shall refer to their coming again.

Steady on the page—a show market.

STEAMER CHAUTAUQUA.—The Jamestown Journal says:

Capt. Murray is thoroughly a veritable steamer Chautauqua which lies at the Mayville dock and putting it in a first class condition. Two large arches extend from the bow of the boat to the stern, over the hurricane deck, supported with heavy iron rods. All the old planks and timbers which were at all defective have been removed and new solid ones take their place. Two new wheel beams 18x8 inches solid have been put in; also, a new heavy fender and railing of oak. The old boiler has been removed and a new one put in. The smoke-stack is moved closer to the pilot house and all the small posts supporting buiricans have been taken down, thereby giving a clear floor to promenaders and dancers. The hurricane deck will be supported with iron rods from the main arches. Large iron bolts and rods have been placed at different parts of the steamer. These improvements will make it the strongest and staunchest vessel that has ever been on our lake. The boat will be painted throughout and put in "apple-pie" for the coming season.

Speaking of Capt. John Travis, who has a Shooting Gallery at this place, the Oil City Register says:

Captain Travis, the world renowned pistol shot, is now giving exhibitions of his wondrous skill at Petroleum Centre. He offers a handsome prize to the best shot among the editorial fraternity of Oil City, Rouseville, Petroleum Centre and Titusville. Of course, as the whole thing is to be free, the editors will avail themselves of the invitation. Delinquent subscribers had better settle up promptly, before the editors become proficient in the use of their weapons.

A young desperado named W. J. Henderson, residing in Sandy creek township, this county, who has bid defiance to the law, and been a terror to good citizens in that vicinity, was recently arrested after a desperate resistance, and lodged in jail at Franklin, where he will doubtless have a chance to repent at leisure, preparatory to taking a trip "down the river."

LOCAL LEGISLATION.—A bill passed the Legislature on Tuesday increasing the pay of the County Commissioners and Assessors of Venango county. The pay of Commissioners was increased from $3,000 per day to $3,500, and that of Assessors from $1,25 to $2,00. The bill making the pay of Auditors $3,000, jury-men $2,00, and witnesses $1,00, having expired, an act to extend the act thus increasing the pay passed on the same day.

There came near being a fire at Fisher Norris & Co's machine shop, a day or two since, the roof of the building catching fire near where the smoke stack comes through. Fortunately the flames were extinguished by the employees in the shop before any material damage was done. Too much care cannot be exercised to guard against fire.

Among the list of jurors for first Monday of February, 1871, we notice the names of G. F. Lawrence and J. D. Bartlett, of this place.

The Lake Shore and Michigan Southern Railroad have built a new passenger and freight depot at Oil City.

Rev. Hiram Billeby, Rector of the Episcopal Church, at Oil City, has tendered his resignation, which has been accepted by the Vestry. Much regret is expressed at his resignation. He has accepted a call from the congregation of St. John's Episcopal Church at Rouseville.

A new well at the mouth of Horse Creek, on the Allegheny River, is producing at the rate of three to five barrels per day and increasing. The well is on company's land, and is owned by Oil City men.

Do not forget the lecture to be given by Mrs. M. T. Hoppins, at the Opera House, this evening. The subject is a good one and will undoubtedly be handled in an able manner.

The citizens of Meadville are rejoiced at the striking of a gas well, located at the mouth of Cussewago Creek. The well has a large flow of gas, and the R-publican predicts that it will stimulate others to drill gas wells for fuel.

The Richings English Opera Troupe are to perform at Meadville, on Wednesday evening, March 1st. This troupe is spoken of as the best in the country.

What will frequently overcome the most austere?—Tear.

According to the new census the population of New York was 944,129, on the first day of June.

Of what has heaven given us an equal share?—Air.

What is it that wants seldom extinguishing?—Wishes.

Ruloff in his Cell—His Habits and Employment.

From the Binghamton Republican.

Since Ruloff's trial and sentence of execution, has been confined alone in his cell; and no one, not even his counsel, is permitted to have an interview with him unless accompanied by the sheriff.

The statue is specific on that point, and the Sheriff adheres strictly to the law; but he, or some one designated by him, is always ready to accompany to the cell persons whom the prisoner wishes to see.

Ruloff has worn no clothes since he has been in jail, and most of his time has been spent in his solitary cell. A little while before his trial he was asked why he did not wear his clothes, and if he was afraid they would become soiled so much that he could not appear on his trial dressed as he wished to be? He replied that conduct did not arise from any such consideration. He was accustomed to prison life, he said, and knows how to keep his muscles in good condition when lying idle and unemployed. At the same time he exhibited the strong, hard muscles of his arms, to prove that his theory is correct. From the time he was sent to jail he bathed himself in cold water every morning before breakfast, and he took exercise by walking across the floor of the prison. Since his sentence, exercise has of course been denied him, except what he can get in his cell, a narrow vault of about four by seven feet.

A short time ago Mrs. Shyster, the city missionary, called to see him. The jailer informed Ruloff of the fact, and told him he had better dress himself and talk with her. He replied that he did not wish to see the missionary, and should not, except commanded to do so. Of course he was not compelled to receive spiritual consolation or advice, and the missionary was turned away without an interview.

Ruloff passes much of his time in writing and reading, and these occupations are pursued in the hours of the night, by the aid of a kerosene oil lamp, which is used without a chimney, for the reason that it consumes less oil. Every inch of paper fit to write upon is economized, and a close account is kept of the money placed in the Sheriff's hands for the prisoner, and all that is spent for him.

On the top of a large granite boulder, lying apparently on the surface of the ground, in Sheffield, Vt., is a spherical excavation constantly filled with water, even in the driest time, yet with no visible inlet. What makes it the more curious is the fact it never was known to run over, but is always full. If the water is dipped out it immediately regains its usual fullness.

A colored minstrel troupe is being organized at Titusville. They are making extensive preparations to come before the public in the most improved style of minstrel performances. Mad. Dunkerson started a colored concert troupe in this place some weeks since, and it went "where the woodbine twined" shortly after, which will undoubtedly be the case with the colored minstrels.

Mrs. Andrew Maitland, of Rockland township, this county, died very suddenly, the 26th day of January. She was very much respected and leaves a large circle of acquaintances to mourn her loss.

A revival of religion is in progress at the Rockland M. E. Church, and a large number of persons have joined the church.

Dr. Gallantine of Cleveland, who was convicted of manslaughter for shooting Dr. Jones for alleged seduction of his wife, was sentenced yesterday to the penitentiary for ten years.

The deaths in New York last year were 27,106, showing an increase over 1869 of 2,950, and over 1860, when the mortality was very great, of 381.

A black business—a pitched battle.

Kenyon's New Double Acting Oil Pump for Pumping Oil or Water in Deep Wells.

Kenyon's New Double Acting Oil Pump is acknowledged to be the best pump now in use. One of its leading features is that it not only produces a continuous flow of oil or other fluid, but that it creates and sustains a constant and powerful suction, by means of which the seams or veins of the well are in a great measure cleared of paraffine and other obstructions, and the oil in the veins is drawn towards the well. It has been ascertained by actual test that the use of this pump causes a gradually increasing flow of oil. It is well known by all operators that this improvement is of great value, and one that has been long sought for. The art of mechanics of our country have for years been at work trying to find out some new and untried plan to prolong the life time of an oil well; and nothing yet to our knowledge has been brought before the public that in any way equals the power of the Kenyon Pump, experience having taught that it is the long continued suction that has the power to keep up and increase the production of oil wells. Oil operators are referred to Mr. Geo. Bonilton, Superintendent of the Columbia Farm, for information in regard to the practical workings of the Kenyon Pump. We append the following testimonial from the managers of the Columbia Farm:

OFFICE COLUMBIA OIL CO.
Columbia Farm, Jan. 28.

Mr. H. K. KENTON:
Dear Sir:—We are using your Double Acting Oil Pumps in three of our oil wells and take pleasure in stating that we are getting more oil and gas from each of them than was previously obtained by the use of working barrels. We believe your oil pump to be the best in use.

Respectfully yours,
G. W. BOULTON, Sup't.
