The ninth annual meeting of the stockholders of the Columbia Oil Company was held in the city of Pittsburgh, January 12.

The following officers were elected for the coming year:

President—D. A. Stewart.

Directors—Bateman Goer, David Riehey, August Harje, Conrad Keller, A. Pittsalo, and W. A. Shreve.

Treasurer—David Riehey.

Secretary—A. P. McGrew.

Superintendent—Geo. Boulton.

Farm Manager—John P. Barcroft.

The Company could have made no better selection than the present efficient officers on the farm, Messrs. Boulton and Barcroft, and the residents of the farm will be pleased to learn that their services have been retained for another year.

FATAL RAILROAD ACCIDENT.—The freight accommodation train going north, due here at 10:40 a. m., ran over and instantly killed the head brakeman of the train, named Charles Boone, at Rouseville station, this forenoon. Boone it appears was standing between two cars with a foot on the bumper of each, when suddenly the coupling pin broke, the cars spread apart and he fell to the track beneath directly across the rail. The wheels of one car passed across his chest crushing the life out of the unfortunate man instantly. Boone was about 25 years old, and had been in the employ of the company for some time past. The remains were left at Rouseville to await the arrival of his relatives.

Pleasure lovers will bear in mind that the original Georgia Minstrels give one of their unique entertainments at Sobers Opera House, this evening. The programme is a good one, and they should have a crowded house.

The work of the iron bridge at Franklin has been removed, and a chain ferry established.

A correspondent of the Pittsburgh Chronicle, writing from Youngstown, Ohio, says:

The oil well on the old Anglers' farm, about a mile up the Mahoning river from Edinburg, Pa., has been pumping a very heavy oil for a month past. At first the yield was only about five barrels per day, but it subsequently increased to twenty barrels, and is now yielding nearly twenty-five barrels per day. The oil is nearly as heavy as hard oil, and is second only to the well known Mecca oil. At New Castle, Pa., it is readily sold at fifty cents per gallon, and at the well brings twenty dollars per barrel. This is the only well, of some three hundred in the valley, which has been cased, and it is the only one that will yield in paying quantities, owing to the immense quantity of water which rises up from below.

Several parties are now endeavoring to lease the old wells which were abandoned some years ago, with the intention of tubing them. In almost every case these old wells yield oil, and it is believed that if the water can be shut off the oil will be revived.—There is not the least doubt that entire valley from the mouth of the Mahoning to Youngstown, contains large deposits of the very best lubricating oil.

ST. VALENTINE'S DAY

Comes on the 14th, to-morrow. According to ancient usage, the gentleman first seen by a lady on St. Valentine's morning was bound to be her Valentine through the year, and to do her bidding on every occasion; and many were the stratagems resorted to by maids and swains to see first the right person on this eventful morn.

Many a maid will look forth in the morn'g,

Hoping her lover to see;

Under thy casement at earliest dawn'g,

Lady, I surely shall be.

Let not thine eyes scan the distant horizon,

Seeking strange faces afar;

List to the sound of my fervent orison,

Breathed to my bright star.

Let thy first glance then fall lovingly on me,

Let me thy Valentine be;

Gladly thy favors I'll fasten upon me,

Asking but service of thee.

Of all the joys vouchsafed to man, there's nothing that equals a good smoke, and in order to enjoy a smoke one must have good smoking tobacco, and the place to buy it is at Nicholson Bros. Post Office Newsroom.

They keep constantly on hand the Lone Jack, Yacht Club and other extra brands of Smoking Tobacco. Of chewing tobaccos they are the agent for the sale of the Holbrook Navy Plug and Amrosia Fine Cut, both of which have a world wide reputation. Give them a call and examine their stock and prices, and then buy and be satisfied.

The statistics of the gross products of crude petroleum in the city of Philadelphia for the years 1869-70, are not yet accessible.

The export has been:

Gallons.	Gallons.
From New Y.,	86,193,958
From Phila.,	47,955,626
Other ports,	3,431,577

Total export, 138,581,161 against 102,569,681 producing exchange for not less than $35,000,000.

The people of Union propose holding a celebration over the event of the opening of the Union & Titusville railroad.

The Old Fellows of Rouseville are making preparations to give a grand social party at that place soon. Among the names of the committee on invitations we notice that of R. V. Ellis, Petroleum Centre.

There is a deal of courage sometimes in small boys. A lad in Bridgeport had three fingers of his right hand taken off few days since by a drop press in a brass shop. Looking upon his bleeding hand, the brave little fellow exclaimed: "I'll bet mother will cry when she sees that!"

THE HEROIC ENGINEER.

The New York Sun says: David Simmons was the engineer of the Pacific express train. He was a true man. For twenty years he held a place on an engine. Years ago, while dashing past Youngstown, Simmons called the attention of his fireman to a train which was sweeping down upon them like the wind. A collision seemed inevitable. The frightened fireman shouted: "Good-bye, Doc; I'm a going to jump," and sprang from the locomotive. Simmons stood with his hand on the throttle of his engine like a man of iron. In the face of starting peril he remembered his duty, and stood at his post. A collision was averted, and the heroic engineer saved the lives of a hundred men.

On Monday night David Simmons was driving his engine toward Albany at the rate of forty miles an hour. Near New Hamburg a red light was swung out as from an approaching train. The engineer saw it. It was the signal of danger. David Simmons whistled down the brakes in the vain hope of stopping the express in time. His fireman again took the alarm, and shouted to Simmons to leap for life. The noble Simmons calmly answered: "I won't; I'll stay with my engine." Again he stood like a man of iron at his post.—The fireman sprang and saved his life. The engineer saw a train on the bridge. He realized that his only hope of safety was to dash through the obstruction. He whistled off brakes, and crowded on all of his steam. This was the work of an instant. Simmons peered into the darkness, shading his eyes with his hand, and was dashed into the jaws of death.

TIONESTA AND CLARION RAILWAY.—A meeting of the President and directors of the above company was held in Sheffield on Friday last. It was resolved to lift the charter at once, and an assessment on the stockholders was made to defray the expense. The directors are sanguine of obtaining means to go on with the work next season. Confidence was expressed in the feasibility of the route. The large wilderness that will be made productive, the valuable timber and mineral resources which its completion will put into market, are certainly convincing reasons why the road should be built.—Warren Ledger.

A Sunday or two since an incident occurred in an Episcopal chapel, which had the same been elsewhere, would have evoked considerable merriment. The incumbent had commenced his discourse, when a gentleman entered the chapel and respectfully and attentively listening inside the door. No sooner had the preacher's eye lighted upon the new comer, than dropping the thread of his sermon, he said to him: "Come in, my friend, come in; we are always glad to see the late late who can't come early." Thus addressed, the unknown individual stepped forward and easily took his seat, and then as coolly asked the preacher: "Would you oblige me with the text?" "Cast thy net," was the reply, and the request having been complied with the sermon proceeded.

Mrs. Woodhill is announced as a candidate for the presidency by the cosmo political party. It may be instructive to state that the cosmo-political has a place of business in Broad street, New York. The party consists of Tinnie C. and her sister Victoria. Additions to the cosmo-political party are looked for.

Kenyon's New Double Acting Oil Pump for Pumping Oil or Water in Deep Wells.

Kenyon's New Double Acting Oil Pump is acknowledged to be the best pump now in use. One of its leading features is that it not only produces a continuous flow of oil or other fluid, but that it creates and sustains a constant and powerful suction, by means of which the seams or veins of the well are in a great measure cleared of paraffine and other obstructions, and the oil in the veins is drawn towards the well. It has been ascertained by actual test that the use of this pump causes a gradually increasing flow of oil. It is well known by oil operators that this improvement is of great value, and one that has been long sought for. The skill at mechanics of our country have for years been at work trying to find out some new and untried plan to prolong the life time of an oil well; and nothing yet to our knowledge has been brought before the public that in any way equals the power of the Kenyon Pump, experience having taught that it is the long continued suction that has the power to keep up and increase the production of oil wells. Oil operators are referred to Mr. Geo. Bonilton, Superintendent of the Columbia Farm, for information in regard to the practical workings of the Kenyon Pump. We append the following testimonial from the managers of the Columbia Farm:

MR. H. K. KENTON:
Dear Sir:—We are using your Double Acting Oil Pump in three of our oil wells and take pleasure in stating that we are getting more oil and gas from each of them than was previously obtained by the use of working barrels. We believe your oil pump to be the best in use.
Respectfully yours,
G. W. BONILTON, Supt.

GOOD ADVICE.
Ask no woman her age. Never joke with a widow. Never contradict a man that stutters. Be civil to all rich and poor and sun. Wear your oldest hat of course to an evening party. Always sit next to the server at dinner. Keep your own secrets. Tell no human being your dye your whiskers. Wind up your conduct like a watch once every day, examine minutely whether you are "fast" or "slow." Make friends with the steward on board a steamer, there's no knowing how soon you may be in his power. Write not one more letter than you can help; the man who keeps up a large correspondence is a martyr, tied, not to the stake, but to the post. But the best advice we can give to the reader is, that he should buy his clothing at the store of A. Albion, Washington street, Petroleum Centre, Pa. The stock of ready made clothing at this house is the largest and cheapest in the city. He has also a large assortment of cloths, cassimeres, etc., and is prepared to make up suits in the neatest manner imaginable. He has also a full line of gentlemen's furnishing goods. This is one of the best and cheapest stores in the city.
