"Doc. Simmons, the engineer, refused to jump off as the train approached the bridge, and perished with his engine."—Extract from daily paper.

"Down brakes! Down brakes! set her screaming, There's trouble ahead on the track, And folks, maybe, pleasantly dreaming In the cars at my back."

"Down brakes! Down brakes! Don't you curse her, Taint her fault, Jack. The engineer can't stop. Anyhow I'll try and reverse her, As for you, just you drop."

"Down brakes! Down brakes! Here we go boys, To Hell, as fast as we can; And I'm bound, by the gods, just to show, boys, How to die like a man."

"One whistle to bid 'em good-bye now, Good by little far away wife! Good-bye! Good God, must I die now? Good-by, honest life!" —A. D., in N. Y. Tribune.

A correspondent of the Pittsburgh Commercial accuses the Oil Producers' Association of setting out. We are inclined to doubt the assertion. Here is the accusation: To the Editors of the Pittsburgh Commercial: It has leaked out that the Producers' Association has just lent itself to one of the most disgraceful frauds ever perpetrated by an Association of business men. It is said that on the 8th inst. the Association issued two reports of production for the month of January—one for public circulation gave the production at 13,457 barrels, and another for private distribution to its fifty dollar subscribers, making the production 15,052 barrels! The former was telegraphed over the country, advancing crude oil on the creek and at Pittsburgh. On the former price advanced from $4.40 to $5.00, thus establishing a high figure for the oil called by the combination due on the last four days of the week. The public was assured the producers' report was to be perfectly reliable—was gotten up for that purpose in order to counteract the unreliable report of the Titusville Herald! But could the Herald have been caught at a more atrocious trick than this? What are we to think of these honest producers? It is not the "Heathen Chinee" alone "whose ways are dark and tricks are vain."

In consequence of this shameful development, the markets have been panicky all day on the creek, with no transaction S. O., sixty days, which on the 8th were worth $4.70 were offered at $4.40, with no buyers.

The Titusville Herald's report for January, gives the daily average production as 15,477 barrels; increase of stock 49,270 barrels. Here crude is very dull at 11 3/4; March to May 11 1/2; with none but small lots wanted.

Refused, no sales; spot and February 24 3/4; March 25 1/2; March to May 25 1/2.

We find in one of the New York papers a statement which if properly warranted, shows the most criminal negligence in connection with the recent terrible disaster on the Hudson river road. As the story goes, a rough laborer, who was addressed by his companions as "Patsy," was standing in front of the New Hamburg depot on Thursday morning, discussing the accident, and quite a large crowd gathered round him, as they do in every case when any person has a word of information to convey in relation to the awful event. It appeared that this man was an eye witness to the disaster. He said that he saw something was the matter with the train, and followed on after it to see what was the difficulty. He saw the oil truck topple over on the opposite track, and was near by when the train stopped, and the conductor and engineer got off to see what had happened. He stated positively that the conductor, engineer, and brakeman, instead of running forward to warn the express train, stood still and wrangled among themselves, each one cursing the rest and charging them with being to blame for the accident. This stranger, Patsy, who refused to give his full name for fear he would be summoned before the jury, said that it was fifteen minutes from the time the accident happened to the oil train before the express came up, and that those men could have walked far enough to signal trains from either way and prevent the possibility of another accident. While all these charges are being made against the company and its employees, the officers of the road maintain the profoundest silence, transacting business as if nothing had occurred.

Kenyon's New Double Acting Oil Pump for Pumping Oil or Water in Deep Wells.

Kenyon's New Double Acting Oil Pump is acknowledged to be the best pump now in use. One of its leading features is that it not only produces a continuous flow of oil or other fluid, but that it creates and sustains a constant and powerful suction, by means of which the seams or veins of the well are in a great measure cleared of paraffine and other obstructing, and the oil in the veins is drawn towards the well. It has been ascertained by actual test that the use of this pump causes a gradually increasing flow of oil. It is well known by oil operators that this improvement is of great value, and one that has been long sought for. The ablest mechanics of our country have for years been at work trying to find out some new and untried plan to prolong the life time of an oil well; and nothing yet to our knowledge has been brought before the public that in any way equals the power of the Kenyon Pump, experience having taught that it is the long continued suction that has the power to keep up and increase the production of oil wells. Oil operators are referred to Mr. Geo. Boulton, Superintendent of the Columbia Farm, for information in regard to the practical workings of the Kenyon Pump. We append the following testimonial from the managers of the Columbia Farm:

GOOD ADVICE.

Ask no woman her age. Never joke with a widow. Never contradict a man that stutters. Be civil to all rich and poor and aunts. Wear your oldest hat of course to an evening party. Always sit next to the carrier at dinner. Keep your own secrets. Tell no human being you are your wife's kernal. Wind up your omelette like a watch once every day, examine minutely whether you are "fast" or "slow." Make friends with the steward on board a steamer, there's no knowing how soon you may be in his power. Write not one more letter than you can help; the man who keeps up a large correspondence is a martyr, tied, not to the stake, but to the post. But the best advice we can give to the reader is, that he should buy his clothing at the store of A. Alden, Washington street, Petroleum Centre, Pa. The stock of ready made clothing at this house is the largest and cheapest in the city. He has also a large assortment of cloths, cambrics, etc., and is prepared to make up suits in the neatest manner imaginable. He has also a full line of gentlemen's furnishing goods. This is one of the best and cheapest stores in the city.

The Junior Dramatic Association of the Catholic Institute of this place, intend giving a public exhibition in the school house on the 21st inst. The entertainment will consist of dialogues, declamations, vocal and instrumental music, &c., the whole being under the direction of Miss Maud Kennedy, the popular and efficient principal of the school. An extra entertainment is promised, and the parents and friends of the little ones and of education, should encourage them by attending the exhibition.

A colored boy named John Devat, about nineteen years old, has been arrested at Oil City on a charge of attempting to commit a rape upon the person of a little child named Williams, who is only three years old. The brute was held in $1000 bail, in default of which he was committed to jail at Franklin. Hanging is too good for such a vile wretch.

The Jamestown Journal advertises one Wm. Smith, a printer, as being a dead beat and general swindler. Correct.
