The recent serious charge made against the Petroleum Producers' Association, by a correspondent of the Pittsburgh Commercial, accusing them of selling out their monthly oil report for the purpose of influencing the market, has called forth several letters from members of that Association, all of whom deny the charge as not having a shadow of foundation in fact, and absolutely and unqualifiedly false from beginning to end. From a personal acquaintance with many of the leading members of the Producers' Association, and a knowledge of its aims and objects, we hardly believe any of its members would be guilty of so small a game as they are accused of by the unknown correspondent, and until positive proof is brought forward the statement will be generally discredited in the oil region.

The Forest Republican speaks thus encouragingly of the oil territory in that vicinity:

Now wells are to be put down immediately on the Janison Farm and the Sowers place. We believe Messrs. Wilcott, Grove, Stigins, J. W. Stroup and others of our townsmen are each interested in one if not both of the farms. This was we believe at one time good producing territory, but was abandoned because they could not get flowing wells which would produce 500 to 1000 barrels per day. Their wishes are more moderate now, and we believe oil will be found on both farms in paying quantities.

A loud explosion this afternoon on the hill above the town, was occasioned by the laborers in the employ of the Columbia Oil Co. blasting out the foundation for a new derrick.

Gen. Kilpatrick is to lecture in Rouseville again some time in March.

Kate Field lectures at Scaron on Friday evening.

Speaking of the late terrible disaster on the Hudson River Railroad, caused by the express train running into an oil train, by which many valuable lives were lost, and how to prevent the many accidents occurring through oil being transported over railroads, the Oil City Register truthfully says:

A repetition of the New Hamburg horror, so far as Petroleum is concerned, can be easily prevented by the employment of boiler-iron cars, instead of the present wooden ones employed. As nearly all the roads centering here or engaged in the transport, are substituting these for the wooden tank cars previously used, as fast as the same can be furnished, it would be but a short time until the wooden tank cars will be replaced by the iron ones. The boiler cars are made of boiler iron, tightly closed, and in case of collision retains their contents intact, despite the shock, and destruction of the truck on which they are placed, as has been repeatedly proved. At the accident on the A. V. R. R., at Pine Creek, a year or so since, several boiler tanks were thrown from the track into the river, then covered with thick ice. The trucks were dashed to splinters, but the boiler tanks sustained no material injury.

It is related by an estimable and very pious lady in New Orleans that on her way to Sabbath school one bright sunny Sunday morning she saw several boys, one of whom was a newsboy, seated in a doorway playing cards; one of them was a Sunday school scholar of the lady. She stopped and insisted that they should accompany her to church. After some persuasion the three oldest consented; but the youngest, a lad of some six years, persistently refused. "Why won't you come, my dear boy?" said the lady, "It is very wrong of you to refuse." "But I don't want to go." "Why? what is the reason?" The impatience of the little fellow waxed desperate, and in an indignant voice he exclaimed his hands full of cards: "Would you go to Sunday school with a handfull of trumps-like that?"

Attention is called to the new advertisement of H. C. Jarvis, furniture dealer, who is now selling furniture of all kinds at a remarkably low rate. He has recently fitted up a large room in the second story of his building, which is fitted with elegant chamber and parlor suits, marble-top tables, &c. The public are respectfully invited to call and examine his stock and prices.

Quite a number of new wells have been started at Pitohole within the past two weeks. Oil operators express great confidence in that territory.

Gas wells are being bored in Buffalo.

The celebration in honor of the opening of the Union & Titusville R. R., which came off yesterday, is said to have been a grand affair.

J. N. McCullough, Esq., has been appointed General Superintendent of the Pan Handle Railroad and its connections, Judge Jewett retiring. Mr. McCullough has now 25,000 miles of road under his control.

The loss by the recent fire in the Downer Oil Works, at Corry, was $200.

His honor, Mayor Brush, of Pittsburgh has been in town a day or two past looking after his oil interests.

On his recent visit to Rouseville Gen. Kilpatrick was presented with a $500 horse, by E. M. Hahill, Esq.

The remains of young Boone, recently killed at Rouseville by the cars, were taken to Erie for burial.

In addition to a regiment that reined and a ship that disastored, associated press dispatches inform us of a jailed criminal, a burgled house and a revolved crowd.

"My dear friend," said a gentleman to a bankrupt the other day, "I'm sorry to hear of your misfortune. Your family has my warmest sympathies." "Oh, don't trouble yourself about my family. I looked out for them, you bet! Just save your sympathies for the families of my creditors."

A new remedy for intoxication has been found. It is nothing more than raw potatoes, cut up into slices and eaten without salt. An ordinary "gourphey," it is said, will cure the most obstinate case in half an hour.

They do business with despatch in Texas. A man in a certain neighborhood who had lost a valuable mare received the following by telegraph: "Mare here. Come get her Thiel hung."

Manchester, N. H., must be a dull place. It has had but one alarm of fire in seven years.

The billiard match between Dion and Deery in San Francisco, on Thursday night, was won by the latter.

PARTING SONG.

The death of Alice Carey, announced in yesterday's issues lends a peculiar interest to the following poem from her pen, extracted from her last volume:

The long day is closing,
Ah, why should you weep?
'Tis thus that God gives
His beloved ones sleep.
I see the wide water
So deep and so blue—
Love waits me beyond it—
I would not go back!
I would not go back
Where its joys scarce may gleam—
Where even in dreaming
We knew that we dream.
For though life filled for me
All measures of bliss,
Has it anything better
Or sweeter than this?
I would not go back
To the torment of fear—
To the wastes of unconfort
When home is so near.
Each night is a prison bar,
Broken and gone,
Each night a golden gate,
On—further on!
On, on toward the city
So shining and fair,
For He that hath loved—
Died for me—is there.

In a list of vessels captured and destroyed by the Alabama and other foreign privateers during the rebellion, we find the names of the following belonging to Philadelphia:

Brig B. F. Martin, captured June 16, 1861; bark Glen, captured July —, 1861; bark Joseph Maxwell, July 27, 1861; ship J. Crawford, captured August —, 1861, schooner R. Gillilan, captured February 26, 1862; ship Tonnawanda, captured October 9, 1862, brig Ann Corrie, captured Jan. 22, 1863; schooner Kate Stewart, captured June —, 1863; bark Whistling Wind, captured June 6, 1863; schooner Alliance, captured September —, 1863; schooner Sea Bird, captured September —, 1863; bark Greenland, captured July 9, 1864.

A man living in Erie named William Watson has been committed to jail on the charge of committing incest with his own daughter, a girl of 18 or 20 years of age.—The girl complains that she has been more or less annoyed by him for the last two years. He is apparently about 45 or 50 years of age, and has heretofore borne a fair reputation.

The Grand Encampment of Knights Templar of Pennsylvania, will be held in Harrisburg on the fourth Tuesday of June next. The use of the Capitol and grounds surrounding it has been granted by the Legislature. It is expected that between three thousand and four thousand Sir Knights will be there at that time, and the citizens can anticipate a grand display on that occasion.

For words that are vague, commend us to the following, which is an extract from an article on the "Finite and Infinite," in a Chicago magazine: "What is present is, therefore, Otherness in general, or a universal Being-for-Other, which because it is a single Being-for-Other is more properly Being-for-One. That is the singleness of the determination sublates the Otherness." Now while we admit that the learned author is entirely correct in regard to the Otherness of the Other Being-for-Other, we think he fails to fully comprehend the singleness of the Universality of the Otherness Being-for-Other only more so in regard to the Generalness. For the Presentness of the One is not the absentness of the Other, how can the Otherness be the Singleness of the Being—that is being for more than the One? We pause for a reply.

Kenyon's New Double Acting Oil Pump for Pumping Oil or Water in Deep Wells.

Kenyon's New Double Acting Oil Pump is acknowledged to be the best pump now in use. One of its leading features is that it not only produces a continuous flow of oil or other fluid, but that it creates and sustains a constant and powerful suction, by means of which the seams or veins of the well are in a great measure cleared of paraffine and other obstructions, and the oil in the veins is drawn towards the well. It has been ascertained by actual test that the use of this pump causes a gradually increasing flow of oil. It is well known by oil operators that this improvement is of great value, and one that has been long sought for. The ablest mechanics of our country have for years been at work trying to find out some new and untried plan to prolong the life time of an oil well, and nothing yet to our knowledge has been brought before the public that in any way equals the power of the Kenyon Pump, experience having taught that it is the long continued suction that has the power to keep up and increase the production of oil wells. Oil operators are referred to Mr. Geo. Bonilton, Superintendent of the Columbia Farm, for information in regard to the practical workings of the Kenyon Pump. We append the following testimonial from the managers of the Columbia Farm:

OFFICE COLUMBIA OIL CO. }
Columbia Farm, Jan. 28. }

Mr. H. K. KENYON:
Dear Sir:—We are using your Double Acting Oil Pumps in three of our oil wells and take pleasure in stating that we are getting more oil and gas from each of them than was previously obtained by the use of working barrels. We believe your oil pump to be the best in use.

Respectfully yours,
G. W. BOULTON, Sup't.

GOOD ADVICE.

Ask no woman her age. Never joke with a widow. Never contradict a man that stutters. Be civil to all rich people and aunts. Wear your oldest hat of course to an evening party. Always sit next to the carrier at dinner. Keep your own secrets. Tell no human being you dye your whiskers. Wind up your conduct like a watch once every day, examine minutely whether you are "fast" or "slow." Make friends with the steward on board a steamer, there's no knowing how soon you may be in his power. Write not one more letter than you can help; the man who keeps up a large correspondence is a martyr, tied, not to the stake, but to the post. But the best advice we can give to the reader is, that he should buy his clothing at the store of A. Alden, Washington street, Petroleum Centre, Pa. The stock of ready made clothing at this house is the largest and cheapest in the city. He has also a large assortment of cloths, cassimeres, etc., and is prepared to make up suits in the neatest manner imaginable. He has also a full line of gentlemen's (furnishing) goods. This is one of the best and cheapest stores in the city.
