At the Republican County Committee meeting held in Franklin on Thursday, the 23rd inst., it was determined to hold the primary meetings for the nomination of county officers, on Saturday, May 6th. The meeting also selected J. K. Brodhead, of Oil City, as delegate to the Senatorial Convention.

The "Mush and Milk" festival, at the Central House, last evening, was a complete success, and reflects great credit on the organizers. Upwards of one hundred couples were present, and everybody appeared to enjoy themselves to the fullest extent. The occasion was enlivened with music by the Columbia Cornet Band. The receipts during the evening were upwards of two hundred and forty dollars, sixty of which was generously donated by the members of the Odd Fellows Lodge of this place, making a neat little sum to go into the treasury of the M. E. Church, for which purpose the festival was held.

The many friends of Mr. W. C. Plummer and wife, formerly of this place, now of Titusville, will be pained to learn that death has in entered their household circle—the second time within the past month—and enfolded within his icy embrace an infant, who expired suddenly Thursday afternoon. In common with their many friends we tender them our heartfelt sympathies in their bereavement.

"Here from this lower stair our darling climbed;
Wreath it with violets blue and gold;
For on the stony steep with footsteps music-timed
He climbs on; the Angels will uphold."

A dispatch was received late yesterday afternoon in New York stating that the many of people had been "stunned," which meant many thorough flings to be raised on the buildings.

CANNON OIL LAMPS.—Speaking of the danger attending the use of carbon oil lamps; the carelessness of people in handling them, and means to prevent explosions, the Pittsburgh Commercial truthfully remarks: Notwithstanding the fatal results which follow the careless handling of carbon oil lamps, accidents from this cause seem to be on the increase. When these lamps were first introduced they were generally made of brass, or metal of some kind, and it was impossible to break them. It was not long, however, until glass was adopted, and nearly all the lamps now in use are of that material. To upset a lighted lamp, or to let it fall upon the floor, is almost certain to cause a serious fire, and in too many cases it results in death—and that, too, in its most agonizing form. There are many ways in which accidents of this kind might be avoided. As children and servants are apt to be careless, it is proper to have tin or brass lamps for them to carry about from place to place. A good plan is to have stationary lamps in kitchen and dining room; and, indeed, these might be placed in all the rooms so as to avoid the carrying about of lamps. It is almost impossible for a family to get along without one or two movable lamps, but these might be of brass, so as to guard against their breaking in case an accident should occur. The chief objection against the use of metal lamps is the liability to overflow them in filling—an objection which, considering the unpleasant nature of the oil, prevents their use almost altogether. This difficulty might be readily overcome by having a measure corresponding to the capacity of the lamp, and filling from that. Certain it is that too much care cannot be exercised in the handling of oil lamps, since the most careful persons are at all times liable to accident, and may be enveloped in flames at a moment when they least expect it.

It is gratifying to know that deaths from explosions—the result of inferior oils—very rarely occur, especially in this section of the country. A few years ago, deaths from this cause were frightfully numerous, but we have reason to believe that the oil now sold is entirely free from explosive qualities. The deaths which have recently occurred in this vicinity have resulted from the breaking, not the explosion of lamps, and every person who uses oil should take every precaution to prevent such accidents.

COWELL'S POINT.—Operations on this territory are progressing very satisfactorily. Messrs. Strong & Son have completed their well and commenced pumping with a good show.

The Smith well will probably be tubed on Thursday next. A promising sand was obtained to this well.

One of Foote, Cummings & Co.'s wells on Union Hill, met with an accident some days since, by losing a portion of the casing. The casing has now been recovered and the well will again be in running order in a day or two.

On the Smith farm Messrs. Deers & Cummings' well is doing a passing business—producing about sixty-five barrels per dry.—Rouseville Bulletin.

This day ends the armistice in France—unless terms are agreed upon to-day, the war will have to go on. It is thought there will be another extension of time by Bismarck.

Rev. Joseph McCartney has resigned the pastorate of the United Presbyterian Church of Franklin.

Coal was retailing yesterday in New York at thirty cents per bucket, or about twenty-eight dollars per ton.

The Postmaster at Aldine, West Virginia has a salary of $1 per annum. He don't go to Washington very often to see that he don't lose his place.

A DANGEROUS COUNTERFEIT.—To prevent any of our citizens from being victimized by $10 bills on the Farmers' and Manufacturers' National Bank, of New York, a large number of which are in circulation we give the following facts: The note is poorly executed, and may be easily detected. It is printed on heavy paper, and on the face the shaded lines are very coarsely cut. The back was a centre piece of De Sota describing the Mississippi and on the left of the arms of New York State. On the right side of the centre piece is an eagle and shield. A single glance at this latter will undeceive any one upon whom it is endeavored to pass the bogus note.

IMPORTANT DECISION.—The Supreme Court of Pennsylvania has decided that the owners of coal and coal privileges in land where the surface is held by other parties, must, in the removal of the coal, protect the surface from injury. This is a question of great importance in Western Pennsylvania, where vast tracts of coal have been disposed of to other parties by the owners of the surface. The decision establishes a principle new to the laws of the State.

The latest revenge of a servant girl came to pass in this city last week. The employer objected to her using his parlor constantly for entertaining her Jaegers. This was a piece of tyranny "help" objected to. The girl left her situation shortly; the employer found silver spoons twisted to the shape of patent clothes pin springs, besides a sugar bowl reduced to an article of junk by being submitted to the melting influences of a red-hot stove. The unfortunate citizen is having his damaged silver ware made into a call bell for the use of the next servant girl, who he is now in search of. She can have unlimited use of the parlor. References given if required.—Venango Spectator.

Explosive Compounds.—The New York World says that explosive compounds may be classified, in the order of their dangerousness as follows:

- Kerosene.
- Nitro-glycerine.
- Dynamite.
- Cincinnati whisky.
- Gunpowder.
- Doughnuts.

The blasting power of the last named mixture is not generally known; but a gentleman somewhere out West has lately been blown up and seriously injured by the bursting of a doughnut.

A couple of weeks ago, Anna Dickinson and Lillian S. Edgerton met for the first time at Ann Arbor, Mich., and a glib account says they rushed into each other's arms; "the superb blonde opened her arms, and the small brunette nestled within them, purring like a little brown kitten. Henceforth they would be as sisters, and the last that was seen of them was a tableau of the brunette sitting on the blonde's knee, while both sipped from the same tumbler a liquid which the ingenious hotel clerk called a hot lemonade "with a fringe."

Speaking of legislation to prevent railroad accidents a contemporary says: "No law can be so effectual for this object as one which, while it leaves individual sufferers to their existing legal remedies, shall provide for the imposition of a pecuniary penalty for accidents, in the name and for the benefit of the whole people, which shall be so heavy, and which shall fall so swiftly and surely upon railroad corporations, that it will stimulate their managers to employ all known means, and invent many new ones, to avoid catastrophes."

Dr. Stuart Gwynn, the aged free lover who was recently sentenced to five years' imprisonment for bigamy, formerly signed conspicuously as a lobbyist in Massachusetts and in Washington. At one time a Springfield journal published articles accusing him of fraudulent operations carried on in association with Mr. Clark, who was the manager of the Printing Bureau of the Treasury during the war, and a suit for libel was the consequence; but the case was never pressed to a trial.

A German friend of ours got "on his ear" last week upon the arrival of his second pair of twins, and said to his family physician: "Ov you please, doctor, it ish padder dot a schtop be boot to dose döffs. One pair of quince, I think ish offer rick, but more as dot ish ploid owl, don't it? Don't ro's no matter mit me, You know how it is myself."

The Columbia Cornet Band kindly volunteered their services in aid of the "mush and milk" festival for the benefit of the M. E. Church, last evening, and played several fine pieces of music. The act was a generous one, and they deserve the thanks of the members of that society.

Some naughty boy in Penn Yan, the other day, ornamented an old Gothic framed horse, hitched to an awning post, with a stolen sign card which read: "Oats wanted leisurely within."

Hon. Wm. H. Seward and party were attacked by a crowd of boys and beggars, at Woohang, China, but were not seriously injured.

The ship Zoc, laden with provisions for the French, given by the citizens of Boston was wrecked near Halifax, and reported a total loss.

J. W. Reddick, who was to have been hanged in Leavenworth, on Wednesday, for the murder of Jeremiah Lykens, has been granted a new trial.

Kenyon's New Double Acting Oil Pump for Pumping Oil or Water in Deep Wells.

Kenyon's New Double Acting Oil Pump is acknowledged to be the best pump now in use. One of its leading features is that it not only produces a continuous flow of oil or other fluid, but that it creates and sustains a constant and powerful suction, by means of which the seams or veins of the well are in a great measure cleared of paraffine and other obstructions, and the oil in the veins is drawn towards the well. It has been ascertained by actual test that the use of this pump causes a gradually increasing flow of oil. It is well known by oil operators that this improvement is of great value, and one that has been long sought for. The latest mechanics of our country have for years been at work trying to find out some new and varied plan to prolong the life time of an oil well; and nothing yet to our knowledge has been brought before the public that in any way equals the power of the Kenyon Pump, experience having taught that it is the long continued suction that has the power to keep up and increase the production of oil wells. Oil operators are referred to Mr. Geo. Boulton, Superintendent of the Columbia Farm, for information in regard to the practical workings of the Kenyon Pump. We append the following testimonial, from the managers of the Columbia Farm:

Office Columbia Oil Co. }
Columbiana Farm, Jan. 25.
Mr. H. K. KENTON:

Dear Sir:—We are using your Double Acting Oil Pumps in three of our oil wells and take pleasure in stating that we are getting more oil and gas from each of them than was previously obtained by the use of working barrels. We believe your oil pump to be the best in use.

Respectfully yours,
G. W. BOULTON, Supt.
