Disgraceful.—One of the most disgraceful rows that ever occurred in Petroleum Centre, took place about 4 o'clock yesterday (Sunday) afternoon, at the mouth of Bengough Run, between a man named James Murray and one Mooney, in which before it ended the families of both parties, made, female, children, and even cats and dogs, became engaged in a general "chewing" match, to the utter demoralization of noses, ears, hair, waterfalls, clothing, &c.

The row appeared to be the result of an old feud, and by the free use of bad whisky, culminated as above stated. The row occurred at just about the time people were going home from all three churches, and all the disgusting incidents attendant thereto, could not help but being seen by them.

No arrests were made yesterday, but this morning warrants were issued on behalf of the Commonwealth against Jas. Murray, Mrs. Murray, Miss Mooney, Dan'l Mooney and others, charged with drunkenness and disorderly conduct. Case is now on trial.

It is to be hoped that the parties will be severely punished, and an example made of them, that others may take warning and show a proper respect for the Sabbath, and not outrage the feelings of those who do observe it.

The Apportionment bill before the Legislature, and which is made the special order for tomorrow afternoon, if adopted will give to the State thirty-three Senators and one hundred Representatives. This Senatorial district, besides Venango county, will include Clarion, Forest and Mercer. The county will be entitled to one Representative in the lower House.

An old lady in Newburg, N. Y., will receive a parade by Company F., the other day, and remarked: "Well, I'm glad the war is over; but I do like to see the military in their nice uniforms marching through the street."

From the East Brady Independent we copy the following in regard to the Foster farm oil territory:

The farm lies back of Foster Station, on the Allegheny Valley Railroad, within a short distance of West Rockland. On the territory there are 35 producing wells, ranging from 100 to 15 barrels each per day. There is at present a large amount of oil in tank. There are 45 rigs finished and going up, all of which will soon be ready to test, or drilling commenced. The number of persons visiting that locality each day is quite large, and the opening of spring will witness considerable activity and excitement. There are 25 to 30 buildings on the ground, three stores, one machine shop, and several blacksmith shops.

SELLING LIQUOR WITHOUT LICENSE

The fourth clause of the local option bill, now before the legislature, provides that any person who shall be convicted of selling or offering for sale in this commonwealth any intoxicating liquor, spirituous, vinous or malt, without a license, shall be sentenced to pay a fine of fifty dollars and confinement in the work house or county jail for six months for the first offense and for the second and each subsequent offense a fine of one hundred dollars and confinement in the work house or county jail one year, provided that it shall not be unlawful for the owners of vineyards to sell on their own premises wine of their own manufacture in quantities not less than one gallon, to be removed and not drunk on the premises.

PHILADELPHIA & ERIE R. R.—The report of the Phila. & Erie R. R. for 1870 shows that the earnings during the year were $3,144,044, and the expenses $2,577,728, leaving as the net proceeds $566,316. The earnings in 1869 were $3,185,997, showing a decrease in 1870 of 42,623, which is attributed to the low rates compelled by the competition of the Erie road. The total tonnage in 1870 was 312,156 more than in 1869, and the total number of passengers shows an excess over the previous year of 15,140. Taking the interest of the funded debt, 1,600,436, and the sum due on construction account, $340,731, the road has fallen short, $268,833 of paying expenses.

Arrangements have been made which are expected to vastly increase the business of the road, and it is not to be doubted that in a few years it will yield a fair profit.

OBITUARY.—Died in New York city, Feb. 26th, 1871, JOHN BEECHILL, aged 48 years. The subject of this sketch was well known throughout the oil region, having been President of the United States Petroleum Company of N. Y., from the time of its organization, during the oil excitement at Plumert and Pithole in 1864-65, down to the time of a like excitement in Pleasantville. Unselfish and unassuming in his manner, and ever ready to assist the unfortunate or needy, he made hosts of friends who will ever keep the memory of his kind acts in view and strive to emulate his example. He not only always stood ready to give young men about starting in life the benefit of his own experience, but if needed tendered liberal pecuniary aid, as many can testify to. Peace to his ashes.

The eight quarterly Session of the Venango County District Temperance Convention will meet at Salem, Venango County, on Tuesday, March 14th. A full attendance is earnestly requested. Conveyance will be provided to take passengers from Oil City to Salem on the arrival of the trains.

Our pleasure-loving citizens will bear in mind that the Wallace Sisters—Agnes, Jennie, Minnie and Maud, assisted by Mr. S. B. Villa and a full company of New York artists—appear at Sobel's Opera House, this evening, in the beautiful burlesque of "La Belle Sauvage; or, Po-ca-hon-tas," preceded by the very laughable farce of "Loan of a Lover." The old established reputation of this company is a sufficient guarantee of a crowded house.

The coal troubles reminds us of an old story: Scene—Boston; time—morning. "Is it cold, Billy?" "Wery cold father." "Is the gutters froze, Billy?" "Wery hard, father." "Dear, dear! Put up the coal two-pence a pail, Billy. God help the poor!"

Mark Twain finds it not so funny to have to be funny periodically, and in the April Galaxy will give up the practice. He says trying to think how he shall be funny at a certain date, is very melancholy; keeps him awake at night; prompts him to commit suicide, run for Congress, or describe in print his reminiscences of distinguished men whose funerals he has had the pleasure of attending. Hereafter he will depend on occasion and inspiration.

The Alta California says that there are more artesian wells in that State in proportion to population than in any other country, and it presumes that all the larger valleys will receive water supplies from deep sources in the course of ten or fifteen years. There is little encouragement to try artesian borings in the mountain and hill districts, and at any rate the boring of a well is always an experiment. A number of borings made in Santa Clara Valley failed to reach water; one deep boring in Sacramento was a failure on account of having encountered, at a considerable depth, a stratum of loose boulders. The entire number of artesian wells in California is probably not far from 480, the majority of them being in Santa Clara Valley, which owes a considerable part of its wealth to them. Their water is used for irrigating many of the gardens, berry patches and orchards, and it moistens much land outside of the irrigated fields. There is an artesian well at Oakland, several at Redwood City, and a dozen or more in San Francisco, though many of those in this city do not throw their water to the surface, and steam pumps are used.

THE LITTLE CHURCH AROUND THE CORNER.

Rev. Leonard W. Bacon, of Baltimore, having been attacked by the Christian Advocate, for a sermon which he preached in defence of "the little church around the Corner," publishes a card in the American, in which he administers a just rebuke to the hypocrisy of his critic. He closes his communication as follows: "The editor of the Advocate claims a better personal acquaintance with the theatre than I have, which I cheerfully concede. But when he adds the enticing suggestion that in order to know as much as he does, I should 'go incog. for a season to each of the theatres in the city,' I object. If the editor had read my sermon before he reviewed it, he would have seen that this 'going incog,' which is the favorite evangelical way of attending theatres, is just that sneaking and demoralizing thing in the church which I have stripped bare and scourged. If I go to a theatre, I shall go in my own clothes, and take a seat where the editor of the Advocate and his disciples who may be there 'incog.' may have no difficulty in seeing me."

Our western cities are greatly agitated with the question of regulating "the social evil" with licenses, medical examinations and police inspection, after the European fashion. St. Louis is experimenting with the system. Cincinnati is likely to adopt it, and even Rochester is discussing it. One of "the victims of the social evil" in the latter city writes her approval of the regulation policy to one of the papers, but suggests that both parties to it should be regulated—that no man be allowed to visit a "social evil" establishment without a police pass, and that this shall be based on a physicians certificate as to his freedom from disease, etc.; such passes and certificates to be recorded in a book for public inspection. Why not, indeed? Are not both parties to the evil equally entitled to regulation and protection?

The Superintendent of the First Division of the A. & G. W. Railroad, recently discharged a conductor who had lost a limb in the service of the company, and one of the best conductors on the road because he permitted an employee to ride without paying. When asked as to his reason for doing this act, he said that one of the leading officials told him that in order to be a "great man," he "must be as mean as the devil," and he wanted to be "great." Poor deluded cuss.

The Elmira Gazette is responsible for the truth of the following:

Young men who go to see girls have adopted a new way of obtaining kisses.—They assert, on authority of scientific writers, that the concussion produced by a kiss will cause the flame of a gas jet to flicker, and easily induce the girl to experiment in the interest of science. The first kiss of two the parties watch the flame to see it flicker if it wants to.

The Stoneboro, Mercer county, coal mines are now running at the capacity of from 250 to 300 tons per day. The Mercer Iron and Coal Company has found it necessary to erect ten or fifteen more houses for the accommodation of miners.

At a Catholic Fair which closed last week at Harrisburgh an elegant gold-headed cane was voted to General Harrison Allied, of Warren, he having received 537 votes out of 577 cast.

Kenyon's New Double Acting Oil Pump for Pumping Oil or Water in Deep Wells.

Kenyon's New Double Acting Oil Pump is acknowledged to be the best pump now in use. One of its leading features is that it not only produces a continuous flow of oil or other fluid, but that it creates and sustains a constant and powerful suction, by means of which the seams or veins of the well are in a great measure cleared of paraffine and other obstructions, and the oil in the veins is drawn towards the well. It has been ascertained by actual test that the use of this pump causes a gradually increasing flow of oil. It is well known by all operators that this improvement is of great value, and one that has been long sought for. The ablest mechanics of our country have for years been at work trying to find out some new and untried plan to prolong the life time of an oil well; and nothing yet to our knowledge has been brought before the public that in any way equals the power of the Kenyon Pump, experience having taught that it is the long continued suction that has the power to keep up and increase the production of oil wells. Oil operators are referred to Mr. Geo. Boulton, Superintendent of the Columbia Farm, for information in regard to the practical workings of the Kenyon Pump. We append the following testimonial from the managers of the Columbia Farm: OFFICE COLUMBIA OIL CO. Columbia Farm, Jan. 28. Mr. H. K. KENYON: Dear Sir:—We are using your Double Acting Oil Pumps in three of our oil wells and take pleasure in stating that we are getting more oil and gas from each of them than was previously obtained by the use of working barrels. We believe your oil pump to be the best in use. Respectfully yours, G. W. BOULTON, Sup't. J. P. BARCROFT, Manager. For further particulars address H. K. KENYON, Petroleum Centre, P. O. box 547.
