From the 28th day of February, 1870, up to the present time, something over a year, Mr. Peter Kinney, watchman at this end of the town, has not missed a night from being at his post of duty. In rain or shine, when the mercury stood at zero and the cold was so intense that his feet had to be wrapped in old carpeting over his boots to keep them from freezing, he has never deserted his post, but maintained strict watch of the property under his charge. There are not many places that can boast of more efficient watchmen than Mr. K. Long may be wove.

As an evidence that business is looking up in Pitohole, we note the fact that the Union Express Co. have opened an office at that point. Our old-time friend, Capt. D. W. Bailey, well known as postmaster and newsdealer, has been appointed agent. Considerable business is being transacted already.

The monthly petroleum report of the Titusville Courier places the average daily production for the month of February at 13,972 barrels.

A private dispatch from Brady's Bend says the Meldon Reserve well No. 2 is flowing at the rate of 500 barrels per day. The well is on Armstrong Run.

The body of an unknown woman was discovered on the Jersey Flats, about one and a half miles south of Titusville, yesterday. From the appearance of the body it had lain there exposed to the elements for nearly two months. No clue has been discovered as to the identity of the deceased.

Mr. F. W. Ames of Titusville, one of the pioneer hardware dealers of the oil region, has sold out to Messrs. Smith, Dams and Kinoshian. Success to the new firm.

A Young Lady Wants to be a Minstrel

The Lockport, N. Y., Journal states that on Monday last a young girl of sweet sixteen, a student in the Union School of that city, mysteriously disappeared from her friends and schoolmates, and up to the present writing, her exact whereabouts is not definitely known. In the morning she bade her mother "good-bye" as usual, who, nothing surmising, went about her duties of the day. The non-appearance of her daughter, at noon aroused no particular alarm with the mother, but when she failed to appear at night her fears were naturally excited that all was not well. On inquiry she could find no one that had seen, or knew anything about her child. The problem remained unsolved until Tuesday morning, when it was ascertained that the young Miss had purchased a railroad ticket the day previous for Buffalo. Further inquiry developed the fact that she had gone to join Amy Lloyd's Female Minstrels, who gave an entertainment in Lockport last week. The mother started post haste after her erring daughter, but whether she had succeeded in discovering her had not at last accounts transpired.

By far the best piece, in our opinion, produced by the Wallace Sisters so far during their engagement here, was the one performed last evening, entitled "Glorinda; or The Girl of the Period." In the character of Glorinda, Mr. Villa had ample opportunity to display that rare histrionic talent with which he is gifted, and the manner in which he was applauded gave evidence that the character was well sustained. Misses Agnes, Jennie, Minnie and Maud, and in fact the whole company, won new laurels, and are rapidly growing in popularity. To night will be produced T. W. Robertson's highly successful London comedy, in three acts, entitled "Caste." Polly Eccles with song Miss Agnes; Esther Eccles with song Miss Jennie. Hon. George D'Alroy Mr. Villa. Webster, Buckley and the entire company in the cast. As this piece is the legitimate drama, no doubt a crowded house will witness its performance by these talented artistes.

BOILER EXPLOSIONS.—The steam boiler explosions in this country for the year ending January 31, 1871, says the Scientific American, were numerous and destructive. The total number of explosions was 118, by which 326 persons were killed and 227 wounded. A number of these boilers were under government, State, or municipal inspection. The largest class of explosions were of saw-mill boilers, twenty-nine in number, killing fifty-three persons and wounding forty-four. Next came railroad locomotives, sixteen in number, killing sixteen and wounding ninety-one; then tugboats ten in number, killing forty-one and wounding thirteen. There were seven passenger-steamboat boiler explosions, killing 135 and wounding twenty-six persons. In these cases, however, many were drowned or burned, as a result of the explosion.

Private advices from Harrisburg announce that the Local Option Liquor Law has passed the House of Representatives by a vote of fifty-one yeas to thirty-five nays. It states that several members were absent when the vote was taken, but does not give the names of the absentees.

GAS WELLS IN CLEVELAND.—From the Cleveland Leader of Saturday, we learn that a number of Clevelanders have turned their attention to sinking gas wells, both for public and private uses. The first actual boring for gas in that vicinity was begun last January, and although the shaft has been sunk only about half the distance required, a good showing of gas has been developed, and the indications are that the gas fields of Ohio will equal, if not surpass those of Erie. On the success of this well yet unfinished, preparations are being made for the sinking of several more, and natural gas will soon, no doubt, be substituted for coal and wood.

The Dubuque Times says: "Last Friday morning, as the passenger train coming West was passing over a bridge across a creek about two miles east of Ackley, the bridge commenced shaking as though about to give way. The engineer crowded on steam, and just as the last coach had cleared the bridge it fell into the stream below, which was much swollen by the storm of the previous night. The passengers knew nothing of the great danger they had so narrowly escaped until informed of it on their arrival at Fort Dodge."

Already several candidates are spoken of for the mayoralty of the consolidated Oil and Venango boroughs. The contest for that office in the new city will no doubt be lively.

The Denver Pantomime troupe appear at Sobel's Opera House, on Friday and Saturday evenings of next week. They come well recommended.

One of the curiosities of Memphis is a little, flaxen-haired, blue eyed girl attending school, who has been married over a year. Her age is about sixteen, and her husbands but little greater. Whenever the weather is fine, her little negro servant goes to meet her, with baby, about three o'clock in the afternoon. It is as curious as interesting to observe the little flaxen-haired mother exchange her books and slate for the bundle of shawl, with a face peeping out of it at the street corner. It is also affecting to observe that little face grow red under the multiplied kisses of the school, as they are applied, with undiminished fervor, day after day, says the Appeal.

In Portsmouth, N. Kenyon's New Double Acting Oil Pump for Pumping Oil or Water in Deep Wells.

Kenyon's New Double Acting Oil Pump is acknowledged to be the best pump now in use. One of its leading features is that it not only produces a continuous flow of oil or other fluid, but that it creates and sustains a constant and powerful suction, by means of which the seams or veins of the well are in a great measure cleared of paraffine and other obstructions, and the oil in the veins is drawn towards the well. It has been ascertained by actual test that the use of this pump causes a gradually increasing flow of oil. It is well known by oil operators that this improvement is of great value, and one that has been long sought for. The ablest mechanics of our country have for years been at work trying to find out some new and untried plan to prolong the life time of an oil well; and nothing yet to our knowledge has been brought before the public that in any way equals the power of the Kenyon Pump, experience having taught that it is the long continued suction that has the power to keep up and increase the production of oil wells. Oil operators are referred to Mr. Geo. Boniton, Superintendent of the Columbia Farm, for information in regard to the practical workings of the Kenyon Pump. We append the following testimonial from the managers of the Columbia Farm:

OFFICE COLUMBIA OIL CO. }
Columbia Farm, Jan. 28.

Mr. H. K. KENYON:

Dear Sir:—We are using your Double Acting Oil Pump in three of our oil wells and take pleasure in stating that we are getting more oil and gas from each of them than was previously obtained by the use of working barrels. We believe your oil pump to be the best in use.

Respectfully yours,
G. W. BOULTON, Sup't.
