During the beavy rain storm, accompani d by thunder and lightning, night before last, a mas named J. D. Mr. G. and another workman were engaged in sand-pumping the well at the time the lightning struck the derrick. His companion was readered insensible from the effects of the electricity and did not recover his senses for some time. The deceased leaves a family to mourn his untimely death

The editor of the Rouseville Bulletin utters a wail of heart-tearing anguish, and dismulty croaks breause several "frail women' alleged to belong to Petroleum Cento have paid that exceedingly moral village a visit with the intention of settling. -The Buttetin man is not to blame for croaking, for if common report is true Rouseville has all the "social evil" it can possibly take ears of. We hope our friend Jackson will not imagine that the whole of Rouseville is notainted, because the Builetin office and sauctum is at present beneath the portals of a descried church. It cannot was.

Mr. C. M. Mr. Morse asserts that he handed his manuscript to a reporter of the paper, with particular instructions to have it carefully resee to, and fulfitted his pie dge, for the articie appeared the next morning with various alterations, but still retaining the obnoxious paragragh. Mr. Mor-e resents the attack upon himself as a very naworthy attempt of the editor to shift the responsibility from his own shoulders by unjustry throwing it upon the reporter. The communication was received at too late as hour for publication, but we have given the material points as a matter of justice to the young gentleman, who has be other medium for his vindication. - Titusville Heral !-

By the above explanation it will be seen that the responsibility of publishing the Sodom and Comorrah slander," rests just where we placed it at first, with the senior editor of the Titusville Courier, our statement being corroborated by the statements of the local editor and oil reporter of that sensational sheet, and lastly by the Oil City correspondent who wrote the account. Our readers can draw their own conclusions after reading the explanation.

A movement should be made to rebuild the side walks in the burnt district. At present ities almost impossible for pedestrians to pass on account of the debris .-Will not some of our citizens make a move in this direction?

One of Titusville's moral sons was in town, last evening, displaying his actifities in truly spread-eagle fashion, under the influence of "forty rod benzine." Becoming "dead-broke" he called on several of our business men requesting the loan of small sums of money, in order to enable him to get home to the centre of the world-Titusville. Whether his cheek carried him home or not we were anable to learn.

A povel application of petroleum oils in the Petroleum Centre fire, a report that smelting foronces has just been patented in characterized Petroleum Coutre as "Sodom | England by J. F. Parker and E. Sanderand Gomertah," and conveyed the intima- land, of Birmingham. The inventors take petroleum or other like volatile oil, and had been visited by a fire flend as a pountry places it in an air-tight cistern surrounded for their transgressing. The article was with a covering or jacket, and into the said with a covering or jacket, and into the said tor repudiated all responsibility for the piping within the cistero, and under the surface of the oil, through which piping steam is passed, they raise the oil to the re. quired temperature. They prefer a temperature of about 212 degrees Fabrenheit. The top of the covering or jacket is provided with a self-acting valve regulated to the desired pressure. Through an inlet vised (as it had been written harriedly) and pipe, they pass a current of air over the corrected. This the reporter premised to surface of the petroleum or volatile ell, which air becomes thereby carburised or charged with the vapor of the oil. By an outlet pipe, they conduct the carburised air into a larger pipe entering the tweer of the blast lurnace or cupola employed in the manufacture or melting of the iron or steel which larger pipe constitutes a common conduit, lute which all the gases and vapors, supplied to the furnace or cupola at the tweer, are passed, and by which they are conducted to the furnace or cupola. The inlet and ontlet pipes are each provided with a tap. In a retort or close chamber, exposed to heat, the inventors place chioride of time or bleaching powder, intimate ly mixed with about one-sight its weight or dry crushed charcoal, coke, or other carbonaccous matter. The object of the chloride of lime is not stated, but it is probably intended to dry the air passed into the hydrocurbon vapor.

Kenyon's New Double Acting Oil Pump for Pumping Oil or Water in Deep Wells.

Kenyon's New Double Acting Oil Pump is acknowledged to be the best pump now in use. One of its leading features is that it not only produces a cont-Buous flow of oil or other fluid, but that it creates and sustains a constant and powerful suction, by means of which the seams or veins of the vell are in a great measure cleared of para fine and other obstructions, and the oil in the veins is drawn towards the well. It has been ascertained by acoust test that the use of this pump causes a gradually increas-ing flow of oil. It by well known by oil operatore that this improvement is of great value, and one that has been long sought The ablest mechanics of our country been at work trying to find have for years been at work trying to find out rome new and untried plan to protong the life time of an oil well; and nothing yet to our knowledge has been brought before the public that in any way equals the power of the Kenyon Pump, experience having taught that it is the long continued suction that has the power to keep up and increase the production of oil wells.
